Un-learning The Baloney And Then Learning The Truth

According to friends who teach at the high school and college/university level, textbooks are noticeably dumbing-down with each successive revision. The latest edition of a nearby high school's American History text devotes one-half of a page to George Washington, yet nearly four times as much space to Marilyn Monroe.

It wouldn't be so bad if they actually told the truth about ol' Marilyn. THEN it really might take several pages to explain, among other things, her training and function as one of the CIA's early Project Monarch "butterfly" models for intelligence gathering and blackmail purposes. Born Norma Jean Mortenson, her questionable August 4, 1962 "suicide" at age 36 surely makes one wonder just how far such technologies have progressed in the forty years since the Marilyn experiment.

But you and I both know that the textbooks have no particular inclination toward telling the truth. And the fables we spend so much time learning in school are getting to be further and further from reality—whether about history or science or whatever.

A number of years ago, I periodically had to interview freshly-minted young electrical engineering students with Bachelor's and Master's degrees for some job positions in Silicon Valley. Once I got over the shock (pun intended) that they didn't really know much of anything about fundamental electrical matters—only cookbook knowledge of formulas and computer programs that did all the thinking for them—I often asked if they knew who Nikola Tesla was. Rarely did any have even the slightest clue; and yet Edison and his lightbulb were almost hard-wired in their brains. The indoctrination of "religious" "truths" seemingly was quite effective and readily substituted for basic thinking skills.

That situation is bad enough, and it especially predisposes the "children" who graduate from the so-called premier universities to walk around thinking they're God's gift to the technical world. But that usually only lasts until they run head-on into practical reality (producing results), at which time many move into the sales department—where baloney can work to your advantage.

A worse situation occurs when some of these prima donnas go on to acquire advanced graduate school degrees. Now they're really dangerous when unleashed upon the world—as university professors teaching unsuspecting students, and/or directing so-called advanced research & development projects under layers of narrow-mindedness reinforced by government grant monies that provide sufficient financial incentives to make them think very hard before wandering from their religion's accepted (controlled) dogma.

These are the same "experts" you see being interviewed by the print and broadcast media prostitutes all the time. You know, the ones who say "don't eat salt" one week, and "eat a lot of salt" the next. What you don't see is the flimflam that goes on behind the scenes to arrive at the supposed "pure research" conclusions. Truth usually only gets in the way of more materialistic agendas.

It reminds me of a great TV commercial running right now for a fast-food chain. The very recognizable "cartoon character" boss is behind his desk, with his personnel manager standing nearby. They're watching a film clip of a possible research department hiree. On the film, this "scientist" in white labcoat is standing in front of charts and graphs making more and more absurd health statements about hamburgers and french fries that are, of course, glowing toward the fast-food chain's main products. The cartoon-character president, himself even having trouble swallowing such outright baloney, finally says to the personnel manager: "Where did you get this guy?" And the personnel manager simply replies: "From a tobacco company." There was no need to say any more.

So while we're worrying about air pollution and water pollution and such, keep in mind that we here at The SPECTRUM are very aware that we fight an uphill battle against a much more insidious problem of mind pollution. And so do you who attempt to discuss many of the subjects presented herein with closed-minded family and friends. Prejudice and fear go a long way toward keeping the sheep from straying outside the "accepted dogma" corral.

When we're putting together each issue of The SPECTRUM, I often find myself thinking back to a wonderful old "Peanuts" cartoon by the beloved Charles M. Schulz. I may not remember the details quite right, but it goes something like this: First you see Charlie Brown and Pigpen outside in the country, leaning on a waist-high wall, musing at the passersby along the roadway. Then Lucy and little-brother Linus walk by, and the two young philosophers overhear Lucy, without any hesitation, answer a good question by Linus (like: "Why are the clouds white?") with a ludicrous answer (like: "Because they are full of cotton.").

In the final frame of the cartoon, Charlie Brown and Pigpen turn and look at each other and one says to the other: "I really feel sorry for poor Linus. He's going to have to go to school TWICE. Once to un-learn the baloney Lucy taught him, and then to learn the truth!"

Thank you wonderful seekers who have chosen to persist with us along this unique and challenging journey of learning The Truth, called The SPECTRUM. And especially, bless you ones who, additionally, are helping to make the journey possible in the first place through your financial generosity. This month's paper is the latest in a long series of such miracles. Thanks to you, we're still here.

7/7/01 DR. AL OVERHOLT

A SPARK IS STRUCK!
THIRD CITY IN UTAH
TO SAY "NO" TO THE U.N.!

From the INTERNET, 7/4/01: [quoting]

This to inform you that today, 4th of July, 2001, the city of Laverkin, Utah, struck a spark for liberty. The city council passed a local ordinance declaring themselves a "United Nations-free Zone" effective immediately.

It is now illegal to fly the U.N. flag on city property. The city has forbidden itself from doing business with the United Nations in any way. It also forbids doing business with contractors who do. As soon as possible, they will post a sign on the city limits signs at all approaches to the city, stating: "Welcome to Laverkin, a United Nations-free Zone by city ordinance, 2001."

The City Fathers of Laverkin were careful to preserve the First Amendment rights of all citizens to fly any flag from their private property. Mayor Dan Howard and Council Member Allison Snow were particularly pleased with the community support.

Where normally five to ten people show up for a City Council meeting, there were 150 citizens present for this 225th birthday of the USA.

The Laverkin version has modifications from the version drawn up by Dr. Herb Titus and myself. I am waiting to see what changes they made.

The original version forbids the paying of any levy, tax, or fee to any United Nations agency, forbids any judgement by any International Court to be imposed upon local citizens, forbids the quartering of United Nations troops in the city limits, forbids the forcing of local citizens for involuntary servitude as soldiers under a United Nations, etc. (You can see the original at the <http://www.UNWatch.com/> Internet website.)

Mayor Jay Lee, of nearby Virgin, Utah, expressed his support, even though he was disappointed that Virgin did not beat Laverkin to the punch. In a conversation with Mayor Lee tonight, he told me that nearby Toquerville has asked for someone to present the ordinance to their next Town Council meeting.

Can city councils do something like that? Well, there's a pretty good precedent, which apparently withstood several court challenges in the sixties, when Berkeley, California, decided to declare themselves a "nuclear-free zone". It really didn't affect the city of Berkeley so much as it affected the national debate.

Supporters of this ordinance agree that the psychological effect is probably the greatest. It expresses the way people feel about the United Nations, and about their own nation's sovereignty.

As one in Virgin told me last week: "America has a lot of problems, and nobody's saying it's perfect, but I would rather they be fixed by Americans than by some foreign bureaucrat who has no clue about what makes America work."

The legal doctrine of "interposition of the lower magistrate" is well recognized. When a higher governmental authority either breaks the law, or refuses to enforce it, it is the right and the duty of lower magistrates to intervene and function as a check and a balance on the system. That is how the Magna Carta was passed in 1215. It's how the Declaration Of Independence was passed in 1776. It's how Sheriff Richard Mack sued the U.S. Government over the Brady Bill, and at great personal cost, wound up with a Supreme Court decision declaring Brady as unconstitutional.

It's how Army Spc. Michael New said: "No, I'll not violate my exclusive oath of allegiance to my country by wearing a United Nations patch and headgear, and serving under foreign (illegal) officers." (Real Americans don't wear U.N. blue! See the <http://www.MikeNew.com/> Internet website.)

And it's how the town of Laverkin, Utah, tells "elected servants of The People" that they have gone too far.

Inquiries from towns all over the United States are beginning to roll in. The question now becomes: "What will this nation do with such a spark?" Will it die for lack of tinder? Will others nurture it, and add fuel to the fire, and strike other sparks in their communities?

What can YOU do? If you know your City Councilors, or County Commissioners, and if they are already informed on the threat the United Nations poses to our national sovereignty, to our very concept of private property, to freedom, then get a copy of this ordinance and urge them to pass it.

If they aren't informed, then don't go in and badger them with this out of the blue. Start today educating them to this issue and their role in protecting the private property of our local citizens.

Pass it on.

Daniel New, Texas

Looks like a very worthwhile grassroots educational and political effort that could rapidly travel all across the United States—and maybe even enter towns in other countries. If it makes it to U.N. Headquarters in New York City, they may have a REAL problem!

SURPRISE ASSAULT ON GUN OWNERSHIP

From the Eagle Forum
<eagle@eagleforum.org> Internet website &

<DavidPangborn@webtv.net>, 6/11/01: [quoting]

By Phyllis Schlafly

The gun-control lobby is on the warpath in a most surprising venue. A group called Doctors Against Handgun Injury is calling on doctors, including psychiatrists, to ask their patients nosy questions about their gun ownership.

As far back as we can remember, doctors have vigorously opposed any interference with the confidentiality of the doctor-patient relationship. We could always count on medical associations to defend patient privacy against any invasion by government, the media, or others into personal medical records.

Psychiatrists have been outspoken in the past about the importance of patient-doctor confidentiality because trust in the doctor is particularly important. Their patients are usually in a very vulnerable and exploitable state of mind.

Somehow, this is changing under a new onslaught by the gun-control lobby. It has lined-up a coalition consisting of the American Psychiatric Association, the American Medical Association, the American Academy of Pediatrics, and ten other medical organizations claiming a membership of 600,000 doctors.

The Doctors Against Handgun Injury plan to engage in what it calls "upstream intervention". That means using regular medical checkups to ask patients about firearm ownership and storage in their homes and warn them of the risks of this behavior.

But that's not all. Doctors Against Handgun Injury is also calling for changes in public policy, such as mandatory background checks on buyers at gun shows, limits on the number of guns an individual can buy, and a waiting period for all gun purchasers.

Will patients no longer see their physician as a trusted professional in whom they can confide their most private facts about mind and health? Will the physician instead be perceived as an arm of the government prying into their private lives, or as a spokesman of a special-interest advocacy group pursuing a political agenda?

Doctors should be especially leery of this project because of the 20th Century experience of medicine under Soviet Communism and Nazism. The Nuremberg War Crimes Trial showed how the German medical profession became a collaborator with the Nazi regime by collecting data on their patients that were then used against them.

Unfortunately, some gun-control lawmakers are trying to lock doctors into the ban-the-gun agenda. A bill now under consideration in the California State Legislature would require pediatricians to subject children and their parents to all sorts of nosy questions about "family, environmental, and social risk factors" including whether there are guns in the home and whether their parents spank them.

You would think that the American Medical Association (AMA) would be shouting from the housetops against this government and outside interference with private medical practice, but it looks like the AMA has joined the ban-the-guns movement. The AMA uses its publications, including its Journal (JAMA), to publish biased research with preordained conclusions, such as “easy gun availability results in crime”.

The AMA has plenty of money to pursue its political agenda, which is increasingly left-liberal, and it doesn't have to depend on the support of member doctors. Two-thirds of the AMA's annual $200 million operating budget comes from sources other than membership, which has now dwindled to only a third of U.S. physicians.

A principal source of AMA wealth is a contract (kept secret from 1983 to 1998) with the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) by which HCFA requires all doctors to buy the AMA codes and use them to bill the government and third-party insurance carriers for all medical services. Failure to use the AMA codes accurately may result in government accusations of fraud and abuse, and prosecution and imprisonment.

The taxpayer-financed Centers for Disease Control (CDC) is also climbing aboard the ban-the-guns movement. It is trying to broaden the scope of public health to include the banning and confiscation of all handguns, the restrictive licensing of owners of other firearms, and the eventual elimination of all guns from private ownership except for a small elite of wealthy collectors, hunters, and target shooters.

CDC spokesmen propagate the myth that most of the perpetrators of violence are ordinary citizens rather than criminals by trade. The fact is that the typical murderer has a prior criminal history of at least six years with four felony arrests before he commits murder, and 75 percent of all violent crimes are committed by six percent of hardened criminals and repeat offenders.

We don't have to look very far to observe the tragic loss of liberty in countries that have gone down the road of banning private gun ownership or using doctors to collect confidential data on their patients to serve a political agenda. Fortunately, Attorney General John Ashcroft has just reaffirmed the constitutional principle that the Second Amendment “protects the private ownership of firearms for lawful purposes”. — Phyllis Schlafly column 6-06-01 [End quoting]

This ought to wake us up to the games being played to erode our freedoms if nothing else has. No matter what is said or done now, you will never be able to trust your doctor again to keep any information he receives confidential. Meanwhile, note the little known fact mentioned above that tells us how rapidly the AMA is losing membership. Another sign of the times?

AMENDING U.S. CONSTITUTION TO PROHIBIT FLAG BURNING

Congressional Panel Favors
U.S. Flag Protection

From the INTERNET, <<http://sightings.com>>, 6/21/01: [quoting]

A key congressional panel, undeterred by a series of Senate rejections in recent years, approved on Wednesday a proposed constitutional amendment that would let Congress forbid burning or otherwise desecrating the American flag.

On a 15-11 vote, the Republican-led House of Representatives Judiciary Committee sent the measure to the full House for a vote as early as next week before the chamber takes its Fourth of July recess.

“The American flag serves a unique role as the symbol of the ideals upon which America was founded,” Committee Chairman James Sensenbrenner, a Wisconsin Republican, said in pushing for flag protection.

For a constitutional amendment to become law, it must win the support of two-thirds of the House and Senate and then be ratified by 38 of the 50 states.

The amendment fell four votes short in the Senate last year after sailing through the House 305-124 in 1999.

It was the fourth time since 1989 that the Senate had rejected the amendment, which foes say would infringe on First Amendment guarantees of free speech.

The amendment was first introduced in response to a 1989 Supreme Court decision striking down a Texas law against flag desecration and a 1990 decision that ruled unconstitutional a flag protection law passed by Congress.

Gregory Nojeim, an associate director of the American Civil Liberties Union, denounced the Judiciary Committee's approval of the proposed constitutional amendment, which would give Congress the power to safeguard the flag.

“The Bill Of Rights was designed to protect the voices of the few from the intolerance of the majority,” Nojeim said. “Very little can justify its modification, least of all some imaginary epidemic of flag burning.”

The amendment was offered by Rep. Randy “Duke” Cunningham, a California Republican, and has 245 co-sponsors. [End quoting]

The crooks in high places have been trying for a long time, through a number of devious excuses, to get at our Constitution so that they can severely modify and otherwise remove some of our basic rights. It would be wise to pay very close attention to this seemingly innocent maneuver.

MOTHER WHO KILLED HER FIVE CHILDREN WAS ON COCKTAIL OF PSYCH DRUGS

From the INTERNET, By Jeff Franks, <<http://sightings.com>>, 6/21/01: [quoting]

Hi Jeff,

I have been so busy doing interviews on this Houston case that someone had to send me your post on it for me to know about it. I thought you should know that Haldol is not an antidepressant as the article on your site states. It is known as an anti-psychotic drug—something you need AFTER the antidepressants produce the psychotic break!

The drugs Andrea Yates was switched to just on Monday was Effexor and Remeron—both antidepressants. They may have been giving her the Haldol with the antidepressants, but it obviously could not overcome the strong effect of two drugs together producing psychosis.

I always wonder how many children must seal my testimony about the dangers of these drugs with their own blood before the world opens its eyes. I have found that 90% of those moms who do this are on these meds.

— Dr. Ann Blake Tracy

[Editor's note: Readers will remember Dr. Tracy as the author of the dynamite book PROZAC: Panacea Or Pandora? and our front-page feature interview in the July 2000 issue of this newspaper. She has indeed been very busy doing interviews about this tragic—yet growing common—Houston matter. She was the featured guest on Art Bell's late-night talk-radio program on Sunday night 6/24/01 and what she had to say about what happened in Houston, and how frequently it is occurring all over the country, was enough to truly shock an audience used to the unusual and unbelievable. What she shared most certainly exposed the unconscionable role that the medical profession and the pharmaceutical companies play in these cases.]

HOUSTON (Reuters)—The husband of a woman who confessed to drowning their five children said on Thursday he still loved her and blamed the tragedy on her severe case of postpartum depression.

Russell Yates, at times fighting back tears but for the most part remarkably composed, told reporters that what wife Andrea Yates did was “incomprehensible” because she was a “kind and gentle person” who loved their kids.

“I'm supportive of her because, on the one hand, I know she killed our children...but on the other I know that the woman here is not the woman who killed my children,” he said, pointing to a photograph of the family taken a few months ago.

“She had her psychotic side effects with her depression that led her to do this. She loved our kids and anybody that knew her knew that.”

“Andrea, if you see this, I love you,” said Yates, who spoke to reporters in the front yard of the one-story suburban home where the children were killed on Wednesday.

Andrea Yates, 36, was jailed without bond on a charge of capital murder, which under Texas law could bring her the death penalty. She was due to be arraigned on the charges on Friday.

She called police to their home near NASA's Johnson Space Center on Wednesday morning and told them she killed the children—four boys and a girl who ranged in age from 6 months to 7 years.

The four youngest—Luke, 2, Paul, 3, and John, 5, and 6-month-old daughter, Mary—were found in a bed, their still-wet bodies covered with a sheet. Seven-year-old Noah was in the bath tub where police believe Yates drowned the children.

NEWS RELEASE!

Alternative Health Company Gains Government Licensing For Health Devices

British Columbia—SOTA Instruments, Inc. is pleased to announce that Health Canada has issued a Medical Device License for their Silver Pulser and Bio-Tuner. Licensing follows extensive use of both units by natural health practitioners and the public for research purposes. Licensing means medical doctors are now free to use SOTA's Silver Pulser and Bio-Tuner in their practice. As Class-II Medical Devices, both units are available without the need for a prescription.

"We are pleased to gain licensing approval for both our Silver Pulser and Bio-Tuner so quickly after the licensing of our Magnetic Pulser" states company president Russ Torlage.

SOTA Instruments, Inc. is a privately-owned Canadian-based company that specializes in the manufacture and design of leading-edge electronic products for the natural health market. The Silver Pulser and Bio-Tuner are licensed as devices for the following intended uses:

1. To provide symptomatic relief of acute and chronic intractable pain.
2. To increase micro-circulation.
3. May increase ATP (Adenosine Triphosphate) production. (ATP is produced in cells to provide the body with energy.)
4. May disable and/or neutralize electrically sensitive pathogens.

The use of micro-currents of electricity and TENS devices has gained increasingly favorable attention in recent years as non-invasive, non-toxic, healing modalities. SOTA's units are designed for ease of use as they are portable and priced affordably for the consumer. The Silver Pulser, Bio-Tuner and Magnetic Pulser come with complete operating instructions and are safe and simple to operate.

engineer, said his wife called him at work and told him he needed to come home.

"I said 'is anyone hurt?' and she said 'yes.' I said 'who?' and she said 'the children—all of them.' My heart just sank" he said. Yates raced home to find the police already there.

He said his wife of eight years suffered separate episodes of severe postpartum depression after having their fourth and fifth kids, and had tried to commit suicide two years ago. The depression caused her to become so withdrawn and incapacitated that his mother, Dora Yates, would come over to help care for the children.

Doctors used a cocktail of drugs to help Yates during both bouts of depression. She was currently taking medication that included Haldol, Yates said.

According to Baylor College of Medicine psychiatry professor Lauren Marangell, Haldol is usually prescribed for psychosis, a more severe illness than garden variety postpartum depression and one more likely to lead to violence.

When she was well, Andrea Yates homeschooled the children and lavished attention on them, Yates said.

For Valentine's Day, she made them heart-shaped booklets with coupons that were good for a hug or a game, he said.

The kids, he said, were normal, happy, and healthy. They loved games and sports, particularly

T-ball and basketball, which they played on a hoop in the driveway.

He said he would not support the death penalty for his wife because "she obviously wasn't herself" when she killed the children.

"She was a kind and gentle person," he said.

"I'm primarily concerned right now with just tending to my kids, making sure they get a good burial and are treated good," Yates said.

He said he wanted everyone to know that his family had been a strong one that was ripped apart only by a sinister illness that, in the end, knew no bounds.

"Just ask anybody that's seen us, seen us in the store or seen us in the restaurant...good family," he said, choking back tears.

Comment from Gayle Eversole <[leaf lady@leaf lady.org](mailto:leaf lady@leaf lady.org)> 6-22-1

This is an absolute outrage!

Haldol, a fluoride-based anti-psychotic drug is not an anti-depressant.

The fluoride in this may have further suppressed her thyroid and the hormonal imbalance caused by pregnancy.

Many women suffer from thyroid impairment as a side-effect of pregnancy. Low B complex adds to the incidence of postpartum depression.

It is a tragedy that the doctors treating Yates did not offer her nutritional support. It may have saved her and her children.

Her husband, in my opinion, has a good cause for a legal case. — Gayle Eversole [End quoting]

This appears to be yet another casualty of the pharmaceutical companies' quest for profits. But keep in mind that that they need the ready cooperation of the medical establishment to "push" their high-profit drugs on the trusting consumer. On Art Bell's show recently, Dr. Tracy said that Prozac alone amounted to a whopping 26% of that company's profits.

A doctor once put me on Valium for back pain, about 30 years ago, and I had only taken two when, during that time period, I made a phone call to a close friend, and later could not remember anything about the conversation. I'd never experienced anything like that before or since. The drugs they are using now are supposed to be far worse than Valium.

MOVES OFFSHORE

HALFWAY AROUND THE WORLD

From The McAlvaney Intelligence Advisor, 6/21/01: [quoting]

An American calls a toll-free number to obtain customer service or to correct a problem. He is connected to Susan Sanders in the firm's telecommunications center. Susan handles the query, discussing the problem in her Midwestern accent, and leaves the customer satisfied.

Is everything well? No way!

In reality, "Susan Sanders" is 22-year-old C.R. Suman. She and thousands of other low-paid phone jockeys work out of Bangalore, India, answering calls for General Electric, British Airways, and other multinational corporations.

So how does Suman convince callers that she is as American as apple pie? Indians are coached in speaking with a neutral American accent so their claims of being based in "Chicago" go unquestioned. Suman and her co-workers have false biographies in case customers are in a chatty mood. In her case, "Susan" has a brother named Mark, and her "parents" are Bob and Ann. She even has a business degree from the University of Illinois.

"We watch a lot of Friends and Ally McBeal to learn the right phrases," Suman admits. "When people talk about their Bimmer, you have to know they mean a BMW. When they say 'No way, José' you have to know there is no José" said Nishara Anthony, another "American" operator in Bangalore.

Anthony goes by the pseudonym "Naomi Morrison". For answering phones and mastering American speech and pop culture, the Indians are paid $30 to $40 a week.

Moving these jobs overseas is bad enough, but the depth of the effort to deceive customers into believing that they are speaking with Americans is enough to make one's blood boil. The full story of India's "Chicago" call centers appeared in the March 21 New York Times.

It isn't just customer service operators who are sought by corporations. Indian computer programmers and software writers are enjoying boom times, as they toil for a fraction of U.S. wages. If work can be exported to the Third World for slave wages today, it's gone. This is with the full blessing of the U.S. government.

The big business/big government assault on American workers won't end anytime soon. If unemployment continues to rise and the flood of illegal aliens continues to cross our virtually unguarded borders, times will only get tougher for tens of millions of American citizens who earn less than $50,000 per year. [End quoting]

Remember that one of the main agenda items of those crooks in high places pushing the New World Order is the collapsing of the American economy enough so that the U.S. can be more readily merged with Canada and Mexico. The exporting of American jobs is just one step in this agenda goal. As we see ever increasing unemployment figures, and job cutbacks announced every week, the signs of America's productivity reaching an all-time low are surely there for the aware to see.

MISUSE OF SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBERS A NATIONAL CRISIS

From RUMOR MILL NEWS (RUMILLS), By Phyllis Schlafly, (<http://www.rumormillnews.com>), 6/20/00: [quoting]

Time to start over with Social Security numbers <<http://www.townhall.com/columnists/phyllisschlafly/ps20010612.shtml>>

June 12, 2001

It isn't just Social Security benefits that Americans are worried about—it's the Social Security number itself. The widespread misuse of Social Security numbers is a growing political issue.

The inspector general of the Social Security Administration, John G. Huse Jr., testified on May 22 before a House Ways and Means subcommittee. His frank statement is a wake-up call to Americans who value their freedom from other people monitoring our daily activities and from criminals who steal our money, our credit, and even our identity.

Huse called misuse of Social Security numbers "a national crisis" and he pleaded that the time has come to put the Social Security number "back into its box". Since the government created the Social Security number and permitted it to assume such great power, he said, "it's the government's job to control it."

When Social Security was created in 1935, the Social Security number's sole purpose was to track the earnings of employed Americans so their wages would be properly credited, and we were promised it would never be used for anything else. Chalk that up to another promise broken by government; the Social Security number has become a de facto personal identifier.

The temptation to use Social Security numbers for other purposes was apparently irresistible. The Department of Defense uses them for armed forces personnel and draft registration, and the Internal Revenue Service requires them for income tax returns and for our bank deposits to make sure all our income is declared.

Social Security numbers are used by federal, state, and local governments for everything from food stamps to drivers' licenses to marriage licenses to water and sewer bills. Huse warns that this is "a convenience that we can no longer afford".

He thanked Congress for enactment of the Identity Theft and Assumption Deterrence Act of 1998, which enables the feds to prosecute those who misappropriate someone else's identity. It's important to punish identity theft, but Huse says it is more critical to prevent it.

The problem is the everyday and pervasive use of Social Security numbers by those other than the Social Security Administration. This includes not only government agencies, but schools, colleges, hospitals, banks, insurance companies, credit card companies, and merchants, even for such transactions as joining a health club or buying a refrigerator.

Subcommittee Chairman Clay Shaw remarked: "More and more people are being told their Social Security number is required for reasons that just don't make sense, like renting a video, making funeral arrangements, or even picking up Girl Scout cookies."

Huse called for legislation that limits the use of Social Security numbers to "purposes that benefit the holder of the Social Security number". It should not be used for the benefit of "the company that sells an appliance or the state that issues a driver's license".

Huse said that last year his office received 46,840 allegations of Social Security number misuse and another 43,456 of allegations of program fraud that includes Social Security number misuse. Identity thieves used to steal credit card numbers one by one from mailboxes and restaurant receipts. Now they steal wholesale on the Internet. A thief can buy someone's Social Security number on the Internet for $39.95, use it within minutes to get a credit card, then buy big-ticket items such as cars and jewelry.

Commercial online data brokers collect and sell personal information for legitimate purposes, and their customers include banks, insurance companies, journalists, and law enforcement agencies. The data come from public records or information provided by consumers on credit applications.

But when sold online, the brokers have no way of checking the identity or legitimacy of buyers. The majority of applications for credit are made over the phone with the Social Security number as the only identifier.

The Ways and Means Committee subcommittee heard sad cases of individuals who were victims of identity theft. One criminal got $36,000 worth of goods in a three-month period, impacting the victim's ability to refinance her home, get a line of credit at her bank, and get cellular phone service, not to speak of the countless hours spent in phone calls talking with creditors and police.

A restaurant busboy named Abraham Abdallah was able to penetrate the banking and brokerage accounts of several very wealthy and prominent Americans through the use of online providers and Internet-based databases. When arrested, he was on the verge of stealing millions of dollars.

The states are beginning to react to public resentment against governmental misuse of Social Security numbers. The Nevada state legislature recently passed a resolution calling on Congress to repeal the law that requires each state to record the Social Security number on all applications for a driver's license; and the Michigan secretary of state has filed suit to enjoin the enforcement of this law.

The best solution to the privacy crisis caused by the universal use of Social Security numbers by government and business comes from Rep. Ron Paul, R-Texas. He proposes assigning every American a new Social Security number and banning the use of Social Security numbers as identifying tools. [End quoting]

You can be sure that, if such hearings are occurring wherein are being relayed such serious accounts of privacy invasion, then the actual situation is far worse and widespread. But don't overlook the underlying hidden agenda of tracking the activities of all Americans. We'll let our Secretary of State "slip" you that information below:

SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER USED TO CAPTURE AMERICANS

POWELL BITES TONGUE ON FOX NEWS—TOO LATE

Colin Powell leaks real reason for SSN: MONITOR/TRACK/CAPTURE AMERICANS

[Colin Powell]—"Finding the Russian scientists may be a problem being that Russia does not have a Social Security System, as here in America, that allows us to monitor, track down, and capture an American citizen."

Please Read! Please Forward! Anyone wanting more information please reply to: <my-lakeview@home.com>

To: The American Public

Dear Folks: I was watching Fox News Sunday this morning, 06/17/01, being hosted in the first segment by Tony Snow. The lead-off guest was Colin Powell, the U.S. Secretary of State.

Mr. Powell gave an excellent recitation relevant to foreign affair matters. I am strongly motivated, and send this e-mail communication to you based on a statement made by Mr. Powell during his recitation. Mr. Powell, during the entire interview, was very confident, and spoke without hesitation throughout the entire interview, excluding for a one second period, after one specific statement made by him as he was talking about the Russian peoples.

When he realized the consequences of making this disclosure indirectly to the American public, he froze for a second, his eyes rolled back as he realized what he had said, and then he continued without further pause for the rest of the interview.

In my lifetime, I have never sent out to others a post relevant to a quote I heard while watching a news program. In this case, the significance of what was said in the flow of truth coming from Mr. Powell, is a statement that establishes the primary reality of intent per the politics and operative structure coming from government in this country. I had to immediately share what I had heard with others.

Mr. Powell was discussing Mr. Bush's trip to Europe, and was at a point in his recitation covering certain concerns regarding Russia, and Russia being requested to cooperate with the United States to track down lost nuclear materials and scientists who were unaccounted for after the break up of Russia, that now may be in the hands of, or in the case of the missing scientists, working for adversaries of the U.S.A.

The quote from Mr. Powell, regarding the matter of the Russian scientists that every American NEEDS to hear immediately, is as follows:

[Colin Powell]—"Finding the Russian scientists may be a problem being that Russia does not have a Social Security System, as here in America, that allows us to monitor, track down, and CAPTURE an American citizen."

EMPHASIS added to the word CAPTURE! Please pass this on to every one who you know. The significance of Mr. Powell's statement is profound, and essential to be heard by all in this country. I thank Mr. Powell for inadvertently being honest towards the underlying intent of the U.S. Government, reaffirmed by his admission. Yours Truly, Walter J. Burien, Jr. [of CAFR fame] [End quoting]

Remember that this is the time when The Truth is going to be revealed—and sometimes from the most unlikely sources!

[Editor's note: At first glance, the following item could simply have not been included with The News Desk, as being wrong information. But the more I (E.Y.) thought about this, the more important it became. Why? Because I, personally, "just happened" to see the same event and dialogue that Mr. Burien describes above. Believe me, you don't easily forget a slip like Colin Powell made! So, what do you suppose is the REAL message and purpose of the following? We can begin with calling it very clever disinformation, and go on from there to "damage control" and a "revisionist history" exercise, etc.]

POWELL QUOTE BY WALT BURIEN ON SOCIAL SECURITY SAID INACCURATE

From the INTERNET, <illusions@beyond-the-illusion.com>, 6/27/01: [quoting]

From: Tom

Dear Jeff Rense,

While I really appreciate your website and all the alternate news you get out, it is a disservice to your readers to post grossly inaccurate quotes, such as the alleged Colin Powell quote from Fox News Sunday (6/17/01) you have posted on your webpage as reported by Walter J. Burien.

The actual quote is this:

Tony Snow: "So we really don't know where these materials or even scientists are right now?"

Powell: "Well, no, we don't exactly have a social security system that captures every Russian scientist, but this is something that is of concern to us and should be of concern to Russia as well."

See the transcript for yourself <<http://www.foxnews.com/story/0,2933,27444,00.html>>

Powell's use of the words "we" and "capture" by themselves is very revealing, as it relates to the "capture" of a (14th Amendment) person's "STRAWMAN" by a GLOBAL "we" (corporate entity of one's flesh and blood self, represented by one's appellation IN ALL CAPITAL LETTERS as a "conspicuous term or clause" under the Uniform Commercial Code—see Black's Law Dictionary, 6th edition, for definitions of “strawman” and “conspicuous term or clause”).

I cannot understand why Mr. Burien would feel compelled to misrepresent what Colin Powell had to say.

Please be so kind as to correct this item.

Thank you very much. Best regards, Tom

[End quoting]

[Editor's note: Perhaps a “sanitized” version of Powell's remarks were what was later available for this person to consult on the Internet. After all, such “revisionist” history is standard practice. However, that's NOT what was originally said. Mr. Burien was accurate in his report, though if I (E.Y.) hadn't seen it myself, I might feel as the above writer does. It is so easy to fool most of the people, most of the time.]

POSTAL SERVICE HAS ITS EYE ON YOU

From the INTERNET, by John Berlau <jberlau@InsightMag.com> 6/11/01: [quoting]

Since 1997, the U.S. Postal Service has been conducting a customer-surveillance program called “Under the Eagle's Eye” and reporting innocent activity to federal law enforcement.

Remember “Know Your Customer”? Two years ago the federal government tried to require banks to profile every customer's “normal and expected transactions” and report the slightest deviation to the feds as a “suspicious activity”. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation withdrew the requirement in March 1999 after receiving 300,000 opposing comments and massive bipartisan opposition.

But while your bank teller may not have been snooping and snitching on your every financial move, your local post office has been (and is) watching you closely, Insight has learned. That is, if you have bought money orders, made wire transfers, or sought cash cards from a postal clerk.

Since 1997, in fact, the window clerk may very well have reported you to the government as a “suspicious” customer. It doesn't matter that you are not a drug dealer, terrorist, or other type of criminal, or that the transaction itself was perfectly legal. The guiding principle of the new postal program to combat money laundering, according to a U.S. Postal Service training video obtained by Insight, is: “It's better to report 10 legal transactions than to let one illegal transaction get by.”

Many privacy advocates see similarities in the post office's customer-surveillance program, called “Under the Eagle's Eye” to the “Know Your Customer” rules. In fact, in a postal-service training manual also obtained by Insight, postal clerks are admonished to “know your customers”. Both the manual and the training video give a broad definition of “suspicious” in instructing clerks when to fill out a “suspicious activity report” after a customer has made a purchase.

“The rule of thumb is, if it seems suspicious to you, then it is suspicious”, says the manual.

“As we said before, and will say again, it is better to report many legitimate transactions that seem suspicious than let one illegal one slip through.”

It is statements such as these that raise the ire of leading privacy advocates on both the left and right, most of whom didn't know about the program until asked by Insight to comment. For example, Rep. Ron Paul, R-Texas, who led the charge on Capitol Hill against the “Know Your Customer” rules, expressed both surprise and concern about “Under the Eagle's Eye”. He says the video's instructions to report transactions as suspicious are “the reverse of what the theory used to be: We were supposed to let guilty people go by if we were doing harm to innocent people” when the methods of trying to apprehend criminals violated the rights of ordinary citizens.

Paul says he may introduce legislation to stop “Under the Eagle's Eye”. The same sort of response came from another prominent critic of “Know Your Customer”, this time on the left, who was appalled by details of the training video. “The postal service is training its employees to invade their customers' privacy” Greg Nojeim, associate director of the American Civil Liberties Union Washington National Office, tells Insight. “This training will result in the reporting to the government of tens of thousands of innocent transactions that are none of the government's business. I had thought the postal service's eagle stood for freedom. Now I know it stands for ‘We're watching you!’”

But postal officials who run “Under the Eagle's Eye” say that flagging customers who do not follow “normal” patterns is essential if law enforcement is to catch criminals laundering money from illegal transactions. “The postal service has a responsibility to know what their legitimate customers are doing with their instruments” Al Gillum, a former postal inspector, who now is acting program manager, tells Insight. “If people are buying instruments outside of a norm that the entity itself has to establish, then that's where you start with suspicious analysis, suspicious reporting. It literally is based on knowing what our legitimate customers do, what activities they're involved in.”

Gillum's boss, Henry Gibson, the postal service's Bank Secrecy Act compliance officer, says the anti-money-laundering program started in 1997 already has helped catch some criminals. “We've received acknowledgment from our chief postal inspector that information from our system was very helpful in the actual catching of some potential bad guys” Gibson says. Gillum and Gibson are proud that the postal service received a letter of commendation from then-attorney general Janet Reno in 2000 for this program.

The database system the postal service developed with Information Builders, an information-technology consulting firm, received an award from Government Computer News in 2000 and was a finalist in the government/nonprofit category for the 2001 Computerworld Honors Program. An Information Builders press release touts the system as “a standard for Bank Secrecy Act compliance and anti-money-laundering controls”. Gibson and Gillum say the program resulted from new regulations created by the Clinton-era Treasury Department in 1997 to apply provisions of the Bank Secrecy Act to “money service businesses” that sell financial instruments such as stored-value cash cards, money orders and wire transfers, as well as banks.

Surprisingly, the postal service sells about one-third of all U.S. money orders, more than $27 billion last year. It also sells stored-value cards and some types of wire transfers. Although the regulations were not to take effect until 2002, Gillum says the postal service wanted to be “proactive” and “visionary”. Postal spokesmen emphasize strongly that programs take time to put in place and they are doing only what the law demands.

It also was the Bank Secrecy Act that opened the door for the “Know Your Customer” rules on banks, to which congressional leaders objected as a threat to privacy. Lawrence Lindsey, now head of the Bush administration's National Economic Council, frequently has pointed out that more than 100,000 reports are collected on innocent bank customers for every one conviction of money laundering. “That ratio of 99,999-to-1 is something we normally would not tolerate as a reasonable balance between privacy and the collection of guilty verdicts” Lindsey wrote in a chapter of the Competitive Enterprise Institute's book The Future Of Financial Privacy, published last year.

Critics of this snooping, both inside and outside the postal service, are howling mad that the agency's reputation for protecting the privacy of its customers is being compromised. “It sounds to me that they're going past the Treasury guidelines” says Rick Merritt, executive director of PostalWatch, a private watchdog group. The regulations, for example, do not give specific examples of suspicious activity, leaving that largely for the regulated companies to determine.

But the postal-service training video points to lots of “red flags” such as a customer counting money in the line. It warns that even customers whom clerks know often should be considered suspect if they frequently purchase money orders. The video, which Gibson says cost $90,000 to make, uses entertaining special effects to illustrate its points.

Employing the angel-and-devil technique often used in cartoons, the video presents two tiny characters in the imagination of a harried clerk. Regina Goodclerk, the angel, constantly urges the clerk to file suspicious-activity reports on customers. “Better safe than sorry,” she says. Sam Slick, the devil, wants to give customers the benefit of the doubt. Some of the examples given are red flags such as a sleazy-looking customer offering the postal clerk a bribe.

But the video also encourages reports to be filed on what appear to be perfectly legal money-order purchases. A Black male teacher and Little League coach whom the female clerk, also Black, has known for years walks into the post office wearing a crisp, pinstriped suit and purchases $2,800 in money orders, just under the $3,000 daily minimum for which the postal service requires customers to fill out a form. He frequently has been buying money orders during the last few days. "Gee, I know he seems like an okay guy," Regina Goodclerk tells the employee. "But buying so many money orders all of a sudden and just under the reporting limit, I'd rather be sure. He's a good guy, but—this is just too suspicious to let go by."

Gillum says this is part of the message that postal clerks can't be too careful because anyone could be a potential money launderer. "A Little League coach could be a deacon in the church, could be the most upstanding citizen in the community, but where is that person getting $2,800 every day?" Gillum asks. "Why would a baseball coach, a schoolteacher in town, buy [that many money orders]? Our customers don't have that kind of money. If he's a schoolteacher, if he's got a job on the side, he's going to have a bank account and going to write checks on it, so why does he want to buy money orders? That's the point."

Despite the fact that the Little League coach in the video was Black, Gillum insists that the postal service tells its employees not to target by race or appearance.

One thing that should set off alarms, the postal service says, is a customer objecting to filling out an 8105-A form that requests their date of birth, occupation, and driver's license or other government-issued ID for a purchase of money orders of $3,000 or more. If they cancel the purchase or request a smaller amount, the clerk automatically should fill out Form 8105-B, the "suspicious-activity" report.

"Whatever the reason, any customer who switches from a transaction that requires an 8105-A form to one that doesn't should earn himself or herself the honor of being described on a B form" the training manual says.

But the "suspicious" customers might just be concerned about privacy, says Solveig Singleton, a senior analyst at the Competitive Enterprise Institute. And a professional criminal likely would know that $3,000 was the reporting requirement before he walked into the post office. "I think there's a lot of reasons that people might not want to fill out such forms; they may simply think it's none of the post office's business" Singleton tells Insight.

"The presumption seems to be that, from the standpoint of the post office and the Bank Secrecy regulators, every citizen is a suspect." Both Singleton and Nojeim say "Under the Eagle's Eye" unfairly targets the poor, minorities, and immigrants—people outside of the traditional banking system.

"A large proportion of the reports will be immigrants sending money back home" Nojeim says. Singleton adds: "It lends itself to discrimination against people who are sort of marginally part of the ordinary banking system or who may not trust things like checks and credit cards."

There's also the question of what happens with the information once it's collected. Gillum says that innocent customers should feel secure because the information reported about "suspicious" customers is not automatically sent to the Treasury Department's Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN) to be shared with law-enforcement agencies worldwide. Although he says FinCEN wants the postal service to send all reports along to it, the postal authorities only will send the clerks' reports if they fit "known parameters" for suspicious activity.

"We are very sensitive to the private citizenry and their rights" Gillum insists. "For what it's worth, we have every comfort level that, if we make a report, there are all kinds of reasons to believe that there is something going on there beyond just a legitimate purchase of money orders." But Gillum would not discuss any of the "parameters" the postal service uses to test for suspicious activity, saying that's a secret held among U.S. law-enforcement agencies.

And if a clerk's report isn't sent to the Treasury Department, it still lingers for some time in the postal service database. Gillum says that, by law, the postal service will not be able to destroy suspicious-activity reports for five years. Gillum says the postal service is very strict that the reports only can be seen by law-enforcement officials and not used for other purposes, such as marketing.

A spokeswoman for the consulting company Information Builders stated in an e-mail to Insight: "Information Builders personnel do not have access to this system."

Observers say problems with "Under the Eagle's Eye" underscore the contradiction that, despite the fact that the postal service advertises like a private business and largely is self-supporting, it still is a government agency with law-enforcement functions.

Gibson says his agency must set an example for private businesses on tracking money orders. "Being a government agency, we feel it's our responsibility that we should set the tone" he said. The Treasury Department "basically challenged us in the mid-nineties to step-up to the plate as a government entity" Gillum adds. In fact, Gillum thinks Treasury may mandate that the private sector follow some aspects of the postal service's program. He adds, however, that the postal service is not arguing for this to be imposed on its competitors. In the meantime, the private sector is getting ready to comply with the Treasury regulations before they go into effect next January.

But if 7-Eleven Inc., which through its franchises and company-owned stores is one of the largest sellers of money orders, is any guide, private vendors of money orders probably will not issue nearly as many suspicious-activity reports as the postal service. "Our philosophy is to follow what the regulations require, and if they don't require us to fill out an SAR [suspicious activity report], then we wouldn't necessarily do it" 7-Eleven spokeswoman Margaret Chabris tells Insight.

Asked specifically about customers who cancel or change a transaction when asked to fill out a form, Chabris said: "We are not required to fill out an SAR if that happens."

So why does the U.S. Postal Service? That's one of the major issues raised by critics such as PostalWatch's Merritt.

He says that lawmakers and the new postmaster general, Jack Potter, need to examine any undermining of customer trust by programs such as "Under the Eagle's Eye" before the postal service is allowed to go into new businesses such as providing e-mail addresses. "Let's hope that this is not a trend for the postal service, because I don't think the American people are quite ready to be fully under the eagle's eye" he says.

INTERSECTION CAMERAS DRAW ANGER AND HUGE REVENUES

By Joseph A. D'Agostino, 6/18/01, Human Events <http://www.worldnetdaily.com/news/article.asp?ARTICLE\_ID=23264> [quoting]

House Majority Leader Dick Armey, R-Texas, is crusading against the red-light cameras that have sprouted up at intersections around the country, saying that they violate constitutional principles and that localities have deliberately shortened yellow-light intervals in order to raise revenue.

Traffic will be safer, said Armey, when local governments increase yellow intervals and stop trying to trap motorists in petty red-light violations.

"We are responsible for protecting people's constitutional rights" Armey told Human Events. "We believe that this is an intrusion against people's constitutional rights."

"We have the state legislature in New Jersey that agrees with us" said Armey, "and we have the Supreme Court in Alaska that agrees with us. We ought to hold some hearings on this."

No committee has yet committed to holding hearings on Armey's proposal.

"There's been an evolution of the federal standards and recommendations that has moved us away from the time-honored and effective business of using the length of the yellow light to ensure safety at intersections" Armey said. "We believe that they have consciously done just the opposite of good yellow-light policy to increase the stream of revenue."

"They have not demonstrated any improvement in public well-being because of these cameras" Armey added.

The House Republican leader said he does not want to use federal regulations to micromanage states and localities in their use of cameras for issuing traffic citations. "I am against that on principle" he said.

Instead, Armeý opposes traffic cameras of any kind, period, as a matter of constitutional principle.

"I have taken the same position with regard to speeding cameras" he said. "The problem with electronic surveillance is that you are denied your right to face your accuser and you are assumed to be guilty until you have proved yourself to be innocent. In fact, you are assumed to be there. A police officer has immediate identification of who's driving the car."

Armeý warned that the United States could end up like England.

"I would say that I could leave my residence in London, travel all around town and make three or four stops, and there would be a record of everywhere I went. The surveillance there is that thorough" he said.

Said Armeý spokesman Richard Diamond: "The British government has proposed increasing the number of tickets issued by cameras from 550,000 to 10 million a year." At present, no American municipality is planning to use traffic cameras for anything other than red-light running and speeding.

A report prepared by Armeý's office says, "Today's formula for calculating yellow times yields yellow times that can in some cases be about 30 percent shorter than the older formula." Armeý's office collected traffic studies from around the country and found that when the yellow-light time increased, red-light running decreased. In Mesa, Arizona, for example, the number of vehicles entering an intersection on red dropped by 73 percent; in Georgia, by 75 percent; at sites in Virginia and Maryland, 77 percent or more, including two sites where researchers reported that the red-light running problem was "virtually eliminated".

But lengthening yellow times does not raise revenue.

Fifty cities in 10 states now use red-light cameras. In 18 months, San Diego's 19 cameras have raked in $30 million. West Hollywood, California, earns $4.9 million annually from its cameras. New York City's 15 cameras made $5.4 million in their first year.

San Diego's red-light camera ticketing program suffered a setback this month after the city discovered a glitch that meant some motorists may have been ticketed unjustly. After a lawsuit was filed in February, discovery turned up a "Potential Intersection Worksheet" prepared for the city when it was deciding where to install red-light cameras. Five of the potential sites were rejected because "long yellow, vio [violator] volume not there". Other noted reasons for rejections included "long yellow phase" and "timing clears out traffic".

A copy of an agreement between Mesa and Lockheed Martin, the company with which the city contracted to provide its red-light cameras, prohibited the city from lengthening yellow times at intersections with Lockheed cameras. The contract gave Lockheed a cut of every ticket issued by its cameras.

Last year, a red-light camera in Washington, D.C., was turned off after the local police department admitted that the intersection where it was installed was confusing, but not until after over $1 million was raised, most of which will not be refunded.

Shortening of yellow times has not happened around the country through coincidence, Armeý's report says. The Institute of Transportation Engineers (ITE) produces a traffic management handbook that is widely used by local governments. The 1985 handbook stated: "When the percent of vehicles that are last through the intersection which enter on red exceeds that which is locally acceptable (many agencies use a value of 1 to 3 percent), the yellow interval should be lengthened until the percentage conforms to local standards." By 1994, the "1 to 3 percent" recommendation was edited out, and a suggestion that yellow-light intervals might actually be "shortened" was inserted. Now the ITE handbook says: "When the percentage of vehicles that enter on a red indication exceeds that which is locally acceptable, the yellow change interval may be lengthened (or shortened) until the percentage conforms to local standards, or enforcement can be used instead."

In 1976, ITE found that the average intersection where traffic moved at approximately 35 mph required 4.64 seconds of time for traffic to clear the intersection once the signal changed from green to yellow. The 1999 ITE formula recommends 3.8 seconds of yellow-light time.

Diamond said that studies purporting to show that red-light cameras reduce accidents are flawed.

"They don't even track changes in yellow-light times to see if that is what causes reductions in accidents" he said.

The most comprehensive study produced on the effect of red-light cameras was done by the Australian Road Research Board, which concluded, in 1995, after ten years of monitoring intersections: "This study suggests that the installation of the RLC [red-light camera] at these sites did not provide any reduction in accidents, rather, there have been increases in rear-end and adjacent approaches accidents." [End quoting]

It's a particularly dangerous combination to mix the greed of politicians at the local municipality level with the New World Order gang's covert agenda item of ever more complete surveillance of the public. So long as people act like sheep instead of raising their voices in protest, this kind of activity will continue to increase until the noose is snug around all of our necks.

Moreover, keep in mind that Lockheed Martin is a major defense industry contractor, which means they develop and perfect many kinds of covert CIA/NSA and other spy industry equipment. So the next question is: When is a camera not just a camera?

Here's one more revealing item on this major deception:

INTERSECTION CAMERAS JUST SPEED TRAPS

Excerpted from THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 6/26/01: [quoting]

More than 50 cities across the country now use cameras at intersections to catch red-light runners. Even more communities are laying the groundwork to install these devices on their streets.

It makes you wonder why the devices seem to be so attractive. If you listen to local politicians, you'll hear of the significant safety benefit provided to the community, and you'll hear indignation at any suggestion that profit is the true motive. Newly uncovered documents from re-light camera programs in California and Arizona suggest otherwise.

The camera lobby has been hiding the truth about how intersections are being left deliberately

Two attorneys representing 290 motorists in San Diego have taken on this system—and won.

Arthur F. Tait and Coleen Cusak forced the city to pull the plug on all 19 red-light cameras after they uncovered evidence that the camera hardware was being manipulated to entrap motorists.

Their lawsuit forced the private company that operates the cameras to release more than 5,000 pages of confidential documents about the program. These papers describe what the real motivating factor behind these cameras has been.

Safety was never the primary consideration. In fact, none of the devices was placed at any of San Diego's 10 most dangerous intersections. Instead, the documents tell us how the camera operators consciously sought out mistimed intersections as locations for new red-light cameras.

Yellow-signal time at intersections turns out to be directly related to red-light running. Simply put, when the yellow light is short, more people enter on red. Inadequate yellow time causes a condition where individuals approaching an intersection are unable either to come to a safe stop or proceed safely before the light turns red.

Though dangerous, this condition also turns out to be very profitable. Each time someone ends up in an intersection on red in San Diego, the city collects $271, and $70 of that fine is paid as bounty to the city's private contractor.

Combine hefty fines with mistimed signals, and you've found the formula for big money. A single camera brought the city $6.8 million in just 18 months.

WE HAVE MET THE ENEMY AND HE IS US!

Extracted from the INTERNET, <AABCC@yahoo.com>, 6/22/01: [quoting]

Tim McVeigh And America's Soul

Timothy McVeigh is treated like an aberration—something outside us. Timothy McVeigh is only one symptom of a national disease we all have. That disease is that we have collectively forgotten that we are "sacred", that life is "sacred".

How ironic that, at a time when our government wants to spend more and more money on so-called "defense" and a star-wars system that will suck our precious resources away from protecting our environment and educating our children, we are about to execute a man who has inflicted more terror on us than anyone else—and he is an American, trained by our own military machine. We do not need to pour our money and consciousness into fearing distant enemies abroad, because the greatest enemy is right here—often within our own minds and hearts.

The greatest damage done to American society again and again is "self inflicted". 70% of illness is caused by unmanaged stress—or in other words, our body and mind attacking itself with worry and FEAR, as average people struggle to survive in an economy of exploding wealth. The 6 leading causes of death are stress related. Our rivers are poisoned by the drugs we pump in our own bodies to hide from our stress or treat the illness that stress causes, and the toxins we pump into our foods to raise crop yields so we can gorge on unhealthy amounts of food, and our children are poisoned with the violence, and cruel comedy that uses hurt and put-downs for laughs, pumped into their minds day after day through our un-imaginative entertainment media, that often advertises foods and drinks that further destroy their health.

The great chief Seattle (Seathl) of the Suwamish Indian Tribe wrote a letter to the United States President in 1854, saying that they would give up their precious land, because if they didn't the U.S. soldiers would come with guns and take it anyway. But, Chief Seathl cautioned: "Love the land as we have loved it. Care for it as we've cared for it. Hold in your mind the memory of the land as it was when you take it... Continue to contaminate your bed, and you will one night suffocate in your own waste."

Our culture is poisoned from our lack of nurturing ourselves, our environment, or our children, while we pour our precious resources into building weapons to protect our land from foreign invasion, while our children are undereducated and suffer a lack of hope and vision as the U.S. imprisons more of its young than any nation on Earth except one (we spend $500 billion annually on crime). And now our government seeks to destroy more of our precious natural resources so that we can suck more of the Earth's bounty from her heart, at a time when the endless consumption of that bounty is strangling Earth's ability to create oxygen and cool itself.

Our lives are out of balance, but rather than facing this, we aim our fear outward, to external enemies in other countries, or we hang all of our dysfunction on the shoulders of a Tim McVeigh, thereby avoiding the discomfort of looking in our own hearts. Our enemy is in our hearts, it is forgetting that we and our children are sacred. Timothy McVeigh felt that the pre-school children in the building he destroyed were expendable collateral damage. BUT WE are not so different when, as a society, we believe that the poison we eat and drink, the children who lose hope, and the prisons (monster factories) we fill and overflow, and the precious Earth we consume (the U.S. consumes 25% of the Earth's resources with only 5% of the Earth's population)—is acceptable collateral damage so that we can continue to pour obscene billions into more and more weapons of mass destruction.

Our lives are out of balance, as we over-eat so much meat that our bodies bloat and our hearts thicken with the strain. Our enormous appetites require an obscene mistreatment of animals in what's called "factory farming". Chickens raised their entire miserable lives without ever feeling the warmth of sunlight or ever having room to stretch their wings, being tortured with lighting systems and arsenic to stimulate them to lay more eggs, because they lay more eggs when continually stressed. Chimpanzees, because they are most like us in the animal kingdom, are infected and tortured in horrid living conditions, crying their lives away in sadness and depression. All of our technology offers so much hope for creating a good and loving world—but we squander it.

We would do well to remember what Chief Seathl told our president in 1854: "Every part of this Earth is sacred to my people. Every shining pine needle, every sandy shore, every mist in the dark woods, every clearing, and every humming insect is holy in the memory and experience of my people."

Our culture has made fun of Indian culture in its movies and books and television. We have completely dishonored perhaps one of the most civilized cultures in the history of the world. It is time to listen, to reawaken, to find balance and harmony within our own lives and own minds. The enemy is not "out there", it is within each of us, and we can make peace right now by becoming sacred—reawakening to the sacredness of life.

Let Tim McVeigh's death, and the sad and unnecessary death of the Oklahoma bombing victims have more meaning than some visceral shallow satisfaction in seeing another casualty like McVeigh bite the dust. Let's let this sad national journey lead us to some real meaning in our lives. Let's see through this sadness to remember that we are sacred. Our country, our land, our children, all sacred. And from this realization a healing can spread across our land, and through the world. America can inspire the world toward more than endless armament. We have the power to shine a precious light that can lift the world to new meaning "if we can find that new meaning in ourselves".

"The devils of the world are in our own hearts—and that is where our battles must be fought." — Mahatma Gandhi

These are words well worth pondering each time we look elsewhere to point the blame for what ails our society. The crooks in high places and their prostitutes who carry out much of the grunt work are powerless against the sheer numbers of we-the-people should we desire to focus our combined attention upon righting the wrongs. The next item is a good example of what can be done:

93% OF CANADIANS DEMAND THAT GENETICALLY ENGINEERED FOODS HAVE LABELS

From the INTERNET, <<http://sightings.com>>, 6/8/01: [quoting]

Press Release from the Council of Canadians <<http://www.purefood.org>>

OTTAWA (CNW)—More than 80 groups have joined the push to get the federal government to listen to Canadians and implement mandatory labeling of genetically engineered (GE) foods. The unprecedented support comes as private member's bill C-287 enters second reading in the House.

If passed, Liberal MP Charles Caccia's bill would make food companies label their GE food. But there's concern the bill will die unless enough MPs vote in the fall to send the bill to committee and to a final vote in the House.

To build support for the bill, a letter is being circulated across Canada to encourage support for C-287. To date, more than 80 groups have signed and many of the groups are promising a summer of mobilization as MPs return to their ridings.

"All MPs, and Minister Rock in particular, should support this bill to make sure a much needed democratic debate takes place in Parliament" says Nadège Adam, Health Protection Campaigner for the Council of Canadians. "Few other initiatives have had a 93 percent public support rate for six years in a row."

"Canada's jacking up MPs' salaries because they say we're falling behind world standards" said Eric Darier of Greenpeace. "But 35 countries are adopting mandatory labeling, protecting more than a billion people. We're falling behind the world—way behind—and Canadians are demanding we keep up."

"Not only do Canadians want mandatory labeling, the world expects it" said Brewster Kneen of BC Biotechnology Circle. "From beer to canola and from Europe to Japan, our customers want GE foods labeled. How many customers do we have to lose before the government gets it?"

Caccia's bill is timely since the Royal Society of Canada's report, which contains 53 recommendations calling for the overhaul of the GE regulatory process, continues to be ignored by government officials since its release last February.

The Globe And Mail's Edward Greenspon has called this a "private member's bill worth supporting".

Organic Consumers Association <<http://www.purefood.org>> [End quoting]

There remain many unanswered health and safety questions concerning genetically engineered or modified food products. Thus the minimum level of protection for the public is to identify these products and thereby give consumers a choice. Of course the industry is fighting this diligently because they already know how most people feel about genetically tampered foods. Remember that Monsanto is the world leader in this technology and the cafeteria at their own headquarters complex refused to use those products! Wonder what the scientists and other people who work there know that we don't?!

MICROSOFT TO ME: WE'RE TURNING OFF YOUR OFFICE (PROGRAM)

From the INTERNET, ZDNET homepage <zdnet.com>, 6/26/01: [quoting]

David Coursey, Executive Editor, AnchorDesk PC EXPO, NEW YORK—A funny thing happened on the way to PC Expo: Microsoft killed my copy of Office. Or at least that's what the error message said, threatening me with something called "Reduced Functionality Mode" if I didn't immediately insert my original Office disc and have my software reactivated.

"If you don't perform the reactivation steps, Microsoft Office will go into Reduced Functionality Mode. In that mode you will not be able to save modifications to documents, or create a new document, and additional functionality may be reduced" said the "help" screen attached to the error message. (The error itself could not be copied and pasted so I didn't save the exact language; I must say I was a little stunned.)

SO, HERE I AM, sitting in a jet at 34,000 feet someplace above God-only-knows-where, using my computer and minding my own business, when Microsoft threatens to essentially shut down my copy of Office. And at the very start of a week-long business trip, too.

Why did they do that? Here's what the help screen said: "Due to a significant change in your computer configuration from when Microsoft Office was installed and activated, some important information about your computer needs to be restored, and the product needs to be reactivated [reconnected to Microsoft so it can check your computer by their lackeys] to continue to function properly."

Hmm, the threatening message popped up while I was writing a column in one window and using Enfish OneSpace in another. I wonder if that had anything to do with it? But I'd installed Enfish weeks ago; funny the message should appear now. Or maybe it was the copy of Documents-To-Go I installed a few hours ago so I could load Word documents onto a Palm device.

FRANKLY, I HAVE NO IDEA WHAT I DID, if anything, to change the configuration of my computer. Nor should it be Microsoft's business if I did. As it stands, I am on an airplane, my original Office disk is 6 miles below and 2,200 miles behind me, and Microsoft has just told me that Office will die if I don't immediately reauthorize my copy.

What a way to start a business trip! As soon as I land, I will drop an e-mail to people I know in the Office group at Microsoft in Redmond and see what they have to say about this. I am sure they have some, to them, logical reason why this happened. Something I did that changed the configuration of my computer.

And it's not like they made good on the threat. I've rebooted and Office still seems to be working. But that's not the point. What I am wondering is this: Why would such a screen ever appear on the screen of someone using a legal copy of Microsoft Office?

We'll see what Microsoft has to say.

Have you ever seen this error message? I'd like to know. Talk back to me, below, or send me a note at <david@coursey.com>. [End quoting]

Microsoft is pushing us to the very limits to see how much control they can have over what we do with what have on our computers. They will back off if we quit going along with everything they are doing.

The decision just recently came out (on June 28, 2001) that the government will NOT break up Microsoft so that means it's up to us to put the pressure on them to make them more compatible with our ideas of good corporate behavior. Never forget how a lack of our money talks louder than any words to large corporations about how they should treat us.

HOMEOPATHIC METALS MAY CURE ALL MANNER OF AILMENTS

From the INTERNET, By Karen Norton <<http://sightings.com>>, 6/19/01: [quoting]

Before it emerged that Britain's Queen Elizabeth fortifies herself before speeches with a cup of arsenic and onions in water to prevent sneezing, many people may have been unaware of the heavy metal's medicinal benefits.

But arsenic, best known as a handy poison in tales of murder and sleuthing, is also one of the more commonly used remedies in homeopathy.

Homeopathy, seen either as a complement or alternative to orthodox medicine, uses metals from across the Periodic Table and a whole range of other substances from the plant and animal kingdoms. Its basic principle is that "like cures like"—if a substance produces certain symptoms in a healthy individual it can treat those same symptoms.

Homeopathic remedies, normally administered in the form of pills, are designed to kick-start the body's immune and defense systems and improve a patient's overall health.

The Roots Of Homeopathy

German scientist Samuel Hahnemann, the founder of modern homeopathy some 200 years ago, experimented with metals with a view to rendering safe those used in conventional medicine. At that time mercury was used to treat syphilis but, in its crude form, unfortunately killed the patient. Hahnemann discovered that the more diluted the amount of mercury administered the more effective it became in treating the disease.

As homeopathy developed, it grew to include arsenicum album (white arsenic) among some 30 polycrests—key remedies. Patients needing this remedy can have symptoms resembling those of arsenic poisoning. They might be anxious that someone is trying to poison them, or take money from them. They may be restless or suffer from nausea and vomiting.

“There is a correlation between what a substance produces in its crude state and what it cures in its homeopathic state” said Robert Lawrence, Technical and Training Manager at UK-based Helios Pharmacy.

Homeopaths treat the whole patient—on the mental, physical and emotional level. Orthodox medicine (allopathy) tends to base prescriptions on one or two specific symptoms and use drugs to block or prevent something from happening in the body rather than curing it.

“Homoeopathic amounts are too small to interfere with biochemical pathways” said Dr. Steven Kayne, Consultant Pharmacist at the Glasgow Homeopathic Hospital and Pharmaceutical Dean of the Faculty of Homeopathy.

Metals Not Toxic

Meanwhile, the overuse and inappropriate prescription of conventional medicine has meant that stronger and more toxic drugs are being used to combat super-bugs and viruses, which have become resistant to less powerful drugs.

“There is no toxicity (in homeopathic remedies) because there is usually very little and sometimes none of the original substance” Lawrence said.

In homeopathy the metal is ground down into a very fine particle state before being taken into a liquid carrier and diluted further still. Kayne noted molecules of the medicine can be found in low potencies below 12c (where one drop is diluted in 100 drops 12 times in a row), but none can be detected in those above 12c due to greater dilution.

With higher potencies Kayne said it could be assumed that there was no toxicity. With lower potencies he said: “Clinical evidence suggests there is not a problem, but theoretically there might be.”

But he pointed out that arsenicum was frequently prescribed in low potency 6c without any adverse side-effects other than the normal aggravations, which indicated a remedy was working. Indeed, the problem for many critics is that homeopathic medicines can be so diluted that there is nothing identifiable in the final dose except water.

But Lawrence said they still contained a certain essence or dynamic of the substance. “Logically it doesn’t make sense, but even modern nuclear physics doesn’t make sense” he contested. “It depends on the mental modeling you use.”

Other Metal Remedies

Metals are used quite widely in homeopathy, usually in the form of salts, but there is no common theme among them. With some metals, as with other substances, their so-called characteristics can manifest themselves in a patient, according to some homeopaths.

The “remedy picture” for aurum (gold), for example, can be for those prone to severe depression. The type may be quite acquisitive and powerful and need to be best at whatever they do (going for gold), but also have a low opinion of themselves.

Such patients might be trading in the stock market, Lawrence said, and the type to jump out of the window were share prices to plummet sharply. Aside from this, aurum can also be used for a whole range of symptoms, including mental exhaustion, digestive problems, and heart and vascular disorders.

But Lawrence added that it was by no means always the case that prescribing was so straightforward. “It would be nice to have a convenient schemata but it doesn’t always work that way.” Meanwhile, Kayne warned against the dangers of self-treatment and stressed that prescribing of remedies was too specialized and could only be done on an individual basis.

Working With Orthodox Medicine

Kayne said homeopathy and orthodox medicine can work in tandem and that this approach was adopted by most health professionals. The Homeopathic Hospital of Glasgow is run by the UK’s National Health Service and there are three such others in the country. Homeopathy has been part of the NHS since 1948.

Homeopathy’s increased popularity in recent years is in part due to a widespread and growing interest in all complementary or alternative therapies. Kayne said this had been partly fueled in the UK by the Patients’ Charter, whereby individuals have the right to say how they want to be treated, and also through the Internet. He said hits on health-care websites were second only to those for pornographic sites. [End quoting]

You can be sure that the old advice “If you can’t beat ’em, join ’em” is going to be the strategy employed as the church of conventional medicine loses more and more of their congregation to alternative healing modalities. We will all have to be vigilant about the attempts for takeover and corruption of alternative medical routes by the same crooks in high places who infest/infect conventional medicine. Meanwhile, there is much to learn about what REALLY aids in healing, such as homeopathy, which, as was said very well above, doesn’t make any more conventional sense than does a lot of modern physics! That only means we have a lot yet to learn about Truth.

OXYGEN USE CUTS POST-OP INFECTIONS BY HALF

By Nigel Hawkes, Health Editor, The Times,

London <<http://www.thetimes.co.uk>>

The risks of infections after operations could be halved by giving patients extra oxygen, research has shown.

Almost one in five patients having operations develops an infection at the site of the surgery—170,000 a year in the UK. Each of these patients needs an average of an extra seven to 12 days in hospital, at a cost to the NHS of up to £1,700. Patients who get infections are also more than seven times as likely to die.

The authors of the research, from Austria and Germany, who reported the results in the New England Journal Of Medicine, say that giving oxygen at higher rates during and for two hours after the operation reduced the frequency of infections by half.

The extra cost was about 37p a day and administering the oxygen carried no risk. [End quoting]

Oxygen chambers have been known for a long, long time to be very advantageous for healing, but of course the medical profession very seldom would mention them or use them. After all, there’s quite a bit of money to be made from those post-operative infections. Now they act like they stumbled onto a gold mine. Sounds like throwing us a bone.

Meanwhile the medical business mafia harasses or throws in prison or exterminates those who attempt to bring us true, cheap healing technologies. No big business wants to be undercut by cheap competition. And healing (the welfare of the patient) is becoming more and more purely incidental to that big business. Is it any wonder so many are turning to alternative medicine?!

THE FIRMAMENT, LEMURIA AND ATLANTIS

From the INTERNET, courtesy of Calvin Burgin, <wrlldline@texas.net>, 6/17/01: [quoting] <<http://www.newage.com.au/library/firmament.html>>

From the Library of NewAge On-Line Australia: <<http://www.newage.com.au>>

(Excerpts from the book: You Are Becoming A Galactic Human, by Virginia Essene and Sheldon Nidle. Information channeled from Washta, Teletron, and Mikah, by Sheldon Nidle.)

The term Firmament has been mentioned at different times throughout history, but a mysterious cloud surrounds the true nature of this concept. Find below one fascinating account of what the Firmament was, why it was important, and how it played an important role in our distant past.

Introduction

The Firmament was a layer of frozen water (ice) above the Earth’s surface. It was a huge crystalline shield in two sections, one situated at 15,000 to 18,000 feet, and the other at 35,000 to 38,000 feet above the Earth’s surface. It was like a clear lens. At certain times of the day, when light was reflected, it served as a mirror of the world below. Crystal temples all over the Earth held up the Firmament.

Who Made The Firmament?

The Firmament was originally constructed by the initial etheric civilization that came to Earth approximately 35 million years ago. This was done to protect planet Earth from the radiation of the Sun and other dangerous cosmic radiations that regularly come through the Solar System.

The Firmament was maintained, broken, and re-established many times as different civilizations and invasions came to Earth. Various floods have occurred throughout the geological history of this planet ever since the time of that initial etheric civilization.

The Absence Of Weather

When the Firmament existed it was under the direction of the Spiritual Hierarchy—and those who constructed the crystal temples in accordance with the Spiritual Hierarchy's wishes—so it could perform several functions for the atmosphere of the planet. First, it lowered the radiation and heat levels so that the climate of Earth, from North Pole to South Pole, was within five degrees of one another! Thus, the tropics were around the upper 70s (degrees Fahrenheit) and the polar regions were around the lower 70s. Large ice sheets did not exist across the north and south polar regions as they do today.

The second major difference in the atmosphere was that the winds and clouds did not exist. There were no clouds and every day was a sunny day! What further added to this fact was that the winds were minimal and were kept to a maximum of 5-7 miles per hour. Also, because there were no clouds, there were no rainstorms; so rain is something that is unique to your present era.

A Storehouse Of Prana

The complete Firmament atmosphere invigorated the mind and body since the radiation energy stored prana in the Firmament. Prana then drifted across the Firmament and maintained it almost as if it were a giant refrigerator. You might call it a refrigerator of prana or energy!

The body of any creature existing on your planet was invigorated by this energy. Additionally, the Firmament also effectively kept out heat and other radiation that caused deterioration of the body. Another side effect of the Firmament was that the stars were magnified so that the sky would be seen as through a huge telescope. Thus, the Firmament prevented a ravaged atmosphere in which there are great differences in climate, storms, and extremes of weather. After the Firmament's collapse, radiation eventually shrunk the physical size of humans and gradually limited the length of their life span. In fact, some biblical stories include long-lived beings. This is a result of the protection of the Firmament. Your present atmosphere does not protect life as the Firmament once did (and will do so again).

Conflict

As the civilizations of Lemuria and Atlantis matured, conflict developed between the two. As a last resort of the struggle for control, they decided to attack the crystal temples which held the Firmament in place. Initially, the strategy was to destroy the Firmament above the enemy. However, they underestimated the effect of the destabilization of the Firmament.

Attacks were made simultaneously on the crystal temples, and so disrupted the structure of the Firmament in the heavens. This caused the end of the Firmament, and the falling of millions of gallons of water from the sky. This is historically and biblically known as the Great Flood.

What was left behind was not only a period of roughly 40 days of rain, but a whole new world. The old histories of humanity had been virtually flooded away and all that was left were the oral stories and legends. [End quoting]

What do you think? Might this be true? Biblical accounts of a Firmament and Great Flood mesh well with the account above. Whatever caused such a water-based shielding Firmament to disintegrate would certainly cause the kinds of Earth-changing events described here and in the biblical accounts of the Great Flood. One of these days the long-hidden records of this planet will again be publicly available, no longer hidden by the elite controllers of this planet for them exclusively to see and utilize. A lot of missing pieces to the puzzle will fall into place at that time—and much history will be radically rewritten in Truth.

THE SAME WORDS,

BUT VERY DIFFERENT MEANINGS

From the INTERNET, <<http://sightings.com>>, 6/19/01: [quoting]

An English professor wrote the words: "Woman without her man is nothing" on the blackboard and directed the students to punctuate it correctly.

The men wrote: "Woman, without her man, is nothing."

The women wrote: "Woman! Without her, man is nothing." [End quoting]

This is an excellent example of how easy it is for people to "adjust" history by different interpretations of ancient documents, the Bible, any writings, or even how easy it is to misunderstand a statement you hear.

TEAMWORK GONE WRONG

From POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, July 2001: [quoting]

It's a case of two rights making a particularly nasty wrong.

Researchers have found that two pesticides may act in concert to trigger Parkinson's disease. When scientists at the University of Rochester Medical Center injected mice twice weekly with the herbicide paraquat and the fungicide maneb, they created a deadly brew. Over a six-week period, the mice displayed impaired motor activity and brain damage typical of Parkinson's disease, a progressive and incurable neurological illness that afflicts one million Americans.

Alone, neither chemical typically enters the brain. Together, maneb may help paraquat cross the blood-brain barrier—a filter of sorts whereby the body only allows select molecules to enter. Previous studies have also found a higher incidence of Parkinson's disease in people who live in rural areas.

Both chemicals are sprayed on potatoes, tomatoes, lettuce, corn, and other crops. The EPA, however, does not test for compound interactions, raising questions about other chemicals that might team up to raise havoc in the body. "I don't think we just happened to pick the right two pesticides" says Deborah Cory-Slechta of the University of Rochester.

"This is probably just the tip of the iceberg." —Paul Thacker [End quoting]

This discovery leads to many more questions about all the chemicals used in modern agribusiness. The chemical combinations are nearly endless and, as the researcher above states, there are likely many other disastrous combinations. This is yet another very good reason to return modern chemically-driven agribusiness back to a more organically supported agriculture as we detailed back in the April 2001 issue of The SPECTRUM.

NEW EVIDENCE SHOWS FALSE MEMORIES CAN BE CREATED

"I tawt I taw a bunny wabbit" at Disneyland.

About one-third of the people who were exposed to a fake print advertisement that described a visit to Disneyland and how they met and shook hands with Bugs Bunny, later said they remembered or knew the event happened to them.

The scenario described in the ad never occurred because Bugs Bunny is a Warner Brothers cartoon character and wouldn't be featured in any Walt Disney Company property, according to University of Washington memory researchers Jacquie Pickrell and Elizabeth Loftus.

Pickrell will make two presentations on the topic at the annual meeting of the American Psychological Society (APS) on Sunday (June 17) in Toronto and at a satellite session of the Society for Applied Research in Memory and Cognition in Kingston, Ontario, on Wednesday.

"The frightening thing about this study is that it suggests how easily a false memory can be created" said Pickrell, UW psychology doctoral student.

"It's not only people who go to a therapist who might implant a false memory, or those who witness an accident and whose memory can be distorted who can have a false memory. Memory is very vulnerable and malleable. People are not always aware of the choices they make. This study shows the power of subtle association changes on memory."

The research is a follow-up to an unpublished study by Loftus, a UW psychology professor who is being honored by the APS this week with its William James Fellow Award for psychological research; Kathryn Braun, a visiting scholar at the Harvard Business School; and Rhiannon Ellis, a former UW undergraduate who is now a doctoral student at the University of Pittsburgh. In the original study, 16 percent of the people exposed to a Disneyland ad featuring Bugs Bunny later thought they had seen and met the cartoon rabbit.

In the new research, Pickrell and Loftus divided 120 subjects into four groups. The subjects were told they were going to evaluate advertising copy, fill out several questionnaires, and answer questions about a trip to Disneyland.

The first group read a generic Disneyland ad that mentioned no cartoon characters. The second group read the same copy and was exposed to a 4-foot-tall cardboard figure of Bugs Bunny that was casually placed in the interview room. No mention was made of Bugs Bunny. The third, or Bugs group, read the fake Disneyland ad featuring Bugs Bunny. The fourth or double-exposure group read the fake ad and also saw the cardboard rabbit.

This time 30 percent of the people in the Bugs group later said they remembered or knew they had met Bugs Bunny when they visited Disneyland and 40 percent of the people in the double exposure group reported the same thing.

"Remember" means the people actually recall meeting and shaking hands with Bugs" explained Pickrell. "Knowing" is they have no real memory, but are sure that it happened, just as they have no memory of having their umbilical cord being cut when they were born but know it happened.

"Creating a false memory is a process. Someone saying, 'I know it could have happened', is taking the first step of actually creating a memory. If you clearly believe you walked up to Bugs Bunny, you have a memory."

In addition, Pickrell said there is the issue of the consequence of false memories or the ripple effects. People in the experiment who were exposed to the false advertising were more likely to relate Bugs Bunny to other things at Disneyland not suggested in the ad, such as seeing Bugs and Mickey Mouse together or seeing Bugs in the Main Street Electrical Parade.

"We are interested in how people create their autobiographical references, or memory. Through this process they might be altering their own memories" she said. "Nostalgic advertising works in a similar manner. Hallmark, McDonald's, and Disney have very effective nostalgic advertising that can change people's buying habits. You may not have had a great experience the last time you visited Disneyland or McDonald's, but the ads may inadvertently be creating the impression that they had a wonderful time and leaving viewers with that memory. If ads can get people to believe they had an experience they never had, that is pretty powerful.

"The bottom line of our study is that the phony ad is making the difference. Just casually reading a Bugs Bunny cartoon or some other incidental exposure doesn't mean you believe you met Bugs. The ad does."

For more information, contact Pickrell at <jpick@u.washington.edu> or 206-543-8059, or Loftus at 206-543-7184. Both will be attending the American Psychological Society meeting in Toronto. [End quoting]

This is a very revealing study that provides great insight concerning the actual, widespread levels of mind control that are used every day on the public. If this research goes much further down the road it is on, and continues to be talked about in a public forum, the principal investigators will have their laboratory visited by government types who strongly suggest they shift the work into the "top secret" category—or else. The crooks in high places do not want any of their private tricks of the trade revealed because they lose effectiveness then.

FDA SEARCHES FOR SOURCE OF PHONEY DRUGS

From THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, for 6/5/01: [quoting]

The Food and Drug Administration is investigating four cases in which counterfeit prescription drugs made their way to pharmacy shelves, and in some cases, were given to patients.

No one is known to have been seriously injured, although some patients have had adverse reactions. But FDA officials say they are worried about the four cases and have made the investigation a high priority.

"This little spate of cases is highly unusual" William K. Hubbard, a senior associate commissioner at the FDA, said. In the past decade, he said, there have been only a handful of similar instances.

The recent cases involve three injectable drugs: Serostim, a growth hormone sold by Serono and used by AIDS patients; Nutropin, a growth hormone sold by Genentech; and Neupogen, a cancer drug sold by Amgen. All three drugs are expensive, which could be why the counterfeiters selected them. A 12-week course of Serostim, for instance, costs $21,000.

The counterfeiters might have been able to find an easy market for their drugs since Serostim and Nutropin are sought after by people who believe the drugs will help them lose weight, build muscle, and smooth wrinkles. Some websites promote the drugs for such uses, and, in some cases, offer to sell them without a prescription.

Counterfeiters are drawn to prescription drugs, in part, because their small size makes them easy to smuggle.

FDA officials and the drug companies have sent letters to pharmacies, doctors, and distributors all over the country to warn them about the counterfeit drugs.

Last month, FDA officials reported three more cases of counterfeit drugs, this time involving Neupogen, Nutropin, and a second fake batch of Serostim. Genentech, which makes Nutropin, said pharmacies in Florida, California, and Indiana had found fake copies of the drug on their shelves.

FDA officials say they cannot discuss many aspects of the recent cases because of the ongoing investigation. And it is not clear whether the counterfeit drugs were produced in the United States or came from overseas.

But either way, the drugs appear to be coming through networks that operate largely beyond the reach of regulators.

Congress has recently become concerned about whether inspectors at the FDA and the U.S. Customs Service have enough resources to stop illicit medicine from entering.

[End quoting]

The irony is that at least some of these phony drugs are probably saving lives because the patients may not be getting the poisons that are the real drugs. I'd venture to propose that if all "drugs" were actually some harmless substance, but the users thought they were for real, the cure rate would rise. Of course all people don't respond to placebos, but many do.

Dear SPECTRUM:

We would very much appreciate your help in bringing to light the truth about the disappearance of my father, on October 16, 1972. We are asking our friends to contact the following Committee and legislators to reopen the investigation of the disappearance of the plane because of the information reported in Roll Call magazine as released by the FBI under Freedom Of Information Act request.

As mentioned, the story will be airing on the History Channel on a show called History's Mysteries at 8:00 PM Eastern and Pacific time June 26, 2001 [and likely repeated for a number of weeks after that]. I want to thank you in advance for your help in discovering the truth about this event. Please pass this message on to your friends and the media.

Please also contact: The U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Government Reform, Dan Burton (IN), Chairman & Henry A. Waxman (CA), Ranking Democrat.

The Capitol Switchboard will connect you with their offices at 202-224-3121.

Thank you for your continued support and best wishes.

Let's hope that Nick can finally discover the truth about his father's and Hale Boggs' highly probable murders. Someone out there in readerland knows what happened. Now is the time for Truth to out in ALL areas. Please help in any way you can.

Longtime readers of this newspaper are very familiar with Nick Jr. for his outstanding work over the past decade concerning alerting the public about the diabolical HAARP system up in Alaska (and elsewhere). Our latest interview with Nick was the front-page feature for our May 2001 issue.

COMPACT TIRE FACTORY

From POPULAR MECHANICS magazine, July 2001 [quoting]

Italian tire manufacturer Pirelli will begin producing tires in remarkably small and efficient plants—about the size of three tractor-trailers parked side by side.

These compact new factories are called MIRS, for Modular Integrated Robotized System plants. And they're fast, allowing Pirelli to produce a tire every 3 minutes and switch production from one tire size to another in 20 minutes, a feat that now takes over 6 hours.

The system reduces the 14 steps of traditional tire manufacturing down to three. This means the time required to go from raw materials to finished products can be reduced from six days down to an incredible 72 minutes. Pirelli expects quality to increase by 100 percent and overall product cost to fall by 25 percent.

The first plant is now operating in Milan, Italy. In the future, automakers may install MIRS plants inside their factories. [End quoting]

In 1949 I had an organic chemistry teacher tell me that the tire companies could make tires which would outlast the life of a car, but for obvious economic reasons the public would never see such tires.

Considering all the problems lately with tires flying apart and causing serious vehicular tragedies, let's hope these new fast-tire factories don't compound the problem and simply produce the same junk faster!

OFFICIALS BLAME FEDERAL ENERGY
REGULATORY COMMISSION (FERC) FOR STATE ENERGY SHORTAGE

Excerpted from THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 6/18/01: [quoting]

"On the day that Sen. James Jeffords, I-VT, quit the Republican party and gave control of the Senate to Democrats, El Paso Energy Company dropped its price for delivering 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas from Texas to California from $6.33 to 23 cents" Sherman said. "I don't think that's a coincidence." [End quoting]

That means the price had been almost 30 times higher than it dropped to—and you can be sure they were still making a fat profit at 23 cents! Does anyone still think there isn't a huge scam attached to the energy crisis in California? Go back and read again the February 2001 front-page feature of this newspaper for many details about fraud and greed that only now are coming out in small fragments on the evening news programs. Among other tricks of the trade, only now are we hearing about power companies taking some of their generating capacity off line in order to artificially drive-up the prices.

And our new Republican oil-czar president was leading the charge. Perhaps Senator Jeffords had finally had enough and wished to distance himself from such a criminal element.

COURT: POLICE NEED WARRANT TO USE HEAT SENSOR

From THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, for 6/10/01: [quoting]

In an important declaration of the constitutional limits on new privacy-threatening technology, the Supreme Court ruled Monday that the use by police of a thermal imaging device to detect patterns of heat coming from a private home is a search that requires a warrant.

The court said further that the warrant requirement would apply not only to the relatively crude device at issue in the case, but also to any "more sophisticated systems that are already in use or in development" and that allow the police to gain knowledge that, in the past, would have been impossible without physically entering the home.

"We must take the long view, from the original meaning of the Fourth Amendment forward" justice Antony Scalia wrote for a 5-4 majority that cut across the court's usual ideological division. Scalia said that to take any other approach "would leave the homeowner at the mercy of advancing technology—including imaging technology that could discern all human activity in the home".

The decision overturned a ruling by the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco—often regarded as the most liberal of the federal appeals courts—which held in 1999 that the warrantless use of a device that revealed patterns of heat suggestive of an indoor marijuana-growing operation did not violate the Fourth Amendment's prohibition of unreasonable searches.

In a dissenting opinion Monday, Justice John Paul Stevens—who in turn is usually described as the court's most liberal justice—said the 9th Circuit was correct and that the police activity in the case "did not invade any constitutionally protected interest in privacy". He said that for the court Monday to make a constitutional rule about future technology was "unnecessary, unwise, and inconsistent with the Fourth Amendment".

Those who joined Scalia in the majority were Justices David H. Souter, Clarence Thomas, Ruth Bader Ginsburg, and Stephen G. Breyer, Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist joined the dissent, as did Justices Sandra Day O'Connor and Anthony M. Kennedy.

The case, Kyllo v. United States, No. 99-8508, was a federal drug prosecution that began in 1992, when two federal agents trained a device called Agema Thermovision 210 on a home in Florence, Oregon, where, on the basis of tips and utility bills, they believed marijuana was being grown under high-intensity lamps. While the imager cannot see through walls, it can detect hot spots, and in this case disclosed that part of the roof and a side wall were warmer than the rest of the building and the neighboring houses. The agents used that information to get a warrant to enter and search the home, where they found more than 100 marijuana plants growing under halide lights. [End quoting]

The problem of ever more sophisticated invasive technologies is not a case such as the above, which gives you the impression that your privacy rights have been upheld. The problem is that even more sophisticated technologies are used routinely on we-the-people with no regard for the laws of privacy by those above-the-law agencies employing such snooping devices.

INTEL ANNOUNCES FASTEST TRANSISTOR

From THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, for 6/10/01: [quoting]

Intel Corporation said Saturday it has created the world's fastest silicon transistors, tiny switches that turn on and off nearly 1,000 times more quickly than those that power today's microprocessors.

The new technology, which would not be incorporated into processors until 2007, will allow computers to run about 25 times faster than the top-of-the-line Pentium 4, said Gerald Marcyk, Intel's director of components research.

Such powerful processors are expected to play a key role in the growth of speech recognition and language translation applications—as well as programs that now require a supercomputer to run. [End quoting]

Isn't it interesting that, despite the usually fast (12-18 month) turnaround time in the semiconductor industry, this supposed new technology won't be available until way out there in 2007. You don't suppose this could have been a bit of an exaggeration they hope everyone will forget in awhile—but “coincidentally” timed RIGHT NOW to help Intel stay afloat as the rest of the technology sector stock market continues to slide?

METAL OF HONOR

From POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, July 2001: [quoting]

Between 1950 and 1980, scientists screened thousands of metallic compounds for superconductivity, the ability to carry electric current without resistance. But they overlooked at least one: magnesium diboride.

Earlier this year, Professor Jun Akimitsu of Aomaya Gakuin University in Japan announced that magnesium diboride has a critical temperature (the temperature below which a material exhibits superconductivity) of 39°K (Kelvin), almost twice as high as that of any other known metallic superconductor. The discovery generated excitement among physicists worldwide and was the topic of more than 80 papers at the March meeting of the American Physical Society.

“Superconductor researchers once believed that 30°K was the maximum possible critical temperature” says Martin Maley of the Los Alamos National Laboratory. One reason for all the excitement is the simplicity of magnesium diboride and other metallic materials. Although some ceramic compounds, known as high-temperature superconductors, exhibit superconductivity at temperatures approaching 100°K, they are complex materials whose crystals require the precise arrangement of four or more elements. Magnesium diboride, on the other hand, is a simple compound of two inexpensive elements in an easily characterized crystal.

Many labs have now fabricated magnesium diboride wires and films by exposing boron fibers to magnesium vapor. The usefulness of magnesium diboride as a superconductor remains to be determined, but its discovery has pointed researchers in a new direction. “Job satisfaction among superconductor researchers is at an all-time high” says Paul Canfield of Iowa State University. — Steve Miller [End quoting]

This is a good example of how wrong science can be about matters they're so sure of. Whenever you see it stated by modern-trained scientists that something is impossible, and then 80-some scientists jump on the bandwagon to write papers on the subject, like a pack of hounds chasing a rabbit, remember the bumblebee that science has long said couldn't possibly fly.

If you had a bank that credited $86,400 to your account each morning, never carried over the balance from day to day, allowed you to keep no cash in your account at the end of 24 hours, canceled out whatever part of that amount you failed to use, what would you do?

Try to spend every cent, of course! Well, everyone does have such a bank, and its name is TIME. Every morning it credits you with 86,400 seconds.

The next morning at the same hour it rules as lost whatever of this you failed to invest to good purpose. It carries over no balance and allows no overdrafts.

If you don't use the day's deposit, the loss is yours. There is no going back, no drawing against tomorrow.

How do you spend your daily surplus? Best wishes for an enormous return on your investment today. [End quoting]

WHAT DOES LOVE MEAN?

From the INTERNET, <para-discuss@tje.net>, 6/22/01: [quoting]

A group of professional people posed this question to a group of 4-to-8-year-olds: “What does love mean?” The answers they got were broader and deeper than anyone could have imagined.

LOVE IS: “When my grandmother got arthritis, she couldn't bend over and paint her toenails anymore. So my grandfather does it for her all the time, even when his hands got arthritis too. That's love.” — Rebecca, age 8

“When someone loves you, the way they say your name is different. You know that your name is safe in their mouth.”

— Billy, age 4

“Love is when you go out to eat and give somebody most of your french fries without making them give you any of theirs.”

— Chrissy, age 6

“Love is what makes you smile when you're tired.”

— Terri, age 4

“Love is when my mommy makes coffee for my daddy and she takes a sip before giving it to him, to make sure the taste is OK.”

— Danny, age 7

“Love is when you kiss all the time. Then when you get tired of kissing, you still want to be together and you talk more. My mommy and Daddy are like that. They look gross when they kiss.”

— Emily, age 8

“Love is what's in the room with you at Christmas if you stop opening presents and listen.”

— Bobby, age 5

“If you want to learn to love better, you should start with a friend who you hate.”

— Nikka, age 6

“When you tell someone something bad about yourself and you’re scared they won’t love you anymore. But then you get surprised because not only do they still love you, they love you even more.”
— Matthew, age 7

“There are two kinds of love. Our love. God’s love. But God makes both kinds of them.”
— Jenny, age 4

“Love is when you tell a guy you like his shirt, then he wears it every day.”
— Noelle, age 7

“Love is like a little old woman and a little old man who are still friends even after they know each other so well.”
— Tommy, age 6

“During my piano recital, I was on a stage and scared. I looked at all the people watching me and saw my daddy waving and smiling. He was the only one doing that. I wasn’t scared anymore.”
— Cindy, age 8

“Love is when mommy gives daddy the best piece of chicken.”
— Elaine, age 5

“Love is when mommy sees daddy smelly and sweaty and still says he is handsomer than Robert Redford.”
— Chris, age 8

“Love is when your puppy licks your face even after you left him alone all day.”
— MaryAnn, age 4

“Love cards like Valentine’s cards say stuff on them that we’d like to say ourselves, but we wouldn’t be caught dead saying.”
— Mike, age 8

If you judge people, you have no time to love them. — Mother Teresa [End quoting]

A NEW WORLD THAT MAY ALREADY BE HERE

From the INTERNET,
<AABCC@yahoo.com>, 6/21/01: [quoting]

In Brooklyn, New York, Chush is a school that caters to learning-disabled children. Some children remain in Chush for their entire school career, while others can be mainstreamed into conventional schools. At a Chush fund-raising dinner, the father of a Chush child delivered a speech that would never be forgotten by all who attended.

After extolling the school and its dedicated staff, he cried out: “Where is the perfection in my son, Shay? Everything God does is done with perfection. But my child cannot understand things as other children do. My child cannot remember facts and figures as other children do. Where is God’s perfection?”

The audience was shocked by the question, pained by the father’s anguish, and stilled by the piercing query.

“I believe,” the father answered, “that when God brings a child like this into the world, the perfection that He seeks is in the way people react to this child.” He then told the following story about his son, Shay:

One afternoon, Shay and his father walked past a park where some boys Shay knew were playing baseball. Shay asked, “Do you think they will let me play?” Shay’s father knew that his son was not at all athletic and that most boys would not want him on their team. But Shay’s father understood that if his son was chosen to play it would give him a comfortable sense of belonging. Shay’s father approached one of the boys in the field and asked if Shay could play. The boy looked around for guidance from his teammates. Getting none, he took matters into his own hands and said “We are losing by six runs and the game is in the eighth inning. I guess he can be on our team and we’ll try to put him up to bat in the ninth inning.”

Shay’s father was ecstatic as Shay smiled broadly. Shay was told to put on a glove and go out to play short center field. In the bottom of the eighth inning, Shay’s team scored a few runs but was still behind by three. In the bottom of the ninth inning, Shay’s team scored again, and now with two outs and the bases loaded, with the potential winning run on base, Shay was scheduled to be up.

Would the team actually let Shay bat at this juncture and give away their chance to win the game?

Surprisingly, Shay was given the bat. Everyone knew that it was all but impossible because Shay didn’t even know how to hold the bat properly, let alone hit with it. However, as Shay stepped up to the plate, the pitcher moved a few steps to lob the ball in softly so Shay should at least be able to make contact. The first pitch came and Shay swung clumsily and missed.

One of Shay’s teammates came up to Shay and together they held the bat and faced the pitcher waiting for the next pitch. The pitcher again took a few steps forward to toss the ball softly toward Shay. As the pitch came in, Shay and his teammate swung at the ball and together they hit a slow ground ball to the pitcher. The pitcher picked up the soft grounder and could easily have thrown the ball to the first baseman. Shay would have been out and that would have ended the game.

Instead, the pitcher took the ball and threw it on a high arc to right field, far beyond reach of the first baseman. Everyone started yelling: “Shay, run to first. Run to first”. Never in his life had Shay run to first. He scampered down the baseline, wide-eyed and startled.

By the time he reached first base, the right fielder had the ball. He could have thrown the ball to the second baseman who would tag out Shay, who was still running. But the right fielder understood what the pitcher’s intentions were, so threw the ball high and far over the third baseman’s head.

Everyone yelled “Run to second, run to second.” Shay ran towards second base as the runners ahead of him deliriously circled the bases towards home. As Shay reached second base, the opposing short stop ran to him, turned him in the direction of third base and shouted “Run to third.”

As Shay rounded third, the boys from both teams ran behind him screaming “Shay run home.” Shay ran home, stepped on home plate and all 18 boys lifted him on their shoulders and made him the hero, as he had just hit a grand slam and won the game for his team. “That day” said the father softly, with tears now rolling down his face, “those 18 boys reached their level of God’s perfection.”

Funny how this is so true! Funny how simple it is for people to trash different ways of living and believing and then wonder why the world is going to hell. Funny how people can send a thousand “jokes” through e-mail and they spread like wildfire, but when one starts sending messages regarding life choices, people think twice about sharing. Funny how the lewd, crude, vulgar, and obscene pass freely through cyberspace, but public discussion of morality is too often suppressed in school and the workplace. Funny how when you go to forward this message (if you choose to forward it), you will not send it to many on your address list because you’re not sure what they believe, or what they will think of you for sending it to them. Funny how we can be more worried about what other people think of us than what we think of ourselves.

The paradox of our time in history is that we have taller buildings, but shorter tempers; wider freeways, but narrower viewpoints; we spend more, but have less; we buy more, but enjoy it less. We have bigger houses and smaller families; more conveniences, but less time; we have more degrees, but less sense; more knowledge, but less judgment; more experts, but more problems; more medicine, but less wellness.

We have multiplied our possessions, but reduced our values. We talk too much, love too seldom, and hate too often. We’ve learned how to make a living, but not a life; we’ve added years to life, not life to years. We’ve been all the way to the Moon and back, but have trouble crossing the street to meet the new neighbor.

We’ve conquered outer space, but not inner space; we’ve cleaned up the air, but polluted the soul; we’ve split the atom, but not our prejudice. We have higher incomes, but lower morals; we’ve become long on quantity, but short on quality.

These are the times of tall men, and short character; steep profits, and shallow relationships. These are the times of world peace, but domestic warfare; more leisure, but less fun; more kinds of food, but less nutrition. These are days of two incomes, but more divorce; of fancier houses, but broken homes.

It is a time when there is much in the show window and nothing in the stockroom; a time when technology can bring this letter to you, and a time when you can choose either to make a difference or just hit delete. [End quoting]

It has sometimes been said that the level of a society’s COMPASSION is the critical key to forward progress—whether the society advances and expands to the next level of cultural expression, or sends itself back to the Stone Age to start all over again.

There has been so much interest in what Eric has to say that we decided to revisit a number of issues and ask him to answer some dangling questions. After all, the kind of connections which Eric makes are an entire level deeper than what we are used to hearing in the “conspiracy theory” arena. Moreover, we have noted, with some degree of surprise and “unveiling” over the past year or so, just who all have come forward to attack Eric’s work—groundlessly and hysterically (but never to his face). These ones know who they are and have, by their unprofessional and irrational actions, convincingly revealed just WHO they REALLY work for, while pretending to be presenters of Truth!

While it was my intent to focus the majority of the conversation on the present day, there were some unresolved issues from the past that likewise required clarification. On June 18, 2001, I had an opportunity to sit down with Eric Phelps, face-to-face, and prevail upon him to answer a few key questions. Let’s see what he has to say.

Martin: Our last interview—the “Black Pope” issue of The SPECTRUM—went around the world a few times. It’s also been on the Internet for quite some time. The manuscript of VATICAN ASSASSINS has been distributed, but still no book. What’s happening with the book? Why is it taking so long to come out in book form?

Phelps: The reason why it has taken a year to finalize the book is because there were several historical mistakes that were corrected by some of the readers of the manuscripts, the first and second manuscripts.

There was a Japanese individual named Toichi [Ryu] who corrected me on some of the Japanese history regarding the Emperors and the Shogans, for which I thanked him and made the necessary changes.

There were a few other similar changes that I had to make with regard to dates, places, and some times; just a polishing-up of the manuscript, so that it’s ready now.

We had one individual who was a Jesuit for 10 years. He got out of the Jesuit Order. He read the manuscript. He greatly approved of it. And he sent us a list of corrections, which we incorporated into the manuscript. So, there have been many people who have added their polishing touches to it, for which I am thankful.

[Editor’s note: Wisdom Books & Press (877) 280-2866 is accepting advance orders for VATICAN ASSASSINS, the 700-page book, which should be completed by the second or third week in July. The cost for this huge volume is only $34.95, which includes a gift CD-ROM containing 13 rare books mostly “missing” from the world’s library shelves.]

Martin: I would like to concentrate this conversation largely on the present day. But, before we get to the present, I would ask you to, once and for all, clarify something for our readers who may be still confused about The Protocols Of The Learned Elders Of Zion.

There have been many sources and many recitings of The Protocols. They’ve been called a fraud. They’ve been called a forgery, which means that there was a document that preceded it that it had to be based on. Everyone seems to point to the Jews, or the Khazars, as the authors of The Protocols, and yet your research indicates otherwise.

Who, in your opinion, authored The Protocols Of The Learned Elders Of Zion?

Phelps: Cardinal Bea was the confessor of Pope Pius XII (Hitler’s Pope), a very powerful Jesuit and Cardinal within the Vatican. According to Alberto Rivera, when speaking with Cardinal Bea, Cardinal Bea said to him that The Protocols were written by Jews loyal to the Pope.

I do not believe Jews wrote The Protocols. I do not believe Alberto Rivera was told the whole story, because he did not have a “need to know”. Withholding information has always been standard procedure for the Jesuits.

I believe men who were loyal to the Pope wrote The Protocols, and the men who were loyal to the Pope who wrote The Protocols were the Jesuits, according to Leo Lehmann—the ex-Irish Catholic priest who became converted to Christ and set-up the mission there in New York City, Converted Catholics For Christ. He said that the Jesuits wrote The Protocols, and that this is no new attempt of deception, based on their document that they wrote concerning their attack on the Jansenists, which was called The Secrets Of The Elders Of Bourg-Fontaine.

So, the Jesuits wrote The Protocols like they wrote The Secrets Of The Elders Of Bourg-Fontaine, and the language of The Protocols is identical to The Secret Meeting At Cheiri [1825].

However, I have a quotation from a very brilliant and Godly, born-again, Bible-believing, Irish Roman Catholic priest I referred to a moment ago. He wrote a book entitled Behind The Dictators, first written in 1942, and there were two editions after that. I have the 1945 edition. Dr. Leo Lehmann says that the Jesuits wrote The Protocols. But before I get into that, I would just like to read to you who Dr. L. H. Lehmann was.

“He was born in Dublin, Ireland, and received his primary education there from the nuns and christian brothers. He began his study for the priesthood at Mungret College, Limerick, and at All Hallows College, Dublin. In 1918, he went to finish his theological studies at the University of Propaganda Fide in Rome, where he was ordained a priest in 1921. He later studied at New York University from which he received the degree of M.A.

“After four years as a priest in Cape Town, South Africa, Dr. Lehmann was recalled to Rome to continue negotiations at the Vatican courts concerning a legal case in which he had been engaged, while a student in Rome, on behalf of many American bishops and priests against the Jesuits. He later returned to South Africa, but was transferred to the United States in 1927 and appointed pastor in Gainesville, the university city of Florida. Dr. Lehmann is now director of Christ’s Mission in New York City and Editor-In-Chief of The Converted Catholic magazine.”

So, here is a born-again, Bible-believing man who had been an Irish priest, who had run-ins with the Jesuits, who knew EXACTLY what they were all about. When you’re involved in litigation within the Vatican, you know the law. And you know the history of who you are opposing.

Here is what he had to say about the origin of The Protocols. This is found in his book, Behind The Dictators, on page 15:

“Although first published in Russia in 1903, The Protocols Of [The Learned Elders Of] Zion had their origin in France and date from the Dreyfus Affair, of which the Jesuits were the chief instigators. They were planned also first to take effect in France, by the overthrow

Wounded In The house of My friends

An explosive, detailed, shocking, historical account of the long-suppressed history of the Jesuit Order, from 1540 to the present, and their involvement behind the scenes manipulating the world through the Pope, via the Jesuit's General, the "Black" Pope—the most powerful man in the world.

If you were astonished by the front-page story in the May 2000 issue of The SPECTRUM titled: The Most Powerful Man In The World? The "Black" Pope: Count Hans Kolvenbach—The Jesuit's General, then you won't want to miss this in-depth study of perhaps the greatest ongoing conspiracy the world has ever known. Author Eric Phelps goes into countless details and fully documented facts concerning the "dark" side of the Vatican's un-godly history.

A 700-page, 8½" X 11" embossed paperback, with over 100 rare photographs AND a Gift CD-ROM with 13 rare, out-of-print books used in the researching of Vatican Assassins.

of the 'Judaic-Masonic' government of the French Republic. But the discovery of the gigantic fraud of Leo Taxil, who had been openly supported by the Jesuits, the concluding of the Franco-Russian alliance, along with the Vatican's difficulties with the French government at that time, made it more opportune to have them appear first in Russia.

"These Protocols of supposedly Jewish leaders are not the first documents of their kind fabricated by the Jesuits.

"For over a hundred years before these Protocols appeared, the Jesuits had continued to make use of a similar fraud called The Secrets Of The Elders Of Bourg-Fontaine against Jansenism—an anti-Jesuit French Catholic movement among the secular clergy."

Phelps: I might also add that the Jansenists were what we would call, really, Catholic Calvinists. They believed in the sovereignty of God. They believed in justification by faith. They believed in many Biblical doctrines, and therefore the Jesuits hated them and later got the Pope to issue a Bull against them.

The Jesuits so hated the Jansenists, of which Blaise Pascal was one, that they concocted this document, The Secrets Of The Elders Of Bourg-Fontaine, against them.

Martin: What year was this?

Phelps: This was in the 1600s, I believe, in France. It may have been the late 1600s, because Blaise Pascal wrote his Provincial Letters in the later 1600s.

[Editor's note: Eric brings to our attention a VERY interesting person here, much like the great Nikola Tesla of a few hundred years later. Blaise Pascal, 1623-62, was a great mathematician, physicist, theologian, and man-of-letters, born in Clermont-Ferrand, France. In 1647 he invented a calculating machine, and later the barometer, the hydraulic press, and the syringe. Until 1654 he spent his time between mathematics (remember Pascal's triangle and other intriguing mathematical and geometric discoveries?) and the social round in Paris, but a mystical experience that year led him to join his sister, who was a member of the Jansenist convent at Port-Royal, where he defended Jansenism against the Jesuits in Lettres Provinciales, 1656-7.]

Now, I'll go back to my reading:

"The analogy between the two forgeries is perfect—the secret assemblage in the forest of Bourg-Fontaine; the plan of the 'conspirators' to destroy the Papacy and establish religious tolerance among all nations; the alleged plot against Throne and Altar, and the setting up of a world-government in opposition to the Catholic Church. There is the same dramatization of the negative pole of the historic evolution of the world, in order to bring out, by contrast, the positive Christian [Catholic] pole, around which all conservative forces—the monarchy, the aristocracy, the army, the clergy—must gather to save the world from Satan's onslaught."

Phelps: Is this not identical to The Protocols? Except in The Protocols, it's Communism. Both documents want a world government, under someone other than the Pope. So, it betrays the Jesuit hand throughout, in The Protocols, based upon The Secrets Of The Elders Of Bourge-Fontaine; and furthermore, after this document, The Secrets Of the Elders of Bourge-Fontaine, the next major document that we have is Leone's The Jesuit Conspiracy—The Secret Plan Of The Order, which was published in 1848.

In this document, Jesuit Leone was 19 years old and a novitiate in Cheiri, Italy, where he, when he was snooping around in a back room, became trapped when Jesuit General Roothaan and his provincials came in another room and he listened to this conversation between the General and his provincials—in the mid-1830s, around 1834—and while he was hiding, he was taking notes.

They betray that the Jesuit General was intent upon setting-up a World Government by controlling the Roman Catholic hierarchy, the Pope, all the monarchies, and thus all the governments of the world. And that is in Leone's great work, The Jesuit Conspiracy, published in 1848.

It was published in several languages. It went all throughout Europe, which contributed to the people rising-up against the power of the Jesuits in 1848, with the Second French Revolution. But that revolution was controlled, the leadership of it was controlled, and the end result was more power for the Jesuit Order in Europe.

Martin: You mention that The Protocols were an outgrowth of the Dreyfus Affair [1890s]. And prior to that we have the Council of Trent [twenty-five sessions of the Council of Trent from 1545-1563]. Can you put this in perspective?

Phelps: Ok. The Jesuits were busy creating Jewish hatred in Germany and in France in the late 1800s. There was a man referred to in Ridpath's Universal History Of the World—I only found this here—he called his work "the solution to the Jewish question". Hitler came along, later, and had the FINAL solution to the Jewish question. So, they were fomenting anti-Jewish hatred in Germany, and they were fomenting anti-Jewish hatred in France.

Martin: Who are they?

The Indigo Children

The New Kids Have Arrived

by Lee Carroll & Jan Tober

(Featured interview in the March 2000 issue of The SPECTRUM.)

The "Indigo Child" is a boy or girl who displays a new and unusual set of psychological attributes, revealing a pattern of behavior generally undocumented before. This pattern has singularly unique factors that call for parents and teachers to change their treatment and upbringing of these kids to assist them in achieving balance and harmony in their lives, and to help them avoid frustration.

In this groundbreaking book, international authors and lecturers Lee Carroll and Jan Tober answer many of the often-puzzling questions surrounding Indigo Children, such as:

- Can we really be seeing human evolution in kids today?
- Are these kids smarter than we were at their age?
- How come a lot of our children today seem to be "system busters"?
- Why are so many of our brightest kids being diagnosed with Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD)?
- Are there proven, working alternatives to Ritalin?

Throughout this work, Carroll and Tober bring together some very fine minds (doctors, educators, psychologists, and more) who shed light on the Indigo Child phenomenon. These children are truly special, representing a great percentage of all the kids being born today on a worldwide basis. They come in "knowing" who they are—so they must be recognized, appreciated for their exceptional qualities, and guided with love and care.

Al Bielek on CD-ROM

What you get on this CD-ROM is the most in-depth compilation of interviews with survivors of the Philadelphia Experiment and Montauk Project to date on one computer CD.

The information on this CD comes from the memories of those who were interviewed. Because these projects are so secretive, gaining hard evidence is nearly impossible. However, that doesn't mean the projects never happened.

This information is for those who want to pursue and know the truth. Sometimes, finding the truth becomes elusive. There are many out there who do not want you to know the truth about these projects. Use your own judgment as you hear the words of these survivors.

As you follow this story, use this information as the beginning resource to hopefully, get you on the right track.

The five people featured on this CD all testify that they worked with Al at the Montauk Project, and some even remember him as Ed Cameron during the Philadelphia Experiment.

Children Of The Matrix

How an interdimensional race has controlled the world for thousands of years—and still does!

We are born into a world controlled by unseen forces that have plagued and manipulated humanity for thousands of years. No, this is no script from a Hollywood movie. It is happening to you NOW.

You may look around and think that what you see is "real". But in truth you are living in an illusion—an illusion designed to keep you in a mental, emotional, and spiritual prison cell.

David Icke exposes these forces and their methods of human control and he reveals a fantastic web of global manipulation, orchestrated by forces beyond this physical realm.

He exposes the hidden bloodlines, through which other-dimensional entities live and operate unseen among us; and he shows how the bloodlines of the royal, political, and economic rulers of today are the same as those who ruled as the kings and queens of ancient times.

Icke takes the story on from his highly acclaimed And The Truth Shall Set You Free and The Biggest Secret, and he lifts still further the veil of secrecy that has maintained humanity in manipulated ignorance for so long.

The truth is not only out there.

The Biggest Secret

by David Icke

The blockbuster of all blockbusters! With stunning information never before released on the murder of Diana, Princess of Wales.

David Icke's most powerful and explosive book to date includes the astonishing background to the murder of Diana, Princess of Wales. Every man, woman, and child on the planet is affected by the stunning information that Icke exposes. He reveals in documented detail how the same interconnecting bloodlines have controlled the planet for thousands of years. How they created all the major religions and suppressed the spiritual and esoteric knowledge that will set humanity free from its mental and emotional prisons. It includes a devastating exposé of the true origins of Christianity and the other major religions, and documents suppressed science, which explains why the world is facing a time of incredible change and transformation. The Biggest Secret also exposes the true and astonishing background to the British Royal Family and, through enormous research and unique contacts, Icke reveals how and why Diana, Princess of Wales, was murdered in Paris in 1997. This includes information from a close confidant of Diana for nine years, which has never before been made public.

The Biggest Secret is a unique book and is quite rightly dubbed: "The book that will change the world." No one who reads it will ever be the same again.

Phelps: The Jesuits. The Jesuits were fomenting this in both countries because, at this time, the Jesuits had been expelled from Germany in 1872, and they had been expelled from France in 1880. So now they're going to go after the Jews through their agents in these two countries.

In France, they started the Dreyfus Affair, and that was in the 1890s. The Dreyfus Affair had several purposes. It was to create anti-Semitism—anti-Jewish hatred in France.

I hate to use the word anti-Semitism. There are many Semites other than Jews. And it was also calculated to create war with Germany, because Captain Dreyfus was accused of treason in handing secrets over to the German government. It was all a frame.

He was completely framed. He was sent to Devil's Island for 10 years, and suffered the horrible tortures of Devil's Island for that period of time. And then, later, when he was brought back, he was vindicated and found "not guilty", and the Jesuits were blamed for having done this. So this became universally known in France, which ultimately caused the Jesuits to be expelled, again, in 1901.

The Dreyfus Affair is a major European conspiracy with the Jesuit hand, against the Jews, attempting to foment a war between France and Germany. Because, remember, the French hated the Germans as a result of the trouncing that they got in the Franco-Prussian War of 1870. And they wanted vengeance for that.

So, we play on the people's vengeance, create this issue between Germany and France, we use the Jews to do it so we can get some anti-Jewish fervor going, which ultimately manifests itself in 1942 with the Vichy government in France, when they help the Nazis round-up all the Jews in France and send them to Auschwitz.

And it's at that time, in 1942, in the Petain, that the Jesuits were formally readmitted into France. That's the significance of the Dreyfus Affair.

Martin: And what is the significance of the Council of Trent in relation to all of these?

Phelps: The Council of Trent puts heretics—which us Bible-believers are, all Protestants and all Jews—puts all of us under more than 100 curses because of what we believe:

We believe in justification by faith.

"Accursed be all who believe in justification by faith."

We believe that Baptism is simply an outward sign of salvation, and that it is not necessary for salvation.

"Accursed be all those who believe that."

We believe that, when we eat of the Lord's supper, the bread and the wine are NOT the literal body and blood of Christ, as the Council of Trent teaches, therefore we are accursed because we do not believe in transubstantiation.

And we also believe that man has a right to his own judgment. He has a right to read the Bible and make his own decisions as to what it means; that the Bible should be in the language of the people, because this the foundation of freedom of conscience, freedom of speech, and freedom of the press.

All of these things in the 4th session of the Council of Trent are c o n d e m n e d , anybody who believes in: freedom of speech, and freedom of conscience, and freedom of the press.

So, those maxims of the Council of Trent are brought into The Protocols when The Protocols condemn freedom of conscience; they condemn freedom of the press; they condemn national governments and national sovereignty.

You see, Bible-believers, we believe in national sovereignty.

We do not believe in World Government.

We believe America should be governed by Americans.

We believe Japan should be governed by Japanese, etc.

We do not believe, we do not want, a European Union.

We do not want a combination of governments under Centralized Government.

We believe in national sovereignties, which is the reason why the South seceded and left the United States, because they wanted to set-up their own national sovereignty; it was a Protestant maxim upon which they acted.

Ok, so Trent effects The Protocols. Trent effects The Secrets Of The Elders Of Bourgeois-Fontaine. Trent effects The Secret Plan, written by Leone in 1848. And hence, now we have the doctrines of Communism effecting Marx and his Communist Manifesto, because Marx was tutored in the British Museum BY JESUITS.

Martin: Who was behind the Council of Trent, The Secret Plan, etc. Who were the men behind these, historically?

Phelps: Well, Diego Laynez went on to be the Jesuit General after Loyola; Laynez was the second Jesuit General. He was the MASTER-MIND of the Council of Trent. Laynez was a Jesuit by allegiance, and a Jew by race. This is very important. And it's the result of Laynez being a Jew, when this was brought to light in 1593, that the Order passed a statute that NO

Born at Ingolstadt, Germany, in the heart of Roman Catholic Bavaria, from which originated the Order's Thirty Years' War (1618-1648), Weishaupt was educated by the Jesuits. In 1775 he became a professor of the Vatican's murderous Canon Law, the evil Council of Trent. Since the Pope's Bull of Suppression was not enforced in Lutheran Germany, the Order flourished, as Weishaupt established the Illuminati in 1776 and joined the Grand Orient Masonic Lodge in 1777. He united the magnificent financial empire of the Masonic Jewish House of Rothschild with the opulence of the international and secret, anti-Jewish race, Gentile Society of Jesus.

Secret Societies And Subversive Movements, Nesta H. Webster (South Pasadena, California: Emissary Publications, 1988; originally published in 1924).

Jesuit Adam Weishaupt, 1748 – 1811
Founder of the Illuminati, 1776

JEW COULD EVER BE IN THE JESUIT ORDER AGAIN. This is VERY important. This is why Weishaupt was not a Jew. It was against the constitutions of the Order for a Jew to be in the Order.

Martin: And what relation does Weishaupt have to all of this?

Phelps: Weishaupt was the promoter of the Illuminati, with the House of Rothschild, for the punishment of the Catholic monarchs of Europe, and the Pope, for suppressing the Jesuit Order.

So, Weishaupt did not act alone. Weishaupt was under the supervision, at least initially, of Jesuit General Ricci, who died in 1775 in Italy. Weishaupt was under orders.

Martin: Who is Jesuit General Roothaan?

Phelps: Jesuit General Roothaan was the General of the Society from the 1830s to the mid-1850s. Jesuit General Roothaan was the one who oversaw The Secret Plan At Chieri, of which Leone overheard and then wrote about.

Martin: So this is KEY to what we are talking about?

Phelps: Extremely key.

Martin: And who is Peter Beckx?

Phelps: Peter Beckx was the Jesuit General in the late 1800s and early 1900s. He was the one who gave the order and oversaw the sinking of the Titanic.

Martin: Let's talk about that now. Why have you drawn the historical conclusion that the Jesuits sank the Titanic?

Phelps: Because they benefited. And they were present, on site, on the ship, prior to it's sinking. When we have a powerful organization that is working together, such as the Jesuit Order, and the power that they had prior to their suppression, and that they had never changed, and they are still working toward a World Government under the Pope, we look for the Jesuit Order in these national crises that arise—and in this issue, the Titanic.

We must ask the question: Even though we can't place where they are at the moment, did the Jesuit Order benefit from this? And the answer is: Yes, they did.

They benefited because it paved the way for the establishment of the Federal Reserve Bank, which they own and control, by proxy, through the Knights of Malta, with their various trusts and so on. They never own anything outright; they always own it through a trusted third party.

How do we know that the Jesuits control the Federal Reserve Bank? Because the Federal Reserve Bank was used to finance the second "Thirty Years War"—from 1914 to 1945—in which everything that transpired fell out for the benefit of the Vatican, everything.

Then, of course, when we discover that the most powerful man in Ireland, the Jesuit Provincial Francis M. Browne, was on the Titanic taking pictures of all those who would be going down. And then, right before it departs Queenstown, Ireland, to set out for the North Sea, "the lucky priest departed off the ship" in the words of Martin Sheen, who narrated Secrets Of The Titanic.

It was more than luck; it was planned that way. Martin Sheen has been to the Jesuit Novitiate at St. Jacques, in Warnersville, Pennsylvania. Martin Sheen is a bosom buddy of the Jesuits.

The men who went down were wealthy Jews who were resisting the establishment of a centralized bank in America, particularly John Jacob Astor, who was a personal friend of Supreme Court Justice Louis Brandeis. And Brandeis greatly resisted the establishment of the central bank.

Martin: Astor, Guggenheim, and Straus were three Jewish men who went down with the Titanic. Why do you focus so much of

Jesuit "Father" Francis M. Browne, 1912 Provincial of the Irish Province of The Society of Jesus

Secrets Of The Titanic, (National Geographic, 1986) Video, 60 minutes.

your attention on Astor?

Phelps: Astor was the wealthiest Jew in the world, some say the wealthiest man in the world. But he was, most definitely, the wealthiest Jew. He did not have more money than the Pope. But he was the wealthiest man in the world and he was using his wealth NOT in accord with the Jesuit Order.

Now, later, his son, John Jacob Astor IV, became part of the money trust, which can be found on the Internet; and so the Jesuits had access, now, to the Astor fortune. They control it now. But, at that time, they got rid of Astor because they wanted his fortune, and they wanted to end his resistance to the establishment of a national bank. And they do this pursuant to The Secret Instructions, that they will take the fortunes of widows and other people who resist them.

And that is what they did in Eugene Sue's The Wandering Jew. That story revolves around a French Protestant family, the Renneponsts, and the Jesuits killing-off every member of the Rennepont family, so that they can have the fortune when it would be opened up at a certain day, at a certain time in Paris. And the man who held the fortune in trust was a Jew. So, that's why they got rid of Astor.

Martin: What was that quote from the movie JFK about the Titanic?

Phelps: I believe Oliver Stone was overseen by the Jesuits, who control Hollywood. And, therefore, a lot of the lines were authored by Jesuits.

One of the lines authored by the Jesuits was when Garrison was sitting at the table and he said: "People, we've got to start thinking differently. We've got to start thinking like the CIA. White is black, and black is white."

That is DIRECTLY from Ignatius Loyola's Spiritual Exercises. [Ignatius Loyola was the founder of the Jesuit Order in 1540.] When he tells the people that they believe the hierarchical Catholic Church and believe white is black and black is white, if the hierarchy says so. That's right out of the Spiritual Exercises.

Well then, when one of the associates, Bill, of Garrison's staff, is approached by an FBI agent, and the FBI agent is trying to win him over to their side, that FBI agent says: "There's going to be millions of people who are going to die. Besides, you've got to get away from Garrison. He's going down with the Titanic."

That is a clue, right there, that the same men who were behind the Kennedy assassination, attempting to frustrate Garrison's investigation, were the same men who sunk the Titanic.

Martin: I'm looking at the front-page headline from a little-known rag-sheet, and the current headline that I'm reading says: "Khazarian Zionists Are The Anti-Christ." Now, what can you explain to our readers about who might be behind such a headline, and what is the AGENDA of such a headline?

Colonel John Jacob Astor, 1912

Astor was a Jewish Freemason and the richest man in the world other than the Roman Papal Caesar in the Vatican Palace.

Secrets Of The Titanic, (National Geographic, 1986) Video, 60 minutes.

[Editor's note: Some of you readers who may be familiar with the publication should know that Rick is referring to the June 13, 2001 issue of the CONTACT newspaper.]

Phelps: We know that the Jesuits, in their agendas, hate the Jews.

And you add: "Eric, you say that the Jesuits set up Zionist Israel."

The Jesuits control the Masonic Jewish Zionists who control Zionist Israel. They HATE the Jewish race. And when I speak of Jews, I'm not speaking of Judaism. I'm not speaking of their evil religion, that openly and notoriously rejects Jesus as the Messiah; even Josephus realized Jesus was the Messiah.

I'm talking about the RACE. And when I'm speaking of the Jewish race, I'm speaking of the descendants of Jacob, through his 12 sons, and their physical descendants. That's what I mean when I speak of the Jews.

Many, many Orthodoxes today believe there is no such thing as the Jewish race. They are in error about that, because in Romans IX, X, & XI, it speaks specifically about the Jewish race, that Christ was a Jew; that Christ spoke in John, Chapter IV, we know whom we worship for salvation is of the Jews.

So, he identified himself as a Jew. The Apostle Paul identified himself as a Hebrew of Hebrews, an Israelite, etc. So the terms Jew, Israelite, and Hebrew are all synonymous terms; they are the physical, racial descendants of Jacob. And, therefore, the Abraham covenant and promises apply to them, and they have not been fulfilled to this day. They are in the great diaspora—they are in the great dispersion.

And so, Satan, not wanting them to inherit these promises, has set-out to destroy the Jewish race any way he possibly can. And his greatest tool in the destruction of the Jewish race is the Jesuit Order.

Martin: Are you saying that this headline that I just read to you has an agenda behind it?

Phelps: Absolutely.

Martin: And what is that agenda?

Phelps: The agenda is to create world-wide anti-Jewish fury, in every nation of the world, so as to drive all the Jews back to Israel for their final annihilation when the Jesuits bring in the armies of the Earth and when the anti-Christ, the risen Pope, brings in the armies of the Earth in his last, mad attempt to destroy all of the Jews, so that they cannot inherit the promises given to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Martin: If there is an intelligence community behind this publication, it's easy enough to draw the conclusion, from what you're saying, that the Jesuits, who control the intelligence community, would be specifically behind this agenda to foment hate and agitation against the Jewish race.

Phelps: Absolutely. Especially the American Jews, because there are more American Jews, here in this country, than there are in Israel. And one of their agendas in the next 10-20 years is to create anti-Jewish fury, and to drive the American Jews back to Israel, killing millions of them, as well, here, because they're planning to bring their Roman Catholic Fascist dictator to power—just like they did with Hitler in Germany; just like they did with Stalin in Russia; just like they did with Franco in Spain; just like they did with Mussolini in Italy. They have the same exact agenda here. They're going to do it through the Republican, "New Right" party, of which George Bush is now the head.

Martin: At one point, you made a comment privately concerning the Right-Wing militia movement possibly being influenced with another agenda. Can you talk about that?

I'll just say up-front that this is going to strike at the heart of many people's belief system. And some may have difficulty with what you say.

Phelps: The Right-Wing militia groups—the posse comitatus, etc., Ku Klux Klan, the Minutemen, they all have one thing in common: they all hate the Jews. That puts up a flag for me. And if they all hate the Jews, that tells me that they have been imbibed, or indoctrinated, with hatred for the Jews. They all hate the Jews; and as an aside, so do the Black Moslems [Muslims]. Louis Farrakhan openly hands-out The Protocols Of The Learned Elders Of Zion and blames all our problems, and all the Black man's problems, on the Jews.

So, the Right-Wing posse comitatus groups are all controlled by the Jesuits because they are all anti-Jew, and THEY HAVE NOTHING TO SAY ABOUT THE JESUIT ORDER. NOTHING!

Martin: Wouldn't you say that most of the groups just don't have a clue about the Jesuit Order?

Phelps: Not their leadership. A lot of these groups have Catholics in them. There's not a Catholic around who doesn't know the power of the Jesuit Order, in their educational power, and the power of government.

We have Drinin in Congress; we have McLaughlin who was writing speeches for Nixon for $35,000 a year. We have Jesuits all throughout the government. There's not any intelligent Roman Catholic who's involved in these Right-Wing Movements who doesn't know the power of the Jesuits.

THEY DON'T WANT TO TALK ABOUT THEM. JUST LIKE THE PRESS WON'T TALK ABOUT THEM.

So, this Timothy McVeigh thing—is that what we're leading to?

Martin: Well, no, but go ahead.

Phelps: This Timothy McVeigh thing—here's another Irish Roman Catholic sacrificed, just like Kennedy, for the sake of attempting to create a national backlash or agitation against the Right-Wing Movement people, because a lot of the Right-Wing Movement people are true patriots who want their liberty; they want to maintain their guns; they want freedom to educate their children as they wish; they're decent people, but they are not aware that the leadership is controlled by the Vatican.

So, the Jesuits in control of Clinton fomented the Oklahoma City bombing to justify going after these Right-Wing, conservative, many of them Bible-believing, people in this movement, for their round-up and extermination. But it didn't quite work.

So, they imploded the building. They got rid of Timothy McVeigh. That whole execution could have been stayed with one phone call from the Archbishop of New York to the Bishop of Oklahoma City, and he wouldn't do it.

That was the purpose of the Oklahoma City bombing, the creation of anti-Right-Wing feeling. And the people at the top, controlling the Right-Wing organizations, will betray their own people, just exactly as the White Russians were betrayed during the Communist Revolution from 1917-1922.

Their own leadership will betray them—just as Hitler betrayed his armies to the East, cut-off supplies, would not allow them to take Moscow, froze them in the snows of Russia; just as Napoleon betrayed his armies in the East, abandoned 250,000 men; that's exactly what's going to be done to our Right-Wing patriotic people who are the only bulwark against tyranny in this country today.

Martin: We're almost to the present day. But, before we get to the present day, let's stop for a minute, once again, and talk about JFK's assassination. I'm going to mention a few names, and then let's talk about the Jesuit influence behind that assassination and the reasons why.

John McCone, head of the CIA; Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York; Henry Luce; Carthe DeLouche; and E. Howard Hunt. Why are these names important? What are their relationships? And WHY would you point the finger at someone like the Archbishop of New York, Cardinal Spellman, of all people, to place the responsibility for the JFK assassination directly at the Vatican? How can you justify that?

Phelps: We know we're looking at a conspiracy, so we ask the question, again: Who benefits? Who benefited from the death of JFK? Well, we know, according to the works of the great Fletcher Prouty, JFK was going to end the Vietnam War in 1965. We also know

Cardinal Spellman, Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem, Knight of Malta and Press Lord Henry Luce, 1960

President Diem, backed by the controlled Press of Henry Luce, was Spellman's Crusader during the Vietnam War, while his brother was the Cardinal's Grand Inquisitor, the Chief of the Secret Police. Diem, Jesuit-trained in an American Catholic University, was a fascist and greatly persecuted the Buddhists for which he was ultimately murdered. Spellman sought to continue the Black Pope's crusade; Kennedy attempted to end it. Three weeks after Diem's death, President Kennedy was assassinated and the Vietnam War raged for over ten years. Spellman, calling American troops "the soldiers of Christ" (the Pope), killed over two million "heretics". The Jesuits' Federal Reserve Bank extended $220 billion in credit created out of "thin air" to the U.S. Congress. The Papal Caesar's CIA/KGB Intelligence Community was perfected, and the Italian Roman Catholic Mafia Dons got their massive drug trade, further destroying our Protestant civilization and government. In this picture alone we see the POWER and the motive to kill President John F. Kennedy.

Luce And His Empire, W. A. Swanberg (New York: Charles Scribner's Sons, 1972).

that JFK was going to end the reign of the CIA, and all of their military, covert operations were going to be handed-over to the Army Chiefs of Staff. Therefore, the CIA benefited, and those who wanted the Vietnam War benefited.

We now must ask the question: Who wanted the Vietnam War? Well, we know that many factions did, but we see, openly and in our face, Cardinal Spellman wanted the Vietnam War. Cardinal Spellman's man in Vietnam was Diem. Diem was a fascist Roman Catholic, persecuting the Buddhists. And his brother was head of the Secret Police. So, Diem was Cardinal Spellman's man in Vietnam. Diem was assassinated because Kennedy withdrew the CIA representative out of Saigon.

The other thing is, Cardinal Spellman, throughout the Vietnam War, would travel over there at the war-front and he'd call the soldiers the "soldiers of Christ", according to Avro Manhattan, in his great work Vietnam: Why Did We Go? So, Cardinal Spellman wanted the Vietnam War, and if Cardinal Spellman wanted the Vietnam War, the Pope wanted the Vietnam War, and if the Pope wanted the Vietnam War, the Black Pope wanted the Vietnam War, the Jesuit General.

Martin: Who was?

Phelps: Jean Baptiste Janssens. He died in 1964. From 1964 to 1983 or so, it was Pedro Arrupe.

Martin: So you're saying that Janssens had an agenda.

Phelps: Jean Baptist Janssens had an agenda, and that agenda was to annihilate as many Buddhists as possible, because the Buddhists have always been the enemies of the Jesuits. When the Jesuits took Japan in 1873, what did they do? They outlawed, they made it so that the government of Japan would not support the Buddhist religion anymore. Buddhism has ceased to be the state religion. So they've always been the enemy of the Buddhists.

The other thing about the Vietnam War is that it created a $220 billion dollar debt for the American people, and that debt was incurred by the Congress, who borrowed that money from the Jesuits' Federal Reserve Bank.

So the Jesuits made big money. They killed lots of "heretics". They preserved the CIA.

Because, remember: the CIA was initially founded and set-up by one particular man, Reinhard Gehlen, who was a Nazi General, who was Hitler's most sinister General. And so, he incorporated all of the Nazi intelligence apparatus into the CIA in the West. It was also incorporated into the KGB in the East. They were called "Freedom Fighters"; they were really working for the KGB, these SS, Nazi men. If the Jesuit General controlled the KGB, he controls the CIA.

Kennedy was getting in the way. Kennedy also did not want the voucher system for public schools, of which George Bush is a great promoter. The Vatican wants the American taxpayer to pay for Catholic schools because, remember, Roman Catholicism, left to itself, without government support, crumbles. It has nothing to offer. There is no freedom of speech, no freedom of press.

THE CATHOLIC PEOPLE DON'T OWN ONE SQUARE FOOT OF CHURCH PROPERTY. THEY DON'T OWN ONE BRICK OF THEIR CHURCHES. IT'S ALL OWNED BY THE HEIRARCHY.

They are simply to obey their hierarchy, and in America that's not good enough. Catholic people don't want that in America. Catholic people, for the most part, enjoy freedom of press, and freedom of speech, and freedom to make a profit; all of those things the Vatican does not want. A case in point is all of South America and Central America.

Martin: Well, why do you think—other than the fact that there have been 100-200 people killed who knew anything about the JFK assassination—why do you think it's never come out?

Phelps: Because the American branch of the Knights of Malta, of which McCone was a member, Henry Luce was a member, William F. Buckley was a member, Lee Iacocca was a member, Cartha DeLoach of the FBI was a member, etc. They control the press! And they controlled CBS, at that time, with a man named Frank Shakespeare, who was a Knight of Malta. The Knights control ABC, CBS, and NBC, and Time/Life; that's why Time/Life attempted to destroy the Zapruder film.

I might also add, throughout the publication of "The Black Pope" interview we did back in May 2000, and my first two manuscripts since that time, there has not been one Roman Catholic who has emailed me, or attempted to contact me in any way, denying that Cardinal Spellman did this; not one. But we have several clandestine Jesuits who are in complete agreement, and who admit that this is exactly what was done.

Martin: Let me ask you about Opus Dei. We've been accused of hiding Opus Dei in the background as being the real power behind the Vatican, and therefore, the power over the Jesuits. Have we conspired to withhold the mention of Opus Dei in our discussions?

Phelps: No. Opus Dei is a subordinate organization to the Pope, who is in control of the Knights of Malta, and therefore there are Knights of Malta in Opus Dei.

The Jesuits control Opus Dei through the hierarchy of the Pope and through the Knights of Malta. Opus Dei is composed of prominent Roman Catholic businessmen and politicians who have given themselves over to "God's work"—that's what Opus Dei means—for

Jean-Baptiste Janssens
Twenty-Seventh Superior General of the Society of Jesus
1946 - 1964

This Black Pope, during the Cold War waged against the world's "heretics" and "liberals" pursuant to the evil Council of Trent, controlled the CIA in the West and the KGB in the East. He gave the order to execute President Kennedy for attempting to end the Papal Caesar's Cold War, including the war in Vietnam, before the Inquisition's International Intelligence Community had been completed and perfected.

The Saturday Evening Post, "The Pope's Commandos", Ernest O. Hauser, January 17, 1959.

making the Pope the Universal Monarch of the world, ruling the world from Solomon's rebuilt temple in Jerusalem.

An example of this is the former head of the FBI, Louis Freeh, was a member of Opus Dei.

And so, we now understand the Waco incident, where those White Protestants were killed; it was the work of the Opus Dei. And we also have to remember that the sharpshooter, one of them there, was a Japanese Roman Catholic, Lon Horiuchi.

But Opus Dei is determined to create a World Government under the Pope. Opus Dei was created in the 20th Century, whereas the Knights of Malta were created in the 11th Century, and the Jesuits were created in the 16th Century, in 1540, with Ignatius Loyola.

So, the super-secret society of the Jesuit Order, in control of the Knights of Malta, were in existence nearly 500 years before Opus Dei. Opus Dei, like the Knights of Columbus, is a subordinate organization to the Jesuit Order.

Martin: Ok, now that we have some of these things put temporarily to rest—until the book comes out!—let's talk about the present day.

There are a few things happening that everyone needs to be aware of and concerned about. I'll just mention a few countries, and then we can begin: Israel, Cuba, China, North Africa, and Japan. What's happening with our relationship with these countries? How are we going to be sucked-in to a conflict? And what are the ramifications going to be? Lines in the sand are being drawn, alliances are being created between powerful nations, and why should we be concerned about that?

That's a big question.

Phelps: That's a big question. I'll try to deal with a piece at a time, if I may.

I'm going to start with the 14th Amendment American Empire that was established in 1868 after the Jesuit Order destroyed the Federal Republic or the Confederate Republic of sovereign nation states that Washington established in 1789.

The Jesuits have used the 14th Amendment American Empire to restore the temporal power of the Pope over all nations around the world for the last 100 years. And that's why they have garrisoned American troops throughout the world. That's why they have laid upon us an iniquitous and sinful federal income tax, with which they finance these crusades around the world.

So, their American Empire has served them well in the restoration of the temporal power of the Pope around the world, especially over Orthodox Russia, Buddhist China, Buddhist Japan, South and Central America through the CIA; this is the purpose for the British and America Empires. They used the British Empire in the 19th Century to do this, and they used the American Empire in the 20th Century to do this. So they take the most powerful Protestant empires, and the wealthiest, harness their governments, and use such for their own purposes.

Alright, now that America has been used for its purpose, it is time to destroy it. And we must remember that America is the haven for the Jews of the world, which the Jesuits have accursed; it is the haven for Bible-believing Protestants, called "heretics", who the Jesuits have accursed; and it is the haven for peoples of many, many different races who simply want to have some liberty in life, which are called "liberals", which the Jesuits have accursed.

The United States is a refugee nation, made up of many, many nationalities now. We are no longer a White, Anglo-Saxon, Protestant nation, as we were. We are composed of a host of different nationalities, with a host of religious beliefs, and thus this nation has been fragmented and agitated and is a disconcerted mess, with no real national purpose anymore.

The Jesuits have fired-up the Negro agitation of the Civil Rights Movement. They continue to fire that up with Hollywood, with such movies as Roots, etc.

They don't tell the whole story of Malcolm X. He was an agitator to begin with. When he came back from Mecca, he changed his story and denounced the Nation of Islam, along with the Ku Klux Klan, stating that "they both had the same paymasters". And he was absolutely right. They have agitated and broken apart this country, so we have no more national purpose.

The next thing that they've done, they've disarmed us. They've closed-down over 100 military bases. We have no domestic defense. The foreigners, the Mexicans come across the borders by the thousands, and the major corporations hire them, and they do their work for them, which is all illegal. It should be punished by law. But we have no punishment by law in this country anymore.

So we have the reign of crime. We have all of these illegal immigrants. We have the destruction of the White race. When this nation ceases to be White, it will cease to be great, because there is not a nation in the world that's a nation of color that can compete on the international scale of business and trade and commerce; they can't do it.

A nation that was once White, but is now a nation of color, is Cuba. Cuba used to be a prosperous, beautiful place, but now, with all the amalgamation and inter-racial marriage, it's 95% Black; it's under a Roman Catholic, Jesuit-trained Dictator named Fidel Castro; and it is a miserable place to live. And that is EXACTLY what this country is going to be like if it continues on the track it is now on.

The Jesuits have determined to destroy this American Empire that they have used for the last 100 years. So what they are doing now is, they are going to break apart the Empire.

And how are they doing this? Well, one of the things they've done is they've created this issue where an American submarine hit this Japanese fishing boat, killing all the Japanese on the boat, I believe, and the skipper was court-martialed. But nonetheless, it was a deliberate act of murder, because with that kind of technology on a submarine, you just don't hit a boat. And you just don't have some civilian driving the submarine either. That's ridiculous. So they are creating agitations with nations like Japan, with this incident.

They're creating deliberate agitation with nations like China, with the bombing of the Chinese Embassy in Belgrade. They're creating agitations with China, Japan, which will ultimately result in Japan and China uniting. With the military power of China, with the economic power of Japan—when already Hong Kong has been given to China, which now, because of that financial might, China is able to take control of the Panama Canal; they control the canal locks through Hutchen Wimpoa, a Chinese corporation. They are now building the largest shipping dock in the world in the Bahamas, owned by the Red Chinese. The Red Chinese now have the Long Beach Naval Station, which is now Cosco.

So they are in a position now to be able to establish a beach-head when they invade.

The thing is: Does China have the fleet to do it? No, China doesn't have the fleet right now to do it, but Russia does. Russia has the largest merchant marine fleet in the world. And we are very much deceived into thinking that China and Russia are enemies. They are not enemies; they work together. They are controlled by the same Jesuit Order. The Jesuits run Peking; they also run Moscow. They run the dictator of China and they run the dictator of Russia. It doesn't matter who he is. It doesn't matter what their names are. The Jesuits control them, and if they resist them, they're out! Just like in the United States.

So, they're breaking apart the American Empire. They're creating a huge coalition of Oriental nations for our invasion.

Now, let's talk about Africa. There are 700,000, as I understand it, Chinese troops in Somalia. Chuck Colson, one of the conspirators in the Kennedy assassination and the Watergate cover-up, is now the false Bible-believer, the false Protestant. He's working for the Jesuits because the head of his prison fellowship is a Roman Catholic.

Colson now is being used to try to get an American military force into the Sudan to save these Black Christians, who in fact are Black Roman Catholics. If that is accomplished, if that is done, we are now going to have a large military force in the Sudan, and there's a large military force in Somalia. What do you think it would take for those two military forces to clash?

And if those military forces clash, we will have an escalation in Africa, which I believe is what the Jesuits want. Because, if that happens, there can be a surgical strike into Jerusalem for the blowing-up of the Dome of the Rock. The Moslems, the Muftis, have known that was the intent of the Zionists for years, the blowing of the Dome of the Rock, so that Solomon's Temple can be rebuilt. And you can find this information in Pierre van Paassen's great work, written in 1939, called Days Of Our Years. So, with this coalition with the 14th Amendment American forces against the Chinese forces in Africa, this could happen.

Now, what would happen as a result of the destruction of the Dome of the Rock? Well, the Moslems regard the Dome of the Rock as the third most important holy place in their religion. They would call for a Jihad against "The Great Satan", the United States. And with a Jihad, a Holy War, against the United States, they would then go across Africa to West Africa. There will probably be a coalition of ships ready at that time, to be ferried across the Atlantic Ocean into Cuba.

And Cuba will be the landing base, the staging base for the invasion of the Protestant American South, the last real Protestant bastion of liberty in the world.

Remember: according to the Koran, it is no murder to kill a Christian; in fact, it is a virtuous act.

So, here we'd have all of these Moslem troopers, millions of Moslem troopers will be landing in Miami, landing in New Orleans, landing in the South of the United States, coupled with a Cuban military force, coupled with, probably, also a Chinese military force coming from the West Coast, and coming up through the Panama Canal to unite with them in the attack of the American South. With the blood bath that will ensue, this whole coalition of nations: China, Russia, Cuba, the Arabs, they will carry out the destruction and annihilation of this North American population, WHICH INCLUDES CANADA; it definitely includes Canada.

It is for this reason, because the government is controlled by the Jesuits, the government of the United States is seeking our total disarmament and the abolition of all gun ownership. This is why the Jesuit Conference, for years, has been anti-gun-ownership, meaning handguns, rifles, and shotguns.

So, to have the American people completely disarmed, our military cut way down, we have no Navy any more, really, to speak of; we have no Army—it's a totally demoralized Army, with this forced integration; and we have Black supremacy in the Army.

I was there, in Germany, for 3 years. I watched it with my own eyes. So, we have a demoralized American Army that doesn't know what to fight.

Martin: Let me just jump-in here to say that Bush is beefing-up the military, reversing what was done previously by Clinton. How can you say we have a weak Army when we're about to spend billions beefing up our defenses? Is this just a show?

Phelps: That's just a show. Because the Jesuits who controlled Clinton are the same Jesuits who control Bush. And remember, we were already scaling-down with Carter and Reagan and Ford.

And so, this whole idea of re-armament, it might be for some super-system of preventing missiles from coming in, an anti-ballistic missile system, but that's ridiculous, because we know there is no such thing as universal nuclear war. We have no evidence that incoming nukes can detonate a specific target.

We don't know EXACTLY what transpired at Hiroshima and Nagasaki, but they have contorted that into the hoax of thermo-nuclear war, which I do not believe can happen. Bruce Cathie doesn't believe it can happen; William Cooper doesn't believe it can happen; and other physicists don't believe it can happen. Other physicists don't believe it's possible, which now limits us to a standing army of men who know how to fight, which we do not have. We don't have it anymore.

So, with all of these hordes of invaders coming in, and a disarmed population, it would be a piece of cake. Remember that Spain was invaded by 4 million Moslem troopers. They landed in the Canary Islands, and from the Canary Islands they then invaded Spain, and they were led by a Roman Catholic Archbishop who was backing Franco! This is in the 1930s.

If they did it in the '30s, won't they do it now? And if they used Moslems to kill Orthodox Serbians just recently, in the 1990s, wouldn't they use Moslems to kill Protestant Americans? If they used Moslems to kill Roman Catholic Spanish, wouldn't they do the same thing here? Sure they would. So that's what is happening in the United States.

Martin: What just happened in Europe with Bush going over there and theoretically being given a hard time by the European community? What do you see happening in Europe right now?

Phelps: Well, not believing the press is our first maxim of reading.

Remember, a unified Europe is a Vatican brainchild. That all originated with the Jesuits in the Vatican for the reuniting of the Holy Roman Empire, which our friend Leo Lehmann said is exactly what the Jesuits wanted in 1942—a reunited Holy Roman Empire with a Catholic Germany at it's core.

Martin: And you base all of your conclusions just on this one person?

Phelps: No, no, no, no—this is a certain topic, and he adds to the color we're given.

Martin: I know that, but I asked the question that way because not all of our readers will be aware of the extent of the bibliography supporting the contentions of your research in VATICAN ASSASSINS.

Phelps: Ok. The Jesuits want a unified Europe. The Bible-believers of England are greatly resisting it, but the Jesuit-controlled Tony Blair will, ultimately, bring England into that Union. And Bush is helping to co-ordinate that, because the Federal Reserve Bank, the largest bank in the world, is one of the greatest contributors, or players, in international trading.

Martin: Are you saying that Alan Greenspan is a pawn of the Jesuit Order?

Phelps: Absolutely. Alan Greenspan is a Masonic Jewish Zionist and a pawn of the Jesuit Order. And the Jesuits are very careful to have visible Jews at the head of the Federal Reserve System so they can blame all the evils of the Federal Reserve Bank on the Jews.

We're never told, for example, that the head, right now, of the most powerful Federal Reserve Bank—because there are 12 of them—in New York is a man named McDonough. He's an Irish Roman Catholic. He's a member of the Council on Foreign Relations. He's a friend, a bosom-buddy of O'Hare, who is the President and Jesuit of the 4th Vow of Fordham University.

Why are we not told that about the Federal Reserve Bank? It's always Jews, Jews, Jews. Jews are just pawns. They've always been the bankers for the Pope. The Masonic Jewish bankers are the bankers for the Pope. And before the Rothschilds, it was the Fuggers.

Martin: Who are the College of Cardinals who choose the Pope?

Phelps: The College of Cardinals is REALLY the Roman Senate. The Pope is really the Caesar. And so this military Caesar is elected by Roman Senators, as to who will be their leader for World Government under the 7th Roman Caesar, who's yet to come. And so, the ones who do the electing are the Cardinals.

Martin: Now, those who see the current Pope see a very frail man. Has he served well? Is that why he's been allowed to stay on so long?

Phelps: He's done very well. He's served the Jesuit Order perfectly. This supposed rift between him and Arrupe, and suppressing the Jesuits with their Liberation Theology in Central America, is all for public consumption. That Pope is completely emasculated with regard to the power of the Jesuit Order.

The Jesuit Order has proven its power with the Napoleonic Wars, the killing of Pope Pius VI, the imprisoning of Pius VII, the restoration by Pius VII.

THE JESUIT ORDER IS OMNIPOTENT WHEN IT COMES TO THE PAPACY, AND THEY ARE THE ONES IN POWER.

Just like Hitler fashioned his Third Reich around the Papacy, the Secret Police or the SS were modeled after the Jesuits, and the Jesuits ARE the Secret Police of the Vatican Empire. They keep things in order. Without the Jesuit Order, the Vatican and the Papacy and the hierarchy would fall apart.

Martin: Who issued the Papal Bull suppressing the Jesuit Order?

Phelps: Pope Clement XIV.

Martin: Let's talk about that.

Phelps: Pope Clement XIV was a Franciscan. His name was Ganganelli. He was elected Pope due to the influence of the Bourbon monarchs—the Bourbon King of Spain, the Bourbon King of France, and the Braganzas of Portugal. Those insisted that a Pope would be brought to power who would suppress the Jesuit Order, because the Jesuits were busy making billions in South America, and never gave a dime to the Portuguese King and the Spanish King.

Martin: How were they making money in South America?

Phelps: They were making money in South America with their Reductions.

Martin: What are Reductions?

Phelps: Reductions are like communes; they're like a Kibbutz in Israel or a commune in Russia.

Martin: And what years are we talking about.

Phelps: We're talking between 1600-1750, roughly 150 years of these Reductions, where these Garani Indians were putting hides and tallow and cloaks and the Paraguay herb and many, many commodities into international shipping and trade—which the Jesuits shipped all around the world with their "Black Ships", and had HUGE commercial profits with which they started banks in Europe and then funded wars. And one of the projects that they funded were the Napoleonic Wars.

Martin: This Pope, Ganganelli, suppressed the Jesuits with a Papal Bull?

Phelps: That's right. Dominus Ac Redemptor. That was the Bull. That is its formal name.

Martin: What is a Bull?

Phelps: A Bull is a legal document that the Pope speaks within his most powerful method of speaking. It's sealed with "the seal of the fishman". A "brief" does not have that seal. A brief is a less powerful document; it can be overruled with a Bull.

Martin: So, this Pope, in 1773, issued the Bull eliminating the Jesuit Order forever?

Phelps: Forever! After a 4-year investigation of all their intrigues, of all their power, of all their wealth, of all their buildings, everything, after a 4-year investigation they were abolished by Clement XIV. And, remember, Clement XIII was about to do the same thing when, the night before, he was poisoned.

So, Clement XIV was brought to power then and, after a 4-year investigation, he suppresses them. And when he did so, he said: "This suppression will be my death."

Martin: And it was.

Phelps: And it was—14 months later, he died. He was poisoned by the Jesuits with a poison called Aquetta.

It's a slow poison that caused his intestines to have terrible, terrible pain. And when he was embalmed, the intestines exploded and they could not have an open-casket for viewing this Pope. The flesh fell off of his fingers; his fingernails turned black; his skin turned black; all his hair fell out; so they decided they could not have an open display of the Pope in his garb. So they had a closed casket.

Martin: So, this Papal Bull, which was a PERMANENT dismantling of the Jesuit Order, was later overruled?

Phelps: Right.

Martin: Now, how can a permanent disbanding of the Order be overruled at all?

Phelps: The Jesuits came out and said this was not a Bull. Even though, according to Thompson in his Footprints Of The Jesuits, and according to the Cusack's The Black Pope, even though they said it was a Bull, and Thompson said it was in the Library of the Bulls in Rome, even though it's a Bull, the Jesuits came out and said it was a brief. And, therefore, Pope Pius VII, upon their restoration, he instituted a Bull restoring the Jesuits, which "overruled the brief". That's what they teach.

BUT THE FACT IS, THEIR SUPPRESSION

WAS A BULL, AND THEIR [contrived] RESTORATION WAS A BULL.

Martin: Ok, we're jumping all over the place here, but we're just going to go with the flow. How did the Jesuits, in England, issue their instructions to the Queen? Where is their seat of power in England, specifically?

Phelps: I believe their seat of power in England is Stonyhurst University. An English Lord, Thomas Well, gives Stonyhurst to the Jesuits in, I believe, 1795—about the time of the French Revolution and just before the Napoleonic Wars.

Stonyhurst became their seat, their fortress from which they would control England. And they were brought into England and helped at that by King George III. King George was the bosom-buddy of the Jesuits. And the English monarchs have been their bosom-buddy ever since. King George reigned for quite a few years; I believe he reigned for nearly 40 years. And Victoria enjoyed the very same thing; she ruled from 1837-1901.

So, through the rule of George and Victoria, they completely controlled England through Stonyhurst. Today they run England through the Royal Institute for International Affairs. And the Cardinal, who they rule through, is the Archbishop of Westminster.

So, they have the Archbishop of Westminster in England, and they have the Archbishop of New York in the United States. They rule England through Stonyhurst. They rule the United States through Georgetown and Fordham. They rule England through the Royal Institute for International Affairs. They rule the United States through the Council on Foreign Relations.

It's an identical system in both countries because it is an Empire. It is a Vatican Empire. That's how they rule.

In Russia, they rule Moscow through the Patriarch of the Armenian Church. So, the Patriarch is like the Archbishop in London and New York. And it's the Patriarch, there in Moscow, who oversees the KGB and the inquisition there, called the gulag. Agagianian was the Patriarch who was appointed a Cardinal by Pope Pius XII, the very same year, 1946, that Cardinal Spellman was made Cardinal for the American Empire.

Martin: How does the Mafia figure into all of this?

Phelps: The Mafia is run by Italian Roman Catholics, Sicilians primarily. And the Mafia takes care of all organized crime. They took care of the booze, before it was legalized. They took care of prostitution, the drug running, gun running, all the crime is organized by the Vatican, through the Mafia families—the five Mafia families of New York.

It's interesting that the Mafia Commission out of New York is in the same location, and not far from, the Archbishop of New York. So the Archbishop is very close to his mob bosses.

Spellman used his mob bosses in the invasion of Sicily, using Lucky Luciano, called Operation Underworld. Here's Spellman working with Lucky Luciano for a "successful Naval invasion" of Sicily, for which reason he is influential and causes the release of Lucky Luciano in 1946 to go back to Italy. So we have the relationship of Cardinal Spellman and the mob. And if Cardinal Spellman had that power, every Cardinal afterward has the same power. They don't lose any power.

Now, one of the most obvious connections between the Archbishop of New York and the mob is Frank Sinatra. Frank Sinatra was a good bosom friend with Gambino. Gambino was murdered with a vaccination, with a flu shot. They wanted him out of the way, so they murdered him with a flu shot. Frank Sinatra was also a Knight of Malta, who is subject, then, to the Archbishop of New York. So, you have the Archbishop controlling the Knights of Malta. Frank Sinatra is one of them, and Frank Sinatra is a good friend of a mafia don.

Martin: Let's talk about Princess Diana. Do you think the Jesuits were behind her take-out?

Phelps: Absolutely, because the Jesuits control the British Secret Service.

Martin: Let's talk about Princess Diana. Why was she a threat to the Jesuits?

Phelps: She was a threat in that if she had married a Moslem, Dodi Fayed, that would have overturned the Throne of England, because she still had rights through her children. Because her sons would one day occupy the British throne, and if she is alive with a Moslem Prince as a husband, we have a problem in England. Because everybody knows that the Queen Mother, really, has a lot of control over the King. And there would have been an Islamic, Arab influence on the Queen, who would influence her son, who would be King, who is now Prince.

Martin: So you think that the powers that be, within the Jesuit Order, knew that she was pregnant with Dodi's child?

Phelps: I believe so; and that's why they got rid of her—absolutely. And they sent a message to all the other British nobility by saying: "If you do this, we're going to do the same thing to you." Furthermore, they buried her in the cemetery, on the Windsor property, where only dogs are buried. She's buried with dogs.

Martin: What kind of symbolism is that?

Phelps: Because she was a "Moslem dog" in their eyes.

Martin: In the recent June, 2001 issue of The SPECTRUM, we shared an article from Sherman Skolnick in which he not only mentions the Jesuits, but he talks about the incredible financial influence, and power, and control in California and elsewhere by the Japanese Mafia, called the Yakuza. Is there any relationship between the Yakuza and the Jesuits?

Phelps: Absolutely. The Jesuits control the Yakuza. To understand this, we have to go back in the history of Japan. Japan had, wonderfully and righteously, expelled the Jesuits from their Empire around 1619, give or take a few years. The Jesuits were forbidden to ever enter Japan!

The Japanese, then, kicked-out the Portuguese; they kicked-out the Spanish. The only ones who could ever trade with Japan were the Dutch, the Protestant Dutch. Well, when the Jesuits were beginning to get control of our country, they got control of Polk. And Polk was responsible for the sending of Commodore Perry to Japan.

Martin: What year?

Phelps: 1853-1854. He then opens up Japan to international trade. So now "foreigners" can enter into Japan. Foreigners then began an agitation and a revolution in Japan. The reigning Emperor of Japan, who was a young man about 35, wanted to get rid of the Jesuits and these foreign powers, so he was assassinated.

According to Ryu Ohta, my friend in Japan, the Japanese had been taught that he was killed by Sassoon House—the Jews. But the Emperor was really killed by the Jesuits, because the son of this Emperor later went on to rule Japan from 1873 to 1912, and this Emperor was the grandfather to Hirohito.

This Emperor was a young boy at the time he came to power. He ruled for all those years. The Jesuits during that time dis-established the Buddhists as a state religion, and made tremendous inroads in power in Japan, controlling the Dynasty, because they were going to use Japan to foment a war with the United States for the purpose of eliminating as much Buddhism as they could from the Far East, and weakening the American Protestants, and many other purposes, such as killing off Protestant missionaries in the Far East—whereas the Japanese Army never persecuted the Catholic missionaries. And this is according to the Jesuits' own magazine America, written and published in 1943 or 1944.

This is where the Jesuits got their power over the Emperor, and thus the Yakuza. So now, the Jesuits have that power, they maintain that power. They maintained power over Hirohito. And thus, they have power over the Yakuza today, in Japan and California.

Martin: There was a book written many years ago called Tai Pan. Now, would a Tai Pan, symbolically, be the equivalent of the Black Pope?

Phelps: Sure. It's a Secret Society. It's a Japanese Secret Society that really rules.

Martin: Theoretically they would rule independently.

Phelps: They rule together with the Monarch.

Martin: Which would be the real Black Pope?

Phelps: The Black Pope. Remember, the Black Pope is in control of the Monarch of Japan.

Martin: We need to explain to our readers that the Jesuit Order is NOT a religious order, it is a MILITARY ORDER.

Phelps: It is a military order. When they dawn religious garb to get into a country to talk about Christ and God and so forth, they really want to capture the power and wealth of every country, to submit every country to the temporal, Earthly, political power of the Pope.

Martin: I don't want to get too far off-subject here, but would you say "As with the Jews, so with the Yakuza"?

Phelps: Correct. As with the Masonic Jewish Zionists, so with the Masonic Yakuza. They're all Masonic. Masonry unites all religions into one.

Martin: And behind the scenes the Jesuits are pulling the strings?

Phelps: Pulling the strings because they wrote all of the Masonic rites.

Martin: For our Masonic scholars out there, on what do you base that?

Phelps: We know that, according to several citations I reference in the book VATICAN ASSASSINS, the Jesuits wrote the first 25 degrees of the Scottish Rite Freemasonry, from the College of Clermont, which was changed to the College of Louis LeGrand, in Paris, France.

Martin: What year?

Phelps: 1754. That is a fact. The Jesuits wrote those rites.

Martin: Do you have any names behind that?

Phelps: Oh, I believe Chevalier Ramsey was, Chevalier de Bonneville was one. Remember the Bonneville automobile, and Pontiac? Those were Jesuits. And we have Adam Weishaupt, who was a Jesuit, who was a Mason. And it was the Rothschild Luciferians. So we have many dovetails of the Jesuits being Freemasons.

And we know, according to our hero Alberto Rivera, that Pedro Arrupe was a Mason, and Pedro Arrupe was a Jesuit General. Pedro Arrupe was a Mason AND in the Communist Party of Spain when he was a Jesuit General.

So, we also know that the Jesuits were involved in the writing of the last 8 degrees of Scottish Rite Freemasonry, with Fredrick the Great in Prussia, while Fredrick protected the Jesuits and gave them the ability to live in his country, while they were being suppressed by the Pope.

Martin: Let's circle back around to the Yakuza. According to Skolnick, the Yakuza own many, many businesses in this country, many, many banks are owned and controlled in California and elsewhere by the Yakuza. Now, are you saying that's just a front?

Phelps: They're just a front, like any other Mafia, like the Italian Mafia, which is the foremost Mafia in organized crime.

Martin: Which J. Edgar Hoover said "Didn't exist."!

Phelps: Which he said didn't exist. It's all baloney. It is just a front. They hold the property, they hold the money for the Vatican.

Martin: So the Yakuza would be the 3rd trusted party that we talked about?

Phelps: That's right, they're the 3rd trusted party. And I tend to also believe that there is some kind of hand involved in the murder of Bruce Lee with this. Bruce Lee was not going along with the Catholic Church.

Martin: And he was giving away secrets.

Phelps: He was giving away martial arts secrets, and so on, and he was not going along with the Vatican. Remember, he had a rift with Hollywood, and most of his films were made in Hong Kong.

Martin: And his son was also killed not long ago.

Phelps: His son was then killed on a movie-making set also. So his son knew something. And evidently, just like Jackie Kennedy, Linda Lee doesn't open her mouth. So there are two murders here that the Secret Societies are involved in.

Martin: You don't talk too much about Bobby Kennedy. Has your research uncovered any names behind Bobby Kennedy's assassination?

Phelps: Well, we know that Officer Thane Eugene Cesar really pulled the trigger, shot him in the back of the head with a twenty-two. And Officer Cesar was an employee for Lockheed Corporation. The Jesuits, according to Avro Manhattan, control Lockheed.

So, just as Lee Iacocca dispatches his security chief to drive the bullet-ridden limousine of Kennedy from Washington to Cincinnati to get repaired, even so, some Knight of Malta in charge of Lockheed Corporation, I don't know who it was, dispatches Officer Cesar to be a guard of Robert F. Kennedy—who then, in turn, shoots and kills him. And Sirhan was a scapegoat, just like Oswald was a scapegoat.

Martin: What do you have to say about Earl Warren?

Phelps: Earl Warren was in the hands of the Jesuits when he was the governor of California. Earl Warren was one of the sinister individuals behind that evil and terrible Japanese concentration camp system. That was his brainchild. He was behind the anti-Jap agitation in World War II.

The Japanese are decent, law-abiding, peaceful people, for the most part. They had all their farms taken from them. They were in control of all of the produce, and they had it all stolen from them by Roman Catholic, Knight of Malta-controlled corporations—just as was done to the American Indian. They went into their burial grounds and stole all their gold, and used their missions to send it back to Rome.

So, Earl Warren was a part of this. He was a good boy, so they named him and put him on the Supreme Court. He was the Chief Justice.

He was a 33rd-degree Freemason involved in the Kennedy assassination, forced amalgamation, forced race-mixing with the Supreme Court decision in 1966, forced integration with the Brown vs. The Board Of Education in 1954.

Martin: I'm going to ask you now a very important question, one that will be on the minds of many people: Why should our readers not feel that you are merely substituting the word JESUITS for JEWS in terms of fomenting hatred and animosity toward Jesuit people? Why is that not so?

Phelps: Well, first of all, there's a tremendous difference between the Jesuit Order and the Jewish race.

We don't know exactly who the Jewish race is. I sure don't know. I think only God knows who it is. But it's a civilization of people who are engaged in commerce and trade, and they have cultures, they have communities.

Jesuits are an army. They're soldiers. They're under oath. When you become professed of the 4th Degree, they give you The Secret Instructions.

According to another gentleman, he says there's a degree beyond the 4th Degree, where it's absolute Luciferianism. This is according to Jim Arrabito, who died mysteriously in a plane crash in Alaska on September 2, 1990. Jim Arrabito was one of the chief guys in the Seventh Day Adventists, and he was a master of Jesuit history. You can get his videos, Secrets Of The Jesuits, from L.L.M. Productions.

But anyway, the difference between the Jews

Editor's note: For those of you who may wonder if the matter of "missing" or "unavailable" library books is still a problem today, read the following narrative by Eric excerpted from the CD-ROM that comes with the new book version of VATICAN ASSASSINS. Some things never change!

M. F. Cusack, the Nun of Kenmare, 1896, wrote The Black Pope. This volume, quietly removed from nearly every library in the world, contains the most important single description of the inner workings and long-range goals of the Society of Jesus ever published. Written by a Bible-believing converted Roman Catholic nun, the brilliant and penetrating Miss Cusack wrote from England and was one of the literary pillars against the Jesuit-controlled pontiff and papacy of the Nineteenth Century.

I found The Black Pope downstairs in the Philip Schaff Library of the Reformed Lancaster Theological Seminary in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. It was neither in the card catalog nor in the computer; but, while searching the bookshelves, the Lord caused my eyes to fall upon it. Being made aware of its importance through the widow of our hero, Alberto Rivera (who had been given a copy by Jesuit General Pedro Arrupe), I read it and returned it to the library. I then informed the clerk to consign the volume to the archives and recommended that it never be allowed to be checked out again, for fear of its theft. Smugly, he asked me if I would steal it.

Meanwhile, I approached the head librarian, Mr. Berg, and asked to make a copy using the copier in house. He refused, stating that the book was in no condition to be copied. I informed him that I intended to reprint it, that it was the greatest exposé of the Jesuit General ever written, and that I would give the library newly republished volumes. Still, he refused. Upset, I sought to speak with the Seminary President, Mr. Schmiechen, informing him of my offer, but to no avail. Later, I requested one of the librarians to ask Mr. Berg if I could ever see the book again. I received my most shocking answer a few weeks later. When I came back to the library, intending to copy one other book for the CD (Behind The Dictators by Leo Lehmann), I was handed the following Memo by a somewhat embarrassed and kindly woman tending the reference desk. My library privileges were revoked and I may never peruse those treasures downstairs ever again. Hating defeat, I sought to speak with the President one more time; but again, he was out of town. Little did these pro-Jesuit bigots know that I had secretly copied The Black Pope and give it to you now, my beloved friends. The Memo has been reproduced below for your observation.

Memo

To: Eric Phelps
From: Richard R. Berg, Director of Library Services
Date: 29 May 2001
Subject: Revocation of Library Privileges

With the endorsement of President Peter Schmiechen and Dean Anabel Proffitt, I am revoking all library privileges. This action is precipitated upon your use of the library and its resources for a purpose which perpetuates suspicion, hatred, and mistrust which is inconsistent with the mission of the Seminary and the library. This action can be taken because we are a private institution which can restrict who may or may not use the library, its collections, and its equipment. Notice to that effect has been posted on each entrance door above the handles.

and the Jesuits is strictly—one is a people, and one is an Order determined to subvert all nations to the jurisdiction of the Pope.

And, in light of the documents that I provide with the book version of VATICAN ASSASSINS—I have over 4,000 pages on CD-ROM, with four distinct different histories showing the history of the Order—that's exactly what they were doing then, and that's exactly what they're doing now.

Martin: So what's different about what YOU'RE saying? Rather than just being another wild conspiracy theory, it's your position that you've really proven that this is a fact, and not fantasy?

Phelps: Other men have proven the fact. I just reiterate what they've said.

If you read The Black Pope, by Cusack, she says the very same thing. She was a nun, a converted nun to Christ in 1896.

Martin: And why is she so important?

Phelps: Because she was a nun intimately involved with priests, and especially Jesuits, prior to her conversion to Christ. She would know; she was on the inside.

Martin: Why is that book so important?

Phelps: Because it has been suppressed and stolen out of every library in the world! There is only one in existence that I know of, that's publicly accessible, and that is in the British Museum.

It's also accessible on the CD-ROM included with the book VATICAN ASSASSINS, for those of your readers who would like it. But, other than that, it's a suppressed document. Griesinger, Thompson, Cusack, Nicolini—those are the four major histories of the Jesuit Order, and all four are on the CD-ROM [along with a number of other rare and otherwise "missing" research documents].

Martin: So you're saying that the time-lines that you put forth, and the conclusions that you draw, are really based on historical experts over the last two centuries? This is not just YOUR position?

Phelps: Absolutely. I'm standing on the shoulders of giants, as a little cricket. These people are brilliant and Godly. Nicolini, an Italian Roman Catholic, converted to Christ, involved in the Italian Revolution of 1848, had to flee for his life, was in exile in England, and there he wrote his great History Of The Jesuits, warning England that if the Jesuits sought to destroy England under Elizabeth, they would surely do the same thing under Victoria.

Martin: And they have.

Phelps: And they have. We have the great Theodor Griesinger, who was the great German who wrote The Jesuits as a history told by the German people—823 pages of meticulous documentation of all their doings in all the countries. And he was the one, I learned, who said the Jesuits could very well be planning a second Thirty-Years War, another Thirty-Years War. And he wrote that, the second edition was in 1873.

[Editor's note: And remember that the second bloody and diabolical "Thirty-Years War" did indeed happen, between 1914 and 1945, as Eric mentioned earlier in this interview in conjunction with financing it through the setting up of the Federal Reserve Bank fraud.]

So, these learned people have made quite clear and quite evident the purpose and power of the Jesuit Order.

We haven't had anybody in the 20th Century write an extensive history of what they've accomplished from 1900-2000. I would hope that somebody who knows these histories, who knows grammar and spelling and is able to write nice prose (unlike myself) would be able to do this, and write a real modern history of this. Ridpath came close to it, but he ended his work in the mid-1850s, with his Ridpath's Universal History [Of The World]. We have not had a significant historian do this modern work for us.

Martin: And why is that?

Phelps: Because these Jesuits have all these colleges and universities bought and paid for! And these universities won't get grants if they start to expose the Jesuit Order.

Now, with all these "hate crime" laws, anything truthfully said about the Jesuit Order will generate attempts to contort it into some kind of a hate crime, which is NOT what we're doing. We are merely telling the truth.

Martin: What is your solution to the Jesuit problem in America? What would you like to see, ultimately, happen in this country?

Phelps: In this country, what I would like to see happen is exactly what happened in England in the 16th Century, when several Jesuits left the Order. They were intelligent, powerful Jesuits, involved in the conspiracy to overthrow England.

They told the powers-that-be about what they were supposed to do, and as a result, the government of England expelled the Jesuits from their dominions, because they were regarded as traitors and conspirators in the overthrow of legitimate government—of self-rule, of nationalism; a country should be ruled by its own people.

The solution here would be the expulsion of the Jesuit Order, that they would be outlawed and banned.

There would be period of grace where certain Jesuits could come forward, tell what they know. But why would the Jesuits want to do that when this government is controlled by the Council on Foreign Relations, which is controlled by the Jesuits? The government is controlled by the Jesuits through the mob and high-level Freemasonry.

Martin: Proposing the expulsion of the Jesuits, the difference between that and racial persecution, such as with the Jews, yours is based on treason, which is a lawful conclusion based on your research concerning what their true aims and objectives are—namely, the overthrow of this government.

Phelps: The usurping of this government, the controlling of this government for their own purposes. And then using this government, with a coalition of other governments they control, for the annihilation of the "heretic" and "liberal" population of this country, pursuant to the Council of Trent, that every Pope swears upon his coronation to uphold.

Martin: Thank you so much for taking this time to clarify these many points about the Jesuit Order. Our readers will really appreciate this as you offer much food for both thought AND action!

...and the truth shall set you free

David Icke exposes the real story behind global events which shape the future of human existence and the world we leave our children. Fearlessly, he lifts the veil on an astonishing web of interconnected manipulation to reveal that the same few people, secret societies, and organizations control the daily direction of our lives. They engineer the wars, violent revolutions, terrorist outrages, and political assassinations; they control the world market in hard drugs and the media indoctrination machine. Every global negative event of the 20th Century, and earlier, can be traced back to the same Global Elite, and some of the names involved are very well known. Never before has this web, its personnel, and methods been revealed in such a detailed and devastating fashion.

If you don't want your view of life to be transformed, then steer clear of this book.

Icke reveals the esoteric background to the global conspiracy and offers an inspiring spiritual solution in which every man, woman, and child on planet Earth breaks free from the daily programming—the "coup d'état on the human mind"—and takes back their infinite power to think for themselves and decide their own destiny. His words are designed to inspire all of us to be who we really are, to fling open the door of the mental prison we build for ourselves, and to walk into the light of freedom.

Stresses And Pressures Are Catalysts For Growth

7/4/01 SOLTEC

Good evening, my friend. It is I, Ceres Anthonious "Toniose" Soltec, come in the One Light of Creator Source. Be at peace.

There are great geophysical pressures building within and around your planetary orb. Some of you more observant skywatchers may even notice a greater presence of our "lenticular cloud"-cloaked ships stabilizing areas prone to geological instabilities, such as along earthquake faults. Mother Earth is dealing as well as can be expected with the physical stresses that are resulting from many factors, both man-made and naturally occurring phenomena.

These same pressures, we observe, are impacting a great many of you ones who are sensitive to (but "out of sync" with) the upward frequency shifts that are occurring. Many are experiencing heightened levels of anxiety, restlessness, disrupted sleep patterns, and often very erratic mood swings wherein you are left questioning the need to continue the "struggle" of life.

Dear friends, these pressures (regardless of the cause) are a fact of your experience. You each can and will cope, in your own way, with the shifting environment in which you now find yourselves. We, of the Lighted Realms, offer the following in response to the many petitions we are receiving from you ones for clarity and understanding.

Simply stated: YOUR WORLD IS SPEEDING UP!

As this speed-up continues, so too will your need to adapt to the increasing frequencies. These increases will cause discomfort for those of you (this includes the ones who scribe these messages) who hold on to past low-frequency emotional baggage.

Again and again we have been explaining to you ones the coming (and now present) problems that would arise from holding onto the "traumas" of yesteryear. This is the time of the Great Cleansing. It is a purification as if by fire. The negative (low-frequency) vibrational attachments will be "burned" from within you by the present and forthcoming high-frequency energies bathing your planetary environment.

This is in no way a punishment, but rather a VERY NATURAL aspect of a planet's evolutionary path.

Is your life seemingly "falling apart"?

Do you feel at the end of your wits?

Does life seem to be getting quite a bit more overwhelming?

For many of you the answer to the above questions is: yes. For others of you, you may be wondering what in the world I am speaking about.

For the latter, I suggest that you take comfort in knowing that you have instinctively (intuitively) been keeping the clutter of low-frequency emotional energy to a minimum. To those of you who answered "yes" to the above, please know that the cleansing from higher-intensity and higher-frequency energy will continue, and the resulting inner stress will serve as a catalyst that will enable you to focus on, and confront, the accumulated emotional "garbage" and see it for what it truly is.

Many of you have been, figuratively speaking, swimming in a pool with a heavy lead belt on (symbolic of all your accumulated negative emotional "baggage"). This was not a big challenge to deal with when the pool was only a couple of feet deep. But slowly the level has been rising, and you can no longer touch bottom without your head going under water for a few moments. And still you have held on to your lead anchor-belt as if it were a "prized" possession.

The level is still rising, and many of you are now finding yourselves bobbing up and down farther and farther each time. When you're down, the pressure is greater each time, as the bottom seems to be getting farther and farther down. And yet you still tightly hold on to that heavy lead belt that is literally the only thing keeping you from buoyantly floating to the surface and riding the upper crest.

Eventually the pressures will cause you ones to examine the "demons" that encourage your desire to hold onto these things that weigh upon the heart. For some, this point will come only after what will seem to be an inhumane struggle, when a point of shear exhaustion and overwhelm is achieved. Only then will come the surrender of the past pains, anxiety, grief, and sorrows—when there is finally recognized no use in "holding-on" any longer.

By contrast, for some others, words such as these will serve as sufficient catalyst to prompt the self-introspection that allows for the release of the majority of the low-frequency anchors that are causing so much emotional pain and other difficulties.

One only needs to notice that the children coming into the physical experience at this time still innately desire to play, explore, and find newness, in order for one to see that they are not nearly as impacted by the frequency shifts as are the older generations. Why? Because, for the most part they have not yet acquired the "lead weights" of sorrow, grief, or trauma binding them to a vibrational signature associated with a low-vibration environment that is much "slower" in all aspects.

The older one's age, the greater the effects can be. Many of the senior citizens in your society have become quite dependent on prescription "medication" as a means for dealing with physical ailments that can be traced back to these very same low-frequency experiences of emotional "baggage".

The loss of loved ones to physical death becomes a "great tragedy" for those who do not understand that death of the physical apparatus is NOT the end of existence for the entity who was using the apparatus. There is no need for great sorrow, though grief is a natural expression for the loss of the more deliberately focused companionship of physical participation. YOU WILL SEE YOUR LOVED ONES AGAIN—and again, and again, and again, on and on, over and over.

The cycles of life are ENDLESS. You ones have been together through countless life experiences, and will continue to do so as the group ties of love, admiration, and camaraderie will naturally bind you, one to another.

Those who are experiencing the greatest difficulties are those of you who tend to be more sensitive to the subtle energies. The ones who tend to be more intuitive in their thinking and reasoning, and who tend to follow the "gut" impulses, also tend to be the ones who deeply feel the "sharpness" of another's anger or the sorrow of another's despair. You ones tend to empathically take on the problems and burdens of another in an attempt to understand (walk in another's shoes) and thus offer compassion and heartfelt understanding to those in need who cross your path. You ones tend to want to carry the "weight of the world" on your shoulders in an attempt to alleviate the suffering of others.

This is fine and well, if it be your choice. However, let us (we of the Lighted Realms) offer to you a bit of caution: It is good and well to offer a helping hand to another in their time of need. But to continue to carry another's load will only serve to STUNT the other's growth as well as your own.

There is wisdom in showing another, by example, how to cultivate a field and plant seeds that lead to a nice crop of life-sustaining food. It is not so wise to do so for them over and over, again and again, to the point they may even come to expect you to lift the food to their mouth and wipe the crumbs from their chin. At what point do you allow the student to fly solo and take responsibility for self?

Allowing others to bear the full repercussions of their choices and decisions is truly the whole purpose of the physical environment in the first place. To coddle and protect another beyond the point of maturity only serves to hinder their much desired growth.

We, of the Higher (non-physical) Realms, offer to you ones great compassion, and yet we do so from the non-physical perspective so as to not interfere with your growth. In order to FULLY utilize the Potential Energy we offer to you ones, you will have to discipline yourselves to learn to interpret the various vibrational energy signals (communications) we offer in response to your many petitions for assistance.

Remember, please, that God will work WITH you, but He will not do it FOR you. Any other way and the learning opportunity will fail. Many of you, perhaps operating from seeming overwhelm or desperation, propose ultimatums to God and your Guides, such as: "If you do ----, then I'll believe and then know you are for real." Or: "If you want me to help, then show me a big sign."

Maybe for the first couple of times this will illicit a "favorable" response, but as ones continue to challenge and throw out ultimatums, there comes a point where the individual is doing nothing more than playing a mind game with themselves, and the childish behavior will garner no serious responses of the kind anticipated by the challenger.

Please note that you each have AMPLE examples of God working in your lives to reflect back upon. Beyond a certain point there is acceptance or there is not, and to continue to play games and dance the same dance, over and over again, becomes counterproductive.

Learn to reach out to God and to His many angelic Helpers by focusing your desire, asking for assistance, and then begin TAKING ACTION. This is the critical step wherein many of you "drop the ball" and expect God to simply do it FOR you. Or you "take action" that—if you are honest with yourself—is actually a form of running away from whatever the challenge or responsibility is you should be facing.

Taking APPROPRIATE action in the physical serves to solidify and reaffirm your desire. The physical energy exerted serves to clarify your intent, and thus open a larger channel through which Creative Inspiration may flow. The greater the clarity (which includes honesty) of your desire, the greater the flow of energy.

When your desire is to know and understand the reasons for the pressures in your life, and what is truly at the cause that seems to keep you in a repetitious circular "rut" of merely existing rather than feeling as though you are joyously living, then you have indeed focused your desire on a truly worthy endeavor.

So, what ACTION can you take to solidify this desire and begin to allow for the myriads of Angels to bring forth their assistance? You could begin by setting aside some time every day to write down what exactly you think it is that causes you to remain in the "rut". Or, you could confide in another, whom you trust, and speak aloud the same concerns. (Hint: You are each there to help one another grow.) Has it not been said that two heads are better than one?

Well, there are infinite variations on the two examples above. There are various ones in Internet "chat rooms" around the world who confide in complete strangers because they intuitively know that people in general are good and well meaning. This does not mean that they blindly accept the advice of such "strangers", but please never underestimate the creative pathways your Guides may use to get a message through to you.

Returning to our original theme of this message, let me add that the physical pressures and stresses associated with this time of planetary cleansing NEED NOT be experienced as some negative "punishment" that must be endured. At any time you can release the "baggage" of the past and thus more effectively and deliberately focus your attention on the present moment. Great numbers of the masses are reaching the point of realizing that "something" has got to give way, else a volatile mess will surely ensue.

I WILL say that the majority of the souls

now experiencing have a great capacity for change, and are quite resilient in their ability to deal with the environmental stresses now present. A way WILL be shown to those who honestly petition for assistance and who are willing to make an effort toward helping themselves. For those who simply refuse to accept the changes now taking place, they will, through their own ignorance and stubbornness, create unnecessary hardship and suffering for themselves.

Judge not another or their choices, for they choose what is perfect for them so as to create the perfect learning environment for themselves. What works for one individual may not work at all for another. You are each on a journey of self discovery. And when you realize that YOU create ALL of your own "problems", then the answers and soul-utions become quite evident. "Problems" only occur when ignorance is allowed to persist. Knowledge and understanding (en-Light-enment) is the key to obliterating ignorance (darkness).

I am Ceres Anthonious "Toniose" Soltec, come in service to The One Light—Creator God. May these words spark within you the realization that YOU hold the keys that release you from the shackles that hold you back and keep you from recognizing the true God-Force Potential within. Finding the keys requires self-discipline, patience, AND persistence. No one can just hand you those keys. We of the Lighted Realms will assist you in your search—but only when YOU take the appropriate initiative and follow-through action.

Blessings and peace to you ALL. Salu! ☸

Do you enjoy the spiritual messages shared here in The SPECTRUM? If so then you won't want to miss these two volumes packed full of earlier shared messages.

"Our Elder Brothers from the Higher Realms of Creation are attempting to communicate with ALL of us at this time. Why? Take a look around you. The old ways of doing things aren't working. Our planet is entering a time of massive, turbulent change and renewal. To put it bluntly: we NEED help! And that's where these books come into the picture. Yes, eventually 'the Phoenix will arise from the ashes' after this Great Cleansing process, but the ride could be quite a bumpy one, especially for those ill-prepared for what is to happen." — From the back cover of Volume I

Dr. Len Horowitz On AIDS In Africa: “Utilitarian Global Genocide”

Editor's note: Though the occasion prompting the request is deeply tragic in terms of human suffering and death, we were honored a few months ago to be asked by African Zulu Shaman and Elder, Credo Mutwa, to be the vehicle to convey his plea to the Global Elite, titled Stop The Genocide In Africa! in our May 2001 issue of The SPECTRUM. (Longtime readers will remember Credo Mutwa's astonishing experiences of an inter-dimensional nature that had been the front-page feature interview of our October 1999 issue.) We received many communications of appreciation for publishing Credo's powerful, heartfelt message, as well as requests for reprinting from other conscientious information sources wanting to help spread his plea far and wide.

Also into this arena—actually starting some months ago—enters Dr. Leonard Horowitz. He is no stranger to longtime readers of this publication, both for his impeccable scholarship in getting to the bottom of well-hidden medical matters, and for his courage to speak out about what he knows.

Dr. Horowitz just got back from an invited trip to Africa wherein he presented the following potent address to the presidential governments of several African countries. The address is followed by some important background information that includes the letters he wrote last October which “got the ball rolling” on this daring project.

Where better than in Africa to expose and publicize the AIDS mechanism engineered by the diabolical elite controllers as part of their plan for Africa's depopulation of native peoples in conjunction with their global goal to eliminate most of us—the “useless eaters” of society?

Dr. Len's new book has also just been released—to further give heartburn to those crooks in high places working desperately to keep The Truth hidden. We are herein providing some just-received advance information about this new release.

So, with Credo Mutwa's heartfelt plea circulating about in conjunction with Dr. Len's hard-hitting recent scientific lectures in Africa—what do we see on the controlled media news programs starting around June 22? Why, we are informed that “The First United Nations Conference On AIDS” was all-of-a-sudden getting underway at UN headquarters in New York! Imagine that. What a “coincidence”.

Of course the well-controlled print and broadcast media's “politically correct” version of what was being discussed at this unusual gathering was typically superficial. Notice also that such media outlets as CNN News TOLD you what the participants were talking about (while showing you pictures of speakers without audio), rather than allowing you to hear the participants' actual remarks for yourself.

However, the discerning observer can be sure that THAT MANY African-nation presidents and health ministers and other representatives did not travel all the way to New York to talk in vague generalities! Not while their peoples are suffering from extreme malnutrition and poverty, as well as dying of AIDS in large-and-growing numbers, while rampant and widespread internal corruption throughout most governmental layers makes getting anything constructive accomplished almost impossible.

Though you can be sure this First United Nations' AIDS Conference was convened largely for appearance value, RECOGNIZE ALSO that, as a major public relations response to counter Credo Mutwa and Dr. Len Horowitz, it reveals how scared the elite controllers are becoming as The Truth is getting to be much more difficult to hide from awakening and caring people everywhere.

Hepatitis B Vaccine And The Origin Of HIV/AIDS: Perspectives On A Possible Vaccine-Induced Pandemic

(Transcript of oral presentation made by Dr. Leonard G. Horowitz, D.M.D., M.A., M.P.H., May 29, 2001, Libreville, Gabon, Africa.)

Honorable First Lady and esteemed program officials, it is indeed an honor for me to be among an American delegation invited by the First Lady to present some recent perspectives from the United States concerning HIV/AIDS.

I am the author of the American best-selling book Emerging Viruses: AIDS & Ebola—Nature, Accident Or Intentional? that examines AIDS as a possible vaccine-induced pandemic. I will be reporting today from my current publication in the May 2001 issue of the peer-reviewed scientific journal Medical Hypotheses, published in England, reprints of which are being prepared for distribution tomorrow.

I presented this thesis initially at the XI International Conference on AIDS in Vancouver in 1996, beginning with data that showed that approximately 65% of Black Americans believe that HIV/AIDS may be genocide. Genocide is defined as the mass killing of people for economic, political, and/or ideological reasons.

In the October 2000 issue of the esteemed American Journal Of Public Health, Dr. Stephen Kunitz, considered among America's most prominent medical sociologists, concluded much like Africa's most esteemed medical sociologist and psychiatrist, Dr. Adeoye Lambo (Dean of the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Ibadan, Nigeria), that where capitalism, colonialism, and “WASP (White Anglo-Saxon Protestant)-directed globalism” goes, the expected and consistently observed outcome is the mass killing of native populations.

My thesis raises this spectre concerning HIV/AIDS following the administration of experimental hepatitis-B (HB) vaccines given to gay men in New York City and Blacks in Central Africa in 1974 and early 1975.

Could what I am about to present represent genocide?

Might it be standard Machiavellian theory in practice?

That is, creating the problem to profit from the solution; in this case from pharmaceutical sales while reducing undesired populations?

Might the same instigators be suppressing lower cost, lower risk, and highly effective alternative therapies?

This is certainly a most heretical, politically challenging, ethically and morally disconcerting possibility. Yet, based on the evidence I will summarize here, it is a theory whose time has come for close examination—a theory I conclude should, if not must, be conducted by an independent scientific and ethics committee charged by the United Nations to discern the truth.

To summarize my findings, [first slide] you are now looking at the United States Government contract under which numerous AIDS-like and Ebola-like viruses were bioengineered using crude and tedious laboratory methods, by Litton Bionetics researchers, during the late 1960s and early 1970s. As you can see, Dr. Robert Gallo, Project Officer for the National Cancer Institute (NCI), oversaw this contract which, as documented, began on February 12, 1962.

On the next slide, reprinted from the United States Congressional Record, Litton Bionetics is listed as the sixth leading biological weapons contractor for the U.S. Army in 1969.

The next slide is reprinted from the journal Nature, December 5, 1970, wherein you can see Dr. Gallo from the NCI as lead author, with co-investigators from Litton Bionetics, reporting on their studies of RNA-dependent DNA polymerase (more commonly known as “reverse transcriptase”) in human acute leukemic cells.

As you may recall, Dr. Gallo was the 1984 alleged discover of HIV. It was later determined that he did not discover it alone, but with Luc Montagnier from France. Dr. Gallo was then credited with the co-discovery of the AIDS virus.

Yet, the problem is, this unique enzyme that is central to the function of HIV/AIDS, and critical to leukemia virus activity as well, was being investigated before 1970. This is approximately fifteen years prior to Dr. Gallo’s alleged discovery of HIV, and almost nine years before he is credited for discovering the first leukemia virus (HTLV-I).

The next graphic depicts the viral recombinations that were routinely carried out under Dr. Gallo’s direction at that time. As the examples show here, monkey viruses—especially SV-40 in the presence of SIVs, simian foamy retroviruses, SFRs, and others—were recombined with feline leukemia virus RNA and chicken leukemia virus RNA, which caused wasting, immuno-suppression, and death.

It is well known that feline leukemia in cats reflects similar pathogenicity and symptomatology as HIV in humans. Additionally, as shown, cross species leaps, contrary to popular belief, were not easily or spontaneously induced. To get these new man-made viruses (called “mutant hybrids”) to jump species into man, the viruses were cultured in human white blood cells in some studies, and human fetal tissue cells in other studies.

The next slide presents another U.S. Government document—a NCI monograph of 1974 showing a map of the world. Over New York you see a square, with a similar one appearing over Central Africa, apparently Uganda. Also, stars appear over northwest Uganda, southeast Uganda, and Bethesda, Maryland. According to the legend, the stars represent “Herpes Virus Research”. Included here is the Epstein-Barr virus and cytomegalovirus from monkeys, linked today to certain cancers and chronic fatigue. The square, the legend tells, depicts liver cancer virus and vaccine research—that is, HB virus and vaccine studies ongoing by 1974 in the two regions initially struck by HIV/AIDS.

To briefly summarize—and you may wish to more critically review this in the Medical Hypotheses publication—between 1974 and early 1975, 200,000 human doses of HB vaccine, representing four sub-types or strains of that virus, were administered to gay men in NYC, Blacks in Central Africa, and mentally retarded children from the Willowbrook State School on Staten Island in New York.

That vaccine was prepared by initially growing the HB virus in contaminated chimpanzees and Rhesus monkeys shipped from Africa to New York by Litton Bionetics.

Dr. Maurice Hilleman, considered the world’s leading vaccine developer, admitted during a 1986 interview (that never aired, the tape of which I recovered from the audio archives of the National Library of Medicine), that he imported the AIDS virus into North America in contaminated monkeys destined for vaccine research and development at the Merck Pharmaceutical Company.

He described how he brought the non-human primates into New York from Africa and got them off the planes. Recovered contracts show that Litton Bionetics’ monkey colonies, as the NCI monograph depicts, were in southeast Uganda and in northwest Uganda. Litton affiliated there, at that time, with the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) that conducted numerous cancer virus and vaccine studies on native populations.

The early HB vaccines were prepared in these contaminated chimpanzees. The viruses were grown in the chimps, and then extracted along with a variety of simian virus contaminants (including SV-40, SIVs, and SFRs) during the vaccine manufacturing process. The viruses were then injected into the Willowbrook children, gay men, and Black Africans.

Of course, many of these people died during this part of the investigation. The survivors, who had developed (HB) antibodies, then contributed their blood. The final vaccine was prepared from this blood by separating the whole cells from the serum. It was from this pooled serum that four different sub-types of the 1974-75 HB vaccine were prepared and administered. The 200,000 doses were reportedly tested on these same populations.

This, according to all the scientific evidence, best explains the triggering of the AIDS pandemic on two far-removed continents, in two demographically distinct populations, during the late 1970s.

You may have heard that AIDS viruses predating this period have been discovered. This is not the truth. Although HIV gene fragments, representing portions of perhaps ancient viruses, have reportedly been discovered, HIVs demonstrating the complete viral genome only reflect this period of AIDS pandemic origin.

I will close by quoting directly from my article in Medical Hypotheses:

“Not easily embraced by individuals, organizations, institutions, and/or government agencies biased by special interests, the dire implications of neglecting this hypothesis, and its further investigation, are unfathomable. Such actions strain the ethical fabric of science, our moral obligations as world citizens, and may be contributing to an irreversible attack against humanity.

“On the other hand, the AIDS crisis may serve an ideologically justified function concerning burgeoning ethnic populations in a period of globalistic transition. In effect, it provides a revenue-generating control-mechanism for ‘national security’ interests and the organizations, institutions, and industries aligned with what amounts to utilitarian global genocide.”

Thank you.

AIDS/Ebola Author Defends Embattled African Presidents: Reports Outbreaks May Be “Man-Made” And CIA-Linked

Sandpoint, Idaho—Two African presidents, defending against the political and biological damage caused by AIDS and a new Ebola outbreak, may find relief by giving their nation’s health ministers a reading assignment. So advises the author of a bestselling book on the two most feared viruses this doctor calls “man-made”.

In letters to both Kenya’s president, Daniel Arap Moi, and South African president, Thabo Mbeki, Dr. Leonard Horowitz, a public health authority and author of the bestselling book Emerging Viruses: AIDS & Ebola, Nature, Accident Or Intentional?, the viruses most people consider an act of Nature were, rather, instigated by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). The agency now oversees all AIDS science in America and tracks it overseas. Diplomatic sources say both leaders are poised to heed the doctor’s counsel.

In recent months, President Thabo Mbeki has come under venomous attacks for his heretical suggestions that AIDS may be genocide, or at least racially linked. Scientists, most biased by pharmaceutical contracts, lambasted him for his criticism of AZT at the International Conference On AIDS, hosted by the president earlier this year.

More recently, his fight with political opponent Tony Leon, South Africa’s Democratic Party leader, reached an international platform when Reuters News Service described the row

Emerging Viruses - AIDS & Ebola

This is the first in-depth exploration into the origins of HIV and Ebola. Claims that these "emerging viruses" naturally evolved and then jumped species from ape to man seem grossly unfounded in light of the compelling evidence assembled in this extraordinary text. Alternatively, the possibility that these bizarre germs were laboratory creations, accidentally or intentionally transmitted via tainted hepatitis and smallpox vaccines in the U.S. and Africa—as numerous authorities have alleged—is investigated herein.

This book reviews the numerous viral vaccine studies conducted simultaneously in New York City and Central West Africa by a narrow network of virologists working for major military-medical contractors under the auspices of the National Cancer Institute (NCI) and the World Health Organization (WHO). Included is Dr. Robert Gallo, the notorious "discoverer" of the AIDS virus. The text presents bizarre and horrifying facts about the biological weapons race of the 1960s and early 1970s when these researchers developed countless immune-system-ravaging viruses, and experimented with an assortment of antidote vaccines allegedly for "defense" and cancer prevention.

between the economist-trained Black leader Mbeki, and the White lawyer Leon. "Difficult as it might be," Mbeki scolded the lawyer in an open letter, "the least you might try to do is to fight against the tendency to hold in contempt those whom White South Africa has held in and treated with contempt for many centuries."

Days later, in Kenya, on October 14, President Arap Moi was alerted by his health ministers that all traffic from neighboring Uganda was being checked for signs and symptoms of Ebola, a hemorrhagic fever virus that kills 90% of those infected within three weeks.

HIV, the virus scientific consensus holds is linked to AIDS, and Ebola, related to HIV only insofar as its effect on the immune system, were both likely bioengineered by military contractors during a top-secret biological weapons program conducted by the CIA, according to Dr. Horowitz's findings.

"I've reprinted the U.S. Government contracts under which numerous AIDS-like and Ebola-like viruses were bioengineered by the Army's sixth top biological weapons contractor. At the time [the late 1960s to mid-1970s] such viruses were hybridized from other germs using crude laboratory methods compared to today's sophisticated biotechnology" the doctor said.

The "bioweapons" strayed from their production labs in contaminated vaccines, according to the Harvard graduate's thesis, which is scheduled to be published in the esteemed scientific journal Medical Hypotheses early next year. "That publication should send a clear message to skeptics in science, as well as international leaders, that President Mbeki's concerns are well founded in fact," Dr. Horowitz said.

President Mbeki has called claims that AIDS originated in Africa and Haiti "insulting". They "powerfully reinforce dangerous, firmly entrenched prejudices," he said.

In a published letter, the African National Congress leader condemned the organized effort to "blame HIV/AIDS on Africans even at the time the US was the epicenter of reported deaths from AIDS.... To me, as an African, it is both interesting and disturbing that the signatories of the so-called Durban Declaration return to the thesis about the alleged original transmission of HIV from African animals to humans, given what science has said about AIDS in the last two decades."

In Dr. Horowitz's letters to the presidents he wrote of the "extensive" scientific evidence supporting a political cause of AIDS as well as Ebola. "The Ugandan shipment of contaminated monkeys that arrived in Europe's top vaccine production labs was administered by...the Army's sixth top biological weapons developer during the late 1960s." He evidenced two leading experts who met to discuss the mysterious origin of Ebola's closest ancestor, the Marburg virus. One was Dr. Rudolph Siebert of the Hygiene Institute of the Philipps University in Marburg, and the other was Dr. Seymour Kalter from the Southwest Foundation's primate lab and the National Cancer Institute's leading diagnostician of viruses that were believed to be "emerging" iatrogenically from labs.

"Siebert," Dr. Horowitz explained, "reported in 1972 that the Marburg virus shared the closest similarity to a family of viruses known as Rhabdovirus simian. These included the culprits responsible for rabies. Dr. Kalter reported the Marburg virus was 'man-made'."

Concerning the issues of racism that President Mbeki raised, Dr. Horowitz concurred. His letter stated: "it is likely no coincidence" that the pharmaceutical company and cancer research agency most closely linked to these "man-made" viruses, and suspected vaccines, "are among the world's leading depopulation funding sources. Viewed as population controllers might, the AIDS pandemic, heavily affecting ethnic populations, is suspiciously utilitarian if not provably Malthusian."

The doctor suggested two options for the embattled African leaders:

"(1) do nothing and have the ongoing biological devastation continue unchallenged and unabated; or (2) seriously consider, with input from your health ministers and scientific advisors, the evidence I advance, ascertain whether or not my findings are valid, and if so, take a stand for...people around the world by openly articulating truths that have been heretofore suppressed. This second choice must include, as President Mbeki has ordered, a reevaluation of all theories of origin, treatment options, and preventive practices concerning HIV/AIDS and Ebola. Should you follow this second path, you will likely learn, as I have, that those who delivered these plagues have also actively suppressed highly effective, low risk, cost-saving alternatives to pharmaceutical 'cocktails'."

The doctor concluded his message to President Arap Moi, drawing optimistically on Bible scripture. "It is my sincere hope that, as time passes and more loving 'watchmen' herald lifesaving and blood-sparing truths, what currently stands as history's grossest example of man's inhumanity towards man, will become the greatest impetus for planetary repentance and lasting world peace."

LETTER TO SOUTH AFRICAN PRESIDENT THABO M. MBEKI FROM DR. LEONARD G. HOROWITZ

October 17, 2000

The Honorable President Thabo M. Mbeki
Office of the President
Private Bag X1000
PRETORIA, SOUTH AFRICA 0001

Dear President Mbeki:

Colleagues from around the world have sent me newspaper clippings concerning the abuse you have received from Democratic Party leader Tony Leon "over the cause and treatment of AIDS". As the author of the American bestseller

Emerging Viruses: AIDS & Ebola, Nature, Accident Or Intentional?, a copy of which, I understand, you have received from Dr. Alim Muhammed when you visited Washington, D.C. earlier this year, I offer you my support. To bolster your position concerning the likely man-made origin of HIV/AIDS, and the pharmaceutical company-linked underpinnings, I offer you, your allies, and critics, the following analysis.

Before I begin, however, I want to thank you for your honorable and courageous statements insofar as bringing world attention to that grave likelihood that HIV evolved iatrogenically, and/or through racist (i.e., genocidal) intent. The U.S. Government documents that I reprinted in my text forcefully support your statements, regardless of how farfetched such theories may seem to uninformed or misinformed audiences.

These critical "Special Virus Cancer Program" documents, that must be brought to world attention, include the National Institute of Health contracts numbered NIH-71-2025 and NIH-71-

DEATH IN THE AIR: Globalism, Terrorism & Toxic Warfare

Hard Cover Book: $29.95 (+S/H)

- This book explains how and why:
- We have evolved from the nuclear age into a "Technotronic Era" with "psychotronic warfare" for optimal population control.
  - Non-lethal warfare is being effectively used to produce sociopolitical and economic outcomes consistent with global genocide.
  - The world's wealthiest policy-makers have recommended, and are working toward, eliminating half the world's population.
  - Accepted methods of disease prevention, such as pesticide sprays, can only be scientifically rationalized as costly and deadly contributions to non-lethal warfare and population reduction.
  - Chemtrail sprays that obscure blue skies are not normal, but reflect a conspiracy of silence and military attacks on the health and welfare of people around the world.

Striking at the heart of a cryptocracy responsible for the latest forms of bioterrorism, psychotronic warfare, and Malthusian eco-genocide, the revelations and wisdom contained in this book offer more than a reality check. They give humanity, you and your loved ones, a final, last minute, choice for survival.

Dr. Leonard G. Horowitz is a graduate of Harvard School of Public Health who has published more than two-dozen books, 120 scientific and lay articles, and numerous audio and videotaped educational programs. He has been a frequent guest on nationally syndicated radio and television news and talk shows representing every major network. Most recently, Dr. Horowitz's work detailing the man-made origins of the AIDS and Ebola viruses prompted two documentaries, one by the internationally acclaimed BBC. He lives with his wife and three children in Sandpoint, Idaho.

Despite the largely false and misleading arguments that the gene sequences of Bionetics's bioengineered retroviruses differed substantially from HIV-1 and HIV-2, an argument that Dr. Robert Gallo gave me which is echoed by leading AIDS researchers today, it is clear a virtual "smoking gun" exists with these contracts that show the unique immune-suppression/leukemia/lymphoma/sarcoma cancer complex, arguably non-existent on planet Earth prior to the first cases of HIV/AIDS seen around 1978, was precisely

The Reptilian Agenda Parts I & II

(Featured interview in the October 1999 issue of The SPECTRUM.)

David Icke has produced two amazing videos with the Zulu "sanusi" or shaman, Credo Mutwa, who reveals astonishing information which, until now, was only available to the highest initiates of the African shaman tradition.

Credo says, "The world must know this—and know it now."

He reveals how a shapeshifting reptilian race (the "Chitauli" to Africans) has controlled humanity for thousands of years and how their bloodlines are in the positions of royal, political, and economic power today.

Credo Mutwa supports all the themes outlined in The Biggest Secret and adds his own unique knowledge and experience of traveling Africa for nearly 80 years.

These videos will re-write the UFO/extraterrestrial story in a way that will blow your mind. UFO researchers have ignored Africa and therefore ignored one of the greatest sources of knowledge on the planet.

While people still argue over Roswell and the extraterrestrial beings apparently found there, African tribes-people have been interacting with these ET "gods" for thousands of years, sometimes eating them, as Credo Mutwa did on one occasion with unforgettable consequences.

Credo has not only seen dead "greys" many times, he has seen them examined behind their "grey" exterior and he knows exactly what they really look like—and it is nothing like we think!

"This is the most amazing man it has ever been my honor to meet—a genius—and the importance of these videos is simply beyond words."

—David Icke

After making these videos, Credo was visited by two people from Cape Town who offered him 50,000 rand, and a house anywhere in South Africa he would like to name, if he would agree to never speak to David Icke again and never have anything to do with him. Credo's reply can be imagined!

what Dr. Gallo, leading the Bionetics team for the National Cancer Institute, spent most of his time and money researching, developing, and testing during the late 1960s and early 1970s. This was precisely timed for the first simultaneous HIV/AIDS outbreaks on two far removed continents in two demographically distinct, and unique, populations.

More telling is the fact that Litton's lab affiliated with the International Agency for Research in Cancer (IARC) located in Northwest Uganda. From here, Hepatitis-B vaccine trials were conducted on Africans as the Merck pharmaceutical company was testing another strain of this vaccine on homosexual men in New York, and yet another strain on Willowbrook State School mentally retarded children on Staten Island.

These three study groups, and few others, were chosen because they were alleged to be at higher risk for Hepatitis-B infections. Merck also used Litton supplied, and apparently contaminated, African monkeys and chimpanzees. Litton's primate colonies were in Southeast Uganda.

The HIV/AIDS link to chimps is best explained by Merck's use of these Litton-supplied non-human primates to help develop four sub-strains of their 1974-1975 Hepatitis-B vaccine given, once again, primarily to gay men in New York City and Blacks in Central Africa. Few tell, or want to acknowledge, that Litton's shipments of approximately 500 monkeys to European vaccine production labs in 1967 initiated the first Marburg virus (mother of Ebola) outbreak in Germany and Yugoslavia.

That these vaccine-related studies likely triggered AIDS is further implied by Merck's leading vaccine expert, Dr. Maurice Hilleman, President Clinton's 1998 Sabin Gold Medal of Honor awardee. Dr. Hilleman went on record, during a 1986 interview, that he brought the AIDS virus into North America in contaminated monkeys destined for vaccine research and testing at Merck. This admission alone deserves a US Congressional, United Nations, if not World Court, inquiry.

Thus, your concerns, President Mbeki, are rational, well studied, and entirely caring, while Mr. Leon's statements reflect gross ignorance furthering injustice.

Regarding the issues of racism that you have rightly associated with HIV/AIDS, space and time does not permit me to detail here the genocidal theory of HIV/AIDS. As you likely know, I dealt with this extensively in my Emerging Viruses text, and also in a forthcoming scientific article in the esteemed journal of Medical Hypotheses. Suffice it to say it is likely no coincidence that the Merck pharmaceutical company, along with the IARC-linked Rockefeller Foundation, are among the world's leading depopulation funding sources. Viewed as population controllers might, the AIDS pandemic, heavily affecting ethnic populations, is suspiciously utilitarian if not provably Malthusian.

Sincerely and respectfully yours,
Leonard G. Horowitz, D.M.D., M.A., M.P.H.

LETTER TO KENYAN PRESIDENT
DANIEL T. ARAP MOI
FROM DR. LEONARD G. HOROWITZ

October 18, 2000

His Excellency Daniel T. Arap Moi,
President of Kenya
Office of the President
Nairobi, Kenya
FAX 011-2542250264

Dear President Arap Moi:

The news regarding the mysterious reemergence of the deadly Ebola virus in Uganda and Kenya grieves me greatly as I know it does you. As disturbing as this new outbreak is, I am sorry to say it might have been predicted, and even prevented, given adequate attention to the documentation I published in a book you currently posses, but to my knowledge, may have not yet read, Emerging Viruses: AIDS & Ebola, Nature, Accident Or Intentional?

Since I know you are a very Godly man, and a Spiritually inspired leader who wishes the best for the people of Kenya, I trust you will receive this information with an open heart and mind in an effort to avert further bloodshed and loss of life. I believe, as is rational, that without getting to the root cause of these mysterious outbreaks through a critical review of the existing scientific literature, and related US Government documents that I have compiled, such epidemics are likely to continue and/or reemerge. Alternatively, I believe you, and other articulate and courageous African leaders like South African President Thabo Mbeki, can take a successful stand for truth, identify the root cause of these problems, and ultimately extinguish the threat, saving the lives of millions of people.

The documents I implore you to assign your health ministers and nation's infectious disease specialists to critically review strongly suggest a socio-economic-political origin of Ebola as well as AIDS, in keeping with statements made by the World Health Organization's AIDS czar, Dr. Jonathan Mann, prior to his untimely demise on Flight 111.

Regarding AIDS, the attached copy of a letter I recently sent to President Mbeki will review the evidence I have accumulated concerning the man-made nature of this pandemic, and those who profit by it.

Regarding Ebola, as detailed in Emerging Viruses, the Paul Ehrlich Institute in Frankfurt/Main, Germany, (named for the early pioneer of immunology, infectious disease transmission, and drug therapy) was among the first vaccine research and development facilities to receive a shipment of contaminated monkeys associated with the first outbreak of the Marburg virus, the mother of Ebola, in 1967. As detailed in my letter to President Mbeki, Litton Bionetics's history and affiliations to the Merck pharmaceutical company and other US biological weapons contractors that worked for the CIA at that time, is highly unsettling, if not frankly incriminating.

Relatedly, Stanford University's Dr. Paul Ehrlich, the author of The Population Bomb, is considered the grand patriarch of population control and a leading voice for depopulating areas of Africa, while another likely descendant of the immunology pioneer, Dr. S. Paul Ehrlich, Jr., became Surgeon General of the US in 1976, just prior to the first large Ebola outbreak in Zaire and the Sudan, when he was called upon to defend the US Army's open-air biological weapons tests on unwitting American civilians and military personnel.

Ebola, you may know, is recognized as among the most ideal biological warfare agents discussed by David Baltimore in Biological And Toxin Weapons Today (Oxford University Press, 1986). Baltimore, currently the President of the California Institute of Technology, is recognized as among the world's leading experts in the field of molecular biology, recombinant virology, and biowarfare. Additional incriminating evidence linking Dr. Baltimore to a 1969 military requisition for AIDS and Ebola-like viruses is also provided in my book. (See pp. 508-509 and 421.)

The Ugandan shipment of contaminated monkeys that arrived in Europe's top vaccine production labs was administered by Litton Bionetics, the Army's sixth top biological weapons developer during the late 1960s.

According to two experts discussing the mysterious Marburg virus outbreak of 1967, Dr. Rudolph Siebert of the Hygiene Institute of the Philipps University in Marburg, and Dr. Seymour Kalter from the Southwest Foundation's primate lab and the National Cancer Institute's leading diagnostician of viruses that were believed to be "emerging" iatrogenically from labs, the Marburg virus was "man-made".

Siebert reported in 1972 that the Marburg virus shared the closest similarity to a family of viruses known as Rhabdovirus simian. These included the culprits responsible for rabies.

During my Emerging Viruses investigation, I also learned that Litton Bionetics' Director, John Landon, beginning July 1965, preceding the first Marburg virus outbreak two years later, began experimenting with Rhabdovirus simian. He reported to the NCI, in 1971, that nine of the original 18 monkeys he had injected had either "died" or were "transferred". Monkeys that had survived the infection had obviously developed immunity and antibodies required for vaccine production. Thus, they were apparently "transferred" to Europe's premier vaccine production labs wherein the Marburg outbreaks

On March 19, 1975, during a cancer virus research and safety symposium, Dr. Kalter, obviously frustrated by some of his colleagues, and the scientific impropriety of avoiding the truth about the mother of Ebola, testified: "I believe simian hemorrhagic fever is important. It appears to be a man-made disease."

Present was Dr. Alfred Hellman, a leading Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) official, and the chairman of the NCI's section on Biohazards Control and Containment. Following Dr. Kalter's stunning but accurate diagnosis of the "man-made" origin of Marburg/Ebola, Hellman, at the helm of the conference's steering committee, felt compelled to redirect discussion to less troubled waters.

Dr. Hellman, Special Virus Cancer Program Reports revealed, was among the world's leading experts in airborne viruses, as Ebola is believed to be. With his links to the AEC, as well as his work at the U.S. Navy Biomedical Research Lab (NBRL) that included biological warfare research and developments, his intimate links to the CIA and their top-secret bioweapons program called Project: MKNAOMI can be surmised.

As discussed and documented in Emerging Viruses: AIDS & Ebola, Hellman served as the executive project officer for the NCI in their effort to test the "Aerosol Properties of Potentially Oncogenic Viruses" with the Navy. Hellman oversaw the NBRL studies in which viruses were spread through the air in an effort to study "virus-host interaction considering both the hazard to humans and animals and the potential for cross contamination."

These studies, similar to what had been conducted on the USS Coral Sea and the USS F. D. Bailey in 1950, were apparently a follow-up to the studies conducted by the Special Operations Division of the Army in cooperation with the Navy and the CIA. This time, in 1971, instead of exposing unwitting military personnel to aerosols containing relatively mild, Serratia marcescens and Bacillus globigii bacteria, humans and animals were exposed to carcinogenic viruses. In these reports, Hellman and his colleagues wisely chose to keep the identity of their human and animal test subjects classified.

All of these studies, biological developments, and testing programs, conducted under the guise of "cancer research", "disease prevention", "vaccine development", and/or military "defense" were, in fact, according to the U.S. Congressional Record, often part of the CIA's Project: MKULTRA that included population control (including depopulation), as well as propaganda dissemination for mass shaping of public opinion.

However circumstantial this evidence may seem, the fact that the key players, as described above and elsewhere in my publications, were all administratively and/or financially linked to CIA-sponsored population-management activities, and thus, by association, to Rockefeller-linked population controllers, deserves serious investigation and reconciliation.

In summary, David Baltimore played a leading role in the Rockefeller-linked National Academy of Sciences/National Research Council in 1969 when his unique expertise was apparently called upon to advise DoD officials and Congressional appropriations committee persons of the feasibility of developing viruses that were descriptively and functionally identical to HIV and Ebola. NCI Special Virus Cancer Program (SVCP) reports showed mutant viruses were developed for which their only conceivable use might be for population control, much like that being accomplished by HIV/AIDS.

The clearest examples of this on the summary list of lethal mutant biologicals under investigation at that time by Bionetics, in association with other military contractors, was the airborne recombinants of "acute lymphocytic leukemia" and "influenza" and "Para influenza" viruses. (See page 452 of my book and related SVCP documentation.)

In other words, spreading leukemia like a common flu would better suit a depopulation objective than it would either cancer research or biological warfare objectives. After all, leukemia kills too slowly for use in traditional biological warfare applications. Not so, however, for "non-lethal" applications for gross, insidious, and lucrative population reduction.

Additionally incriminating is the fact that these appropriations hearings and investigative efforts occurred immediately following Henry Kissinger's request for clarification by the Secretary of Defense, Melvin Laird, concerning America's biological weapons capabilities, at a time when Kissinger, as National Security Advisor, was formulating depopulation policies, particularly targeting Third World nations, and advancing "urgent" new population policy recommendations for implementation by the United Nations, USAID, and the World Bank.

Moreover, given Kissinger's foreign policy objectives for central Africa at that time, including massive depopulation, ordering the CIA to release deadly biologicals in the area is not unrealistic.

The Rockefeller protégé had, after all: (1) instigated the Zaire/Angola war by initially dispatching CIA agent-provocateurs into the area to foment unrest; (2) arranged for payments and "soft loans" to President Mobutu of Zaire who, for an additional $250 million, leased approximately 30,000 square miles of Eastern Zaire (home to approximately 760,000 African villagers) to Atomic Energy Commission-linked ex-Nazi personnel including V-2 missile project officers Dr. Kurt H. Debus, who directed Cape Canaveral's space program until 1975, Richard Gompertz, a specialist on V-2 engines who later directed NASA's Chrysler space division, and Lutz Thilo Kayser, also known as "Dadieu's young man" in reference to Armin Dadieu, his mentor and prominent SS officer who reported to the infamous Nazi commander and art thief, Hermann Goering, on their special program for storing uranium; (3) directed the exfiltration of Nazi scientists from Germany to the United States, like those mentioned above, as well as Erich Traub, Hitler's top biological weapons developer and world-class cancer virologist, during the CIA's top secret Project: Paperclip. Dr. Traub, like Dr. Hellman, affiliated with the NBRL; (4) planned and effected the deployment of nuclear weapons around the world to serve Rockefeller's economic and "national security" interests. In this vein, the association of AEC officials, including Dr. Hellman, to the top-secret testing of immune suppressive and carcinogenic aerosolized biologicals, Kissinger's selected alternatives to costly nuclear weapons, is additionally disturbing, if not incriminating; and (5) served as a leading consultant on the Board of Advisors of the Merck Pharmaceutical Company, the firm that developed the 1974-75 Hepatitis-B vaccine given to gay men in New York City and Blacks in Central Africa that most likely triggered the international AIDS pandemic. Merck's president and Kissinger's corporate affiliate, George W. Merck, was America's biological weapons industry director from World War II until the early 1970s, when the suspected AIDS-linked vaccines, and Ebola-like hemorrhagic fever viruses, were being pilot tested.

Given the horrific implications of all of the above, President Arap Moi, I submit to you as a humble "watchman" described in Ezekiel 3:17-3:21, two general options present for your consideration: (1) do nothing and have the ongoing biological devastation continue unchallenged and unabated, or (2) seriously consider, with input from your health ministers and scientific advisors, the evidence I advance, ascertain whether or not my findings are valid, and if so, take a stand for Kenyans and people around the world by openly articulating truths that have been heretofore suppressed.

This second choice must include, as President Mbeki has ordered, a reevaluation of all theories of origin, treatment options, and preventive practices concerning HIV/AIDS and Ebola.

Should you follow this second path, you will likely learn, as I have, that those who delivered these plagues have also actively suppressed highly effective, low risk, cost-saving alternatives to pharmaceutical "cocktails".

There is a reason the Bible teaches that those who brought on God's judgment and the great plagues in the End Times practiced "sorcery" derived from "pharmacopoeia". It is my sincere hope that, as time passes, and more loving "watchmen" herald life-saving and blood-sparing truths, what currently stands as history's grossest example of man's inhumanity towards man, will become the greatest impetus for planetary repentance and lasting world peace. Holding this vision, I would be pleased by your fellowship and invitation to be a shepherd on this path.

Yours in the Spirit of health and hope,
Leonard G. Horowitz, D.M.D., M.A., M.P.H.

NEWS RELEASE: October 20, 2000

Harvard Grad Says
Vaccine Study Triggered AIDS

Presentation Planned For Boston Public Health Association Meeting In November

Boston—The author of a bestselling book that alleges AIDS was triggered by contaminated vaccines will present his findings at the upcoming American Public Health Association meeting in Boston. The thesis, advanced by Harvard graduate Dr. Leonard Horowitz in an upcoming issue of the scientific journal of Medical Hypotheses, is the subject of a forthcoming BBC special planned for early 2001. The works herald compelling new evidence that the AIDS pandemic was initiated by early Hepatitis-B (HB) vaccine trials conducted on gay men in New York City and villagers in Central Africa during the early-to-mid 1970s. This controversial theory lends credence to widespread suspicions among minority populations as to why the disease disproportionately affects Blacks.

Based on an independent three-year study into the origin of HIV that explains the chimpanzee connection to human AIDS, Dr. Horowitz determined that risky pilot HB vaccine trials were initiated by the New York University Medical Center and continued by the Merck pharmaceutical company until 1975. Collaborating with Merck, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), and the National Institutes for Allergies and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), the government's top AIDS science agency, produced four lots of HB vaccine containing 200,000 human doses.

The four lots, believed to be contaminated with HIV gene sequences, were prepared by passing live HB viruses, grown in contaminated African chimpanzees, to polio vaccine recipients previously exposed to monkey cancer viruses suspected of playing a role in initiating AIDS. The final preparations were injected into gay men in New York City and Blacks in Central Africa by 1975.

According to several investigators, this may best explain how and why there was a sudden simultaneous outbreak of at least four major HIV strains, on two far removed continents, in two demographically distinct populations, in the late 1970s, corresponding to the only complete virus discoveries. These disclosures come at a time of heightened concern regarding the risks posed by HIV/AIDS to U.S. national security and international finance.

On April 29, 2000, the CIA issued a report

declaring that global HIV/AIDS was a U.S. "national security threat" prompting President Clinton to place all of AIDS science, and the agencies conducting it, under CIA oversight. Immediate calls for the arrest of HIV/AIDS "dissident scientists" were made by officials representing consensus interests. Dr. Mark Wainberg, for instance, affiliated with McGill University in Montreal, and the president of the International AIDS Society, called for the immediate incarceration of "scientific dissidents" who proposed alternative explanations of AIDS, its origin, and treatment.

These actions closely followed the highly publicized decision of South African President Thabo Mbeki to include the testimonies of "dissident" scientists in a review of HIV/AIDS. Synchronously, President Clinton approved the National Intelligence Council's (NIC) CIA-sponsored formal declaration of AIDS as a "national security threat".

No stranger to controversy, or U.S. public health officials, Dr. Horowitz has been a regular critic of health scientists biased by economics and pharmaceutical interests. His bestseller, Emerging Viruses: AIDS & Ebola, Nature, Accident or Intentional?, for which he received the 1999 "Author of the Year Award" from the World Natural Health Organization, has gained increasing respect from members of Congress and the medical and scientific communities.

In 1984, when scientists first questioned the possible HB vaccine link to the AIDS epidemic, CDC and Merck pharmaceutical officials omitted investigating homosexuals in New York City, the men known to be the primary and earliest test subjects for the suspected vaccine. Instead, they focused only on Denver and San Francisco populations that had not been immunized using the earliest, most implicated, vaccine lots.

"No wonder your 'expert' CDC authors remained 'anonymous' on this Morbidity & Mortality Weekly Report" Dr. Horowitz chided Dr. David Satcher, Surgeon General of the United States, when he still directed the CDC. "I too would feel ashamed to affix my name to such bogus 'science'."

"It's essential that we understand the cause of AIDS and its prevention," President Clinton told Ugandan leaders on August 26, 2000. To this Dr. Horowitz responded: "Considering the likelihood that HIV/AIDS was vaccine induced, without considering this possible cause, our prevention efforts will remain shortsighted and consistently ineffective unless, that is, your desire is global depopulation."

Powerful Positive Forces At Work In Our Lives

7/3/01 HATONN

Good evening, my scribe. It is I, Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn, come in the One Light of Father/Mother Source—Creator God. Be still and allow for the message to flow freely.

Dear ones, Great Positive Forces are at work within your lives every day. You need not even be consciously aware of the presence of these Forces in order to reap the benefits they offer. These Forces are often referred to as "Spirit Guides", "Angels", "Jesus", "God Force", "Great Spirit"—just to name a few. These Forces offer great compassion and love to all ones, regardless of past or present deeds.

There is NOTHING you ones can do that you cannot be forgiven. Forgiveness comes from within, just as the infinite Life-Force Energy of Love comes from within. Forgiveness comes when YOU ALLOW for it to be a part of your experience.

Those who hold to guilt and shame with an "undying" passion will block the flow of forgiveness of self, and thus create an inner pressure that is both unnatural and unneeded.

Many who do this sort of self punishment do so out of a desire not to forget some one or some thing, though they will profess the reason for the self punishment to be a "tribute to" or "in honor of" the memory or the idea that causes them guilt or shame.

Ones in the physical schoolroom will always make perceived mistakes. These "mistakes", once recognized, will serve as a catalyst for new awareness of self, and eventually serve as markers along the journey of life from which you will be able to measure and perceive growth and change.

Allow for the fact that, for there to be growth, ones must move from their current place of self limitation (due to erroneous beliefs and misperceptions) to recognition and acceptance of the awareness that they are in error. When ones believe that they have achieved the pinnacle of Truth, and therefore there is no need for further exploration and self discovery, these ones have succumbed to the vast overwhelm of their own ignorance.

This is not an insult, for there is truly an infinite journey ahead for each of you. The journey becomes infinite as there is a boundless expansion of awareness achieved every moment as the Infinite Whole of the collective experiences of all ones, everywhere throughout Creation, generates and regenerates newness, and thus greater awareness of Self—The One Light—from which all ones come forth.

To hold rigid to current beliefs and awareness will only serve to prolong the searching that nags at you from within. This nagging is the innate desire instilled in all ones (and expressed in the First Law of The Creation, which you honor in the masthead of The SPECTRUM) to: “Go forth and seek greater knowledge, understanding, and thus awareness.”

You each are explorers who are seeking to understand what exactly is your place in the overall “Divine Plan”. The inner thrust that you may be trying to ignore or suppress through distraction will never leave you, and it will cause you to eventually take actions that will increase your awareness of self and others to a point where you will eventually recognize the DIRECT inner connection to Creator God (the One who created you).

This realization (understanding), when FELT, will cause you ones to begin on an inward journey of exploration. One where you seriously explore the much more subtle emotional sensations and feelings (vibrational signals) that are constantly being offered to you as “markers”, “sign posts”, and sometimes “SCREAMING SIRENS” along the way.

Where do these vibrational signals come from? This leads us full circle. From the Great Positive Forces (Guides, Angels, and God(s)) you ones believe in and trust. The physical game of life is well orchestrated from many vibrational realms (dimensions). All participants have their own unique challenges along the way, and you each play a role that greatly impacts MANY ones across ALL vibrational ranges.

We of the Lighted Realms are diligent in our efforts to maximize the growth potential of all ones. This will, in many instances, mean we stand back and patiently await the call for assistance. We will honor your choices and, if you choose a path of ignorance and confusion, then we will honor this as well. We only go where we are welcome. Thus we remind you ones to go within and ask for assistance on a regular basis. The call will be answered!

Learn to recognize the help that is offered to you. With a little conscious effort, you will begin to appreciate the Powerful Positive Forces working in your life. Please also be very diligent in your efforts of challenging any and all “thoughts” that come to you. Call upon the Light (or Creator God, Jesus, your favorite Angel, or any ideal to which you hold as the Perfection of Goodness) and clarify all thoughts and ideas that may come to you in moments of intuition or meditation.

There are dark forces working to keep all ones in a state of pliable ignorance. These ones will try to emulate the Lighted ones in an effort to gain your trust and confidence. Then, when the time is right, they will not only pull the “rug” out from under your feet, but they will attempt to wrap you within a cloud of confusion wherein you will wonder what happened. Remember: 99% truth and 1% lie can cause great amounts of chaos—especially when the 1% is timed with great precision and accuracy.

All ones seeking the path that helps awaken people are confronted by these dark ones who wish to keep the masses in a state of ignorance. The greater the effectiveness of the Lightworker, the greater the attack. This is in large part the reason for the great destruction of ancient libraries and such. For the truth was written and archived for the world to see, and yet the “great” men of the past were exalted to the state of “hero” for having destroyed knowledge and truth.

Not much has changed in modern times—with the exception of the accelerated rate at which truth and knowledge are distorted and, in essence, destroyed. The mass media networks work diligently to filter and mold the current history of events as they unfold, so as to maintain the desired mental and emotional state of distraction. Remember: if the truth sets you free, then the lie must be the slavemaster’s favorite tool!

This is an ongoing effort by dark energies and forces who struggle with their own inner state of disconnect, and who derive great pleasure in exerting their influence and control over others. By controlling the emotional state of the masses, these entities effectively keep the masses in a low-frequency state of confusion, doubt, despair, etc., that makes them much more manageable.

Many of the children finishing high school, and even college, are feeling a little confused, as if they are “missing” something big. They have been taught to work hard and buy toys (cars, houses, and gadgets) and pay their dues (taxes) to the government that takes care of them. Rarely is one taught to explore their inner Creative Potential. If they have been, it is often only because a parent or other adult mentor has taken the initiative to coach the child.

Exercising your creativity is a very wonderful way to “tune-in” to the more subtle vibrational signals constantly being offered to you. Creative new ideas will cause you to go beyond your current repetitions of habitual living. New ideas acted upon, even in the smallest of ways, will cause the idea to grow and evolve. Newness and relief from the murky mist of ignorance and repetition are what the young adults of the world are craving. And yet they are usually in a frenzied state of “treadmill” activity trying desperately to “do the right thing” and be “normal”.

The current societal structure is built on a foundation of illusion and perceptual assumptions that man is little more than an animal who simply needs to be entertained in order to be quieted to a state of complacency. When you have a society that will spend hundreds of millions of dollars to make a “box-office hit” motion picture and a society that will spend billions of dollars to go and view same, when all the while there are places around the world where children are starving to death or being consumed by great disease, you have a world where the “Great Illusion Master” (anti-Christ) reigns supreme.

In essence, those who are buying into the illusion are slowly and methodically braiding the rope from which they and their children and grandchildren will be hung—all the while thinking that they are “fitting in” and being “normal”.

Dear ones, it is not our wish to always look toward what is “wrong” within your physical schoolroom. In fact, it is for these very reasons that many of you came forth at this time. You chose to enter into the third-dimensional experience to add positive energy and creativity to the world in which you now find yourself. Many of you simply are in need of reminding.

Your current environment is perfect for you to have the opportunity to go within and tap the infinite Creative Potential, and thus find a way to show to the world that there are other options and choices. But don’t become discouraged if what you have to offer frequently falls on deaf ears.

We, of the higher vibrational realms, witness that a good many of the Lightworkers have become “trapped” in the very illusion they intended to help others free themselves from. Such is the “risk” ones assume when they take on such challenges in the lower vibrational ranges of the third-dimensional physical planes.

Many ones, though “trapped” by their current misperceptions, are by no means “counted out”. These ones are the “sleeping giants” whom we are constantly efforting to get through to. Some will have the so-called “near-death experience” and come back a “changed” person, while others will have equally impacting experiences that will “trigger” within them an awakening that, in turn, will cause a great shift in awareness, and thus open them to a greater understanding of who they are and why they are experiencing at this time.

The Lightworkers of the Higher Realms know well the methods of those who feverishly try to enslave the minds of the masses. Likewise, these twisted dark souls know that we will not interfere with the free-will choices of another, and therefore the game continues.

Our methods are tried and true. We know that, with great patience and persistence on our part, all ones will eventually awaken from the illusion to the Greater Reality. When that time comes, the game is over (on your planet), and the dark ones go elsewhere for the satiation of their lust for low-level emotional energy.

Please realize that you have chosen to incarnate into this world at this time so that you can have a more direct impact upon the current evolutionary state of your world. By incarnating you establish a more direct route to affecting the Positive Energy flowing into your world. Learn to reach within and bring this Positive Energy (Light) through into the physical in a deliberate and effective manner.

Be not afraid to take actions that will stand as an example to others of what they are capable of achieving and creating if they just remember to keep centered around the Highest Ideal of Goodness—Creator God. Learn to become a beacon and example for others to follow. You are never too old, nor too young, to start. Elders can inspire others; the youth can stand as a symbol of hope, and thus inspire the elders. In the end, they are one in the same as the infinite progression of life unfolds.

I am Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn, come in the Light of Creator God—The One Light. May you each find, within self, your conscious connections to the Great Positive Force that is forever reaching out to inspire you to the next level of awareness.

Much Love, Blessings, and Peace to you ALL! Salu.

More Revelations About Peculiar Idaho Standoff

Editor's note: The following information provides several new revelations to add to the astonishing compilation article titled "Idaho Standoff: Exposing A Peculiar Land-Grab Scam" in last month's SPECTRUM.

On the surface, the actual events (some of which made national news, though in a greatly sanitized rendition) SEEMED to be "simply" that of a greedy plot to acquire the McGuckin family's Idaho homestead in a commercially desirable location. However, deeper currents and clues, evident in last month's outlay and again below, suggest that perhaps much more could be going on here, possibly having to do with land acquisitions for secret underground facilities in the area that may have connections to the events behind last year's rash of late-summer "lightning induced" wildfires in that same general region (which have started up AGAIN this year—ALREADY!).

Some very confident (or very stupid) pawns feel that they are above the common law and can get away with a surprising array of illegal and immoral actions. Other clues suggest that some serious, covert mind-control techniques are being effectively employed to "direct" the events still unfolding.

Though powerful and well hidden, whatever is behind this matter hints at being much more sophisticated than a crass real estate scam—though such a money-making "carrot" would certainly be plenty of incentive to satisfy the usual temptations enjoyed by political professionals who then "ask no questions" concerning what's "not their business" to know about further up the ladder of command and intrigue.

Edgar Steele And His Uphill Battle To Do The Right Thing

Edgar J. Steele appeared at the "shelter" hearing for the McGuckin children held this morning and made two motions, the second of which was a formal request to be granted leave to withdraw from the representation of JoAnn McGuckin and her children due to his client's refusal to cooperate with him.

Mrs. McGuckin then clearly pronounced her desire that Mr. Steele not continue in any capacity on her behalf or that of her children, thereby obviating the need for the Court to rule on Mr. Steele's second motion. Because the proceedings were under seal, inquiries concerning Mr. Steele's first motion should be directed to the Court.

Steele filed with the Court an affidavit signed by "Jane Doe" (true name disclosed only to the Court due to interests of the children, since Jane Doe will likely provide the temporary foster home for the children) which stated, in part: "I first spoke with JoAnn after her arrest by phone the night of June 1, 2001, and she confirmed that she has asked Mr. Steele to help her out and represent her legal interests of a civil nature, and those of her children."

Steele also filed with the Court a lengthy affidavit of his own which stated, in part: "She stated that she wanted me to appear at any hearing and ensure that her kids didn't get railroaded. She wanted me to defend her interests in keeping her family together and being reunited with her kids. She also asked me to look into the land title forfeiture and see if there was any way to undo that. Then, to make it official, I said 'Then you want me to represent you for all civil issues related to your pending criminal charges, including the land transfers and your children?' 'Yes' was her response. 'You want me to represent your children with regard to any and all custody issues?' Again, Mrs. McGuckin said 'Yes'. I told her I would do so and there would be no charge...."

This should finally put to rest the false allegation circulated by Mr. Robinson, Mr. Powell and the Sheriff's Office that Edgar Steele had never been retained by Mrs. McGuckin.

Steele said: "You know, it is singularly curious that this is the only point upon which these three parties have been able to agree in this matter." Steele also pointed to the fact that he has been the most vocal critic of both Mr. Robinson, for pressing a groundless case and trying the case in the press with false statements, and Mr. Powell, for not diligently pursuing Mrs. McGuckin's interests such as getting her released from jail under acceptable terms and securing at least supervised visitation with her own children, who she has not seen since the day she was arrested.

Steele said that Mrs. McGuckin's "about face" concerning his involvement in this case was as complete as it was without any apparent base in Steele's not having been diligent on behalf of Mrs. McGuckin. "I have no idea why she turned on me. She is extremely fragile mentally and highly susceptible to suggestion and the influences of others, as told me repeatedly of late by (Jane Doe)." Steele absolutely ruled out the possibility that he had subjected Mrs. McGuckin to any undue influence: "What did I have to gain? I was offering to gift her with legal work and a value well in excess of $100,000, after all."

Steele's has also been the lone legal-related voice to protest the seizure and sale of the McGuckin family home, though he stated that he had no evidence of any connection between his outspokenness in that regard and the apparent unified attempt to marginalize, then eliminate, him from the case.

Steele noted that what should be the single most important matter in this entire affair—that of putting this family back together and giving them the space to heal—seems to have been given short shrift. Steele turned over the results of his efforts in this area to the recently-appointed co-counsel for JoAnn McGuckin's interests, Sara Seaborg, for continued handling.

Nor has anybody other than Steele's office, and thus-far anonymous benefactor, done any work or investigation in the pursuit of undoing the egregious tax seizure and sale of the McGuckin family home. This development also closes that file, though Steele indicated a willingness to share the results of his work in that regard, which he characterized as "extremely promising", with any subsequent counsel that Mrs. McGuckin might secure to carry on her family's interests in the Garfield Bay property, now owned by a Mr. And Mrs. Korengut of New Jersey.

His withdrawal also forecloses the possibility of Steele's firm at this time making an anticipated constitutional challenge to the Idaho State law which provides that the proceeds of the sale of the property realized from a tax sale in excess of back taxes go to the government rather than the dispossessed owners of the property.

Steele has boldly pronounced that: "This law is a clear violation of the Constitutional prohibitions against denial of due process and unreasonable seizures." "Regrettably," said Steele, "more people will have to be impoverished by their own government before another attorney eventually comes into possession of a case with which he or she is willing to go up and get the law reversed, as my firm stood ready to do in this case."

Steele noted that donations from every state in the country were pouring in to the trust fund he established to, first pay JoAnn McGuckin's bail, then provide for the family's needs. "We went a little over $14,000 on Saturday and every day sees the post office box stuffed again." Steele absolutely ruled out the possibility of turning the money over to the appointed counsel, Bryce Powell, for handling, saying that he would likely give over handling of the trust fund to a local bank, with the strict provision that Powell never be allowed to touch it, since Powell had previously tried to get Steele to pay over some of that money to Powell, to supplement his own county stipend for handling the case.

Steele stated that, previously, he had been "ready to post $10,000 cash to bail out Mrs. McGuckin just two days after she was arrested" and was frustrated that the bail was never reduced to that amount. Instead, the court merely granted her a release on her own recognizance, but saddled with terms to which she could not consent, such as agreeing not to see her own children, who had lost their father just two days prior to her arrest.

"I'm a father," said Steele, "and that is a term I would never agree to, not in a million years. She might as well be held under an order which denies the possibility of posting of bail, for all the good the current court order does her."

Steele was especially critical of the local press, which seemed to fully cooperate with the Robinson/Powell/Jarvin "triumvirate" in attempting to paint him as an interloper with ulterior motives. "Absolutely" said Steele. "I admit it. My hidden agenda was seeing that this family get a fair shake from the system for a change. Is it any wonder that the system lashed out at me?"

"Just goes to show you," Steele said of his departure from the case, "even when it comes to your own neighbors, sometimes no good deed goes unpunished."

SOMETHING ROTTEN IN THE IDAHO DIRT by Kathy McMahon <<http://www.psyopnews.com>>

Growing McGuckin petition at <<http://www.petitionpetition.com/cgi/petition.cgi?id=1891h>>

Last week on PsyOpNews, we reported "smelling a rat" in the cheap tax-sale of the McGuckin "siege kids" home in Bonner County, Idaho. That smell is turning into a stench.

Closer examination reveals a Bonner County that looks like a judicial and administrative "Wild West"—more reminiscent of the late 1890s than the 21st century.

This week, Don Harkins, the redoubtable editor of the local investigative Idaho Observer, reminds us that police deputy Bill Tyson, who lured JoAnn McGuckin from her six children, only to arrest her, is alleged to have shot and then framed a local man, Rex Prewitt, in 1999, and is facing a civil suit in the matter later this year.

Perjury

Only weeks before the recent arrest of JoAnn McGuckin, in April 2001, Lucy Prewitt—wife of the now-imprisoned man, told Bonner county Commissioners that deputy Bill Tilson had "committed perjury repeatedly" in reports, interviews, and court testimony. She said that Tilson and police partner Bill Skinner told "different stories to other officers, their superiors, the Review Board, and in court".

"They seem to have a difficult time keeping their invented stories straight. They framed my husband after shooting him unarmed. They can't remember which lies they've told before."

The officers have maintained their account of events was true, but Mrs. Prewitt called for an investigation into what Harkin says "appears to be a conspiracy to throw an innocent man into prison as a cover for the wrongful shooting".

Professional Misconduct

Meanwhile, as JoAnn languishes in Bonner County Jail, her lawyer, Bryce Powell, has agreed to delay the hearing of her case while negotiations continue with Prosecutor Phil Robinson.

Unfortunately for JoAnn, that tactic may leave her devoid of the media spotlight that could be her best protection.

In her April statement to Bonner County Commissioners, Lucy Prewitt, whose husband was also prosecuted by Phil Robinson, said that he had "committed perjury in court and lied to the attorney general's office" in the handling of her husband's case.

Back in 1994 the Idaho State Bar gave Phil Robinson a public reprimand for his professional misconduct under: "Idaho Rule of Professional Conduct 8.4(c), conduct involving dishonesty, deceit, or misrepresentation in written statements made to the court."

Phil Robinson might have had a credible opponent in Edgar Steele, the man who offered to represent JoAnn McGuckin—then withdrew following difficulties with client communications, and a media outcry over his previous defense of a member of a right-wing group. Local public defender Bryce Powell replaced Steele.

Don Harkins, the Idaho Observer editor, is very concerned at her continued detention for refusal to agree to abide by child welfare decisions on visitation with her own children.

"We suspect that JoAnn is being drugged. We also believe that she is becoming inappropriately attached to her public defender—lulled into feeling as if he is performing in her best interests when we can tell from the outside that he is not. By the time she is released from custody, she will be county putty” Harkins wrote in a recent email received by <PsyOpNews.com>

Another Mother's Police Troubles

Harkins, whose anti-corruption crusade has some supporters fearing for his life, also recalls that another local mother—Doris Ann Parkison, whom he describes as “a dedicated wife and mother of four who owned an upholstery business”, was found guilty April 27, 2001, of possessing methamphetamine that nobody but police have ever seen.

Fearing that a court-mandated drug test would be illegally tampered with, Doris fled, but was captured along with her husband in Washington State, where she is awaiting extradition to Idaho for contempt of court.

The Parkisons were owners of 60 acres of forest near Hope. Harkins reports that: “Their property is adjacent to land that seems to be important to powerful forces.”

Parkison and her husband had been researching some of the “curious” relationships among those in the power structure in Bonner county, says Harkin, who accepts their claim that they had already experienced several months of mostly psychological harassment before the arrest incident.

Idaho Dirt

Joann McGuckin has about as much chance of a fair deal in all this as a Black in 1990s Los Angeles.

There is old dirt in Idaho. But it is unlike the dirt they wash off Idaho potatoes. This old dirt won't wash off at all. We need to protect JoAnn McGuckin and her children from these people.

McGuckin Released! National Standoff Mother's Charges Reduced

From the Sierra Times (www.sierratimes.com) for 6/29/00:

A judge on Thursday freed the woman whose six children held off sheriff's officers for five days, reducing the child neglect charge against her to a misdemeanor.

The unconditional release allows JoAnn McGuckin the right to see her children without supervision, but she still faces a custody battle with the state, which has placed them in a foster home. A custody hearing was set for Friday.

McGuckin had refused another judge's earlier offer to leave jail on condition that visits with her children be supervised. The children visited McGuckin in jail only once.

As McGuckin left jail, she said she would spend the night in a motel.

“It's one step in the right direction” she told reporters. “We'll see where we go from here. I'm almost bewildered. I've been in jail so long it feels like home.”

The misdemeanor charge carries a maximum sentence of six months in jail and a $3,000 fine. McGuckin pleaded innocent Thursday to the reduced charge.

First District Court Magistrate Judge Debra Heise ruled there was insufficient evidence to support the felony neglect charge.

“I find the state failed to sustain its burden that the conditions were likely to cause death or great bodily injury” the judge said. “The state has proven that their health may have been in danger.”

Heise had ordered the hearing to determine if criminal charges should be filed.

McGuckin was arrested May 29, prompting a standoff between the children, ages 8 to 16, and authorities at their ramshackle home.

The ruling came after the judge heard testimony from her eldest, 19-year-old Erina McGuckin, who left home last year to join the Navy. She complained to authorities about the living conditions at their home.

She said her family lived in an unsanitary, squalid house without running water since 1977, with little or no heat and intermittent electricity.

On Wednesday she had said the family ate bread that had been gnawed by rodents and had to remove animal feces from their food as it was cooking.

But a conflicting account was given Thursday by Kathryn McGuckin, 16, who said the family had been under extreme stress for several years because both parents were sick.

She said that had caused some of the housecleaning, laundry, and other chores to remain undone for periods of time.

The children's father, Michael McGuckin, died of multiple sclerosis in May.

“We could not deal with the stress of the house, being on shift all night long with Dad, haul water, prepare food for the kids, and our education, and keep up the house to the world standards of what all homes should be” Kathryn McGuckin said.

Comment: Idaho's Property Theft Laws

by Don Harkins

The McGuckin story has illuminated several of the mechanisms whereby agencies of the government are emboldened through civic complacency to violate due process and civil rights to imprison people and seize custody of their property and their minor children. The McGuckin story also shined a spotlight on what may prove to be the biggest racket in the state: As per Title 63, Chapter 10, Section 1015 of Idaho Code, proceeds from the sale of real property, “shall be paid into the county treasury by the tax collector.”

The McGuckin family could have redeemed their 40 acres of beautiful north Idaho property, with ¼ mile of private lake frontage, which has a value estimated to be between $350,000 and $500,000 had they been able to pay a year's taxes—about $1,500. However, because the county commissioners refused to “forgive” the property taxes, which they have the power to do, and refused to accept a payment from neighbors who took up a collection to redeem the McGuckin property, it was sold at auction for $53,000. The total tax owed the county, less costs associated with the sale, was about $8,100.

The excess monies, rather than being returned to the family, was deposited with the county treasury where it was “apportioned among the several state and county funds and taxing districts, as provided for the apportionment of property taxes”.

The law is different when a person is behind on their personal property taxes. According to IC 63-11-7: “All excess over the property taxes and costs of the proceedings of any sale must be returned to the owner of the property or deposited in the county treasury to be refunded by order of the county commissioners.”

In other words, if the county decides to seize personal property to pay a tax debt, it must return to the indebted citizen all monies over the due amount; if the county seizes your real property to pay a tax debt, it must keep all monies generated from the sale. The way the law reads, real property may be foreclosed upon for back taxes, seized for nonpayment, and sold at auction to the highest bidder.

When the new owner, who in this case purchased the property for pennies on its real dollar value, pays the full amount of the sale to the county, which currently holds title, the back taxes are paid and the excess funds are deposited into the county treasury where they are apportioned among the various state and county agencies.

"We are going to challenge the law" commented Bonner County Board of Commissioners Chairman Tom Suttmeier at a public meeting June 5. Suttmeier stated that he thought the law was unfair and that had the family been allowed to keep the excess, it would have at least been able to afford to purchase a trailer house to park on a different piece of property.

It would appear that the legislature passed into law a powerful incentive for county governments to foreclose upon private property by giving them the authority to keep all the "profit" realized from such sales for government activities.

McGuckin Case Prompts Review Of Tax Law Recently "Recodified" Tax Law Authorizes, Encourages Counties To "Steal" Real Property

by Don Harkins

It appears that tax reformation bill H783 sponsors and supporters, such as the Idaho Association of Counties, were well aware of the implications of the provision that became 63-1015 in Idaho tax code, but most of the legislators were not.

Both houses voted unanimously to pass the bill, oblivious to the serious consequences to property owners. Had the full assembly of legislators and the public, whose conscience they represent, understood that the new tax code would give counties ungodly incentive to take people's property in tax foreclosure, as a tremendous revenue generating scheme, this provision of the law would likely have been stricken.

It is my belief, after reviewing the bill's legislative history, that the provision that allows funds in excess of taxes owed be deposited with the county treasurer to be apportioned among various state and county coffers, was intentionally not discussed or debated. Why? Because the bill's special interest proponents, namely the Idaho Association of Counties, knew the public would have been outraged to learn that the state would realize huge profits from the misfortune of Idaho property owners who fall on hard times.

Both the houses of the 1996 Idaho legislature unanimously passed H783 which completely revamped the state's tax law and gave birth to section 1015 of the law which states that all proceeds from the sale of real property (land) that had been foreclosed upon for nonpayment of taxes "shall be paid into the county treasury by the tax collector".

Bill supporters, including the Idaho Association of Counties and bill sponsor Rep. JoAn Wood (R-Rigby), claimed that: "The purpose of this bill is to recodify Title 63...to simplify and modernize administration of the property tax system, clarify language, and organize the property tax statutes in a more logical manner."

The bill's statement of purpose is explained under the heading "fiscal note" that: "There would be no impact on the general fund and no increase in taxes to taxpayers. There would be an economic benefit and potential cost savings to the counties by improving the efficiency of property tax administration."

The high-profile McGuckin incident showed that the law is a boon to county coffers at the expense of citizens whose property is sold at public auction to satisfy a delinquent property tax debt. In the McGuckin case, 40 acres of pristine property with ¼ mile of lake frontage with an estimated market value of $350,000 to $500,000 was sold for $53,000 to developers for approximately $8,000 in back taxes.

Prior to the passage of H783, proceeds from the sale in excess of the tax debt would have been returned to the family. However, current state tax law demands that excess proceeds are to be deposited in the county treasury "to be apportioned among the several state and county funds and taxing districts". Section 1015 of the current tax law provides tremendous incentive to county officials to foreclose on private real property.

State Mental Health Code Behind McGuckin Persecution? County Prosecutorial Process Resembles 16-24 More Than 18-15

by Don Harkins

JoAnn McGuckin was arrested the afternoon of May 29 on the basis of a criminal complaint filed by Bonner County Prosecutor Phil Robinson at 9:30 a.m. that same day. Robinson alleged felony injury to children, a violation of Idaho Code 18-1501(1).

The process that led to McGuckin's arrest and the subsequent searching of her home appears to be in flagrant violation of numerous state guidelines that dictate due process in a criminal prosecution. Though Robinson claimed that McGuckin was in violation of IC 1501(1), his process more closely resembles one that could be used to enforce IC 16-2411 and 16-2419. Those statutes are found in Title 16 of Idaho Code: Children's Mental Health Services.

It would appear that Robinson told the court that he was proceeding under IC 18-1501(1) so that the public would not discover that he had invoked the awesome police powers of the state as authorized by Title 16 of Idaho Code. Where's the warrants?

Though the criminal complaint was filed by Bonner County Prosecutor Phil Robinson, and his "witness" testimony at the probable cause hearing convinced Magistrate Judge Debra Heise to find probable cause for a search warrant and arrest warrant for JoAnn McGuckin May 29, 2001, it appears that actual arrest and search warrants were never issued.

McGuckin, 46, was arrested for felony injury to children, and her Garfield Bay home thoroughly searched by county officials who hoped to find enough evidence to justify their actions which led to her arrest and the infamous five-day standoff between her children and city, county, and state police.

Robinson claims that he delivered the warrants to police at the McGuckin property the afternoon of May 29. Though warrants are considered public documents, no member of the media has been able to obtain the warrants in this matter. Bonner County Sheriff Phil Jarvis has told the media that he will neither confirm or deny the existence of either the arrest warrant or the search warrant. What about Rule 7?

According to Rule 7 of the Idaho Rules of Criminal Procedure: "All felony offenses shall be prosecuted by indictment or information." Robinson did not seek an indictment to prosecute McGuckin. He merely filed a complaint with the court at 9:30 a.m. May 29, 2001, wherein he infers that he is a witness to the crime of felonious Injury to Children.

Rule 7 also states: "The information shall be signed by the prosecuting attorney."

The complaint is signed by the complainant "Philip Robinson", apparently in his private capacity. Rule 7 does not provide for the prosecutor to witness and prosecute a felony. The complaint was defective because it was not signed by the prosecutor.

According to Rule 7, Robinson cannot be both witness and prosecutor. Aside from the apparent violations of due process described above, it turns out that many of the charges made by Robinson on the complaint and during the probable cause hearing have either been found to be false, grossly exaggerated, or so subjective it would be impossible to establish McGuckin's criminal intent.

A Look At Title 16's Chapter 24

Chapter 24 of Title 16 has 34 sections which deal with children's mental health. This chapter became law after passage of HB320 in 1998. The Idaho Observer published TUFF President and IO Legislative Analyst Bill Denman's analyses of the bill while it was being discussed in the legislature in June, 1997, and after it was passed into law in the July, 1998 edition. In both the 1997 and 1998 articles, Denman predicted that the law would provide government employees with tremendous latitude to justify the involuntary removal of children from homes based upon subjective statements commonly referred to as hearsay.

[Editor's note: And, of course, this same procedure is occurring all over the United States under the permission of similar laws. Thus you can be sure the whole perverted agenda is instigated and coordinated from much higher up the "crooked" ladder of command than any one county or state level.]

Section 2411 appears to be a description of how police ultimately achieved physical custody of the children five days after the apparently warrantless arrest of their mother. Section 2411(1) states: "A peace officer may take a child into protective custody and immediately transport the child to a treatment facility for emergency mental health evaluation in the absence of a court order if and only if the officer determines that an emergency situation exists as defined in this chapter, and the officer has probable cause to believe, based on personal observation and investigation, representation of the child's parents, or the recommendation of a mental health professional that the child is suffering from serious emotional disturbance as a result of which he is likely to cause harm to himself or others or is manifestly unable to preserve his health or safety with the supports and assistance available to him and that immediate detention and treatment is necessary to prevent harm to the child or others."

Section 2419 of Title 16 describes how, once "public funds" are used to involuntarily commit a child to mental healthcare services, the state assumes physical custody of the child: "The department of health and welfare shall acquire physical custody of the child and the right to determine the disposition and placement of the child whenever the placement requires the expenditure of public funds" the law reads.

Had McGuckin been told that the county had ordered her children be committed for mental health services, and had she volunteered to take them in herself, she could have retained physical custody of the children, according to the law. However, since she had been removed from the property, apparently after being arrested, the state had to come in, at public expense, and deliver the children to a (mental?) healthcare facility, Bonner General Hospital. Officials did admit that, while the children were in state custody at Bonner General, they underwent physical exams and at least cursory psychological testing.

We can see why the county would want the public to believe that McGuckin was properly arrested for a felony and that her children were then taken into the protective custody of the state under the authority of the Idaho criminal code: It did not want the public to realize that, under Chapter 24 of Title 16, police with probable cause to believe a child or children are in danger, must immediately capture the child and take him to a MENTAL healthcare facility for treatment.

For the county to admit that it used provisions in Chapter 24 to arrest McGuckin and assume physical custody of her children without due process as demanded in criminal procedure would have been too obvious a display of the unfettered powers of the police state.

Northern Idaho Senators Clyde Boatright, Shawn Keough, and Gordon Crowe voted to pass the Children's Mental Health Act into law; northern Idaho representatives Charles Cuddy, Hilde Kellogg, June Judd, and Wayne Meyer also voted to give the state the power to destroy families without due process.

A County's Helping Hand

by Don Harkins

Bonner County Commission Chairman Tom Suttmeier told 15 witnesses at the board's weekly public meeting June 5 that it "appears to me" that the "County did everything in its power" to help the McGuckin family hang onto its property.

[Editor's note: What a whopper, even for a politician!]

Suttmeier made his comments after reviewing the county's file on the foreclosure, seizure, and ultimate disposal of the McGuckin property at public auction. It would appear that in order for Suttmeier to believe the county had "gone the extra mile" for the McGuckins, he had to ignore comments from a former [and why is that?] county commissioner.

Former Bonner County Commissioner Bud Mueller, who was out of town at the time of the incident, said that he was outvoted by the other commissioners who would not "forgive" the family's tax debt, though they had the authority to do so last year. According to Mueller, the county has routinely "forgiven" past due property taxes for Schweitzer Mountain Ski Resort, Bonner County Mall, and other personal and commercial properties.

The Bonner County Commissioner's office claims that it does not compile a list of taxes it has forgiven, but the issue of forgiving a tax is handled publicly at the weekly meetings if a person wanted to go over the minutes of each meeting and locate the specific cases. The Commissioner's office also stated that, though news that a property has been relieved of its tax burden is public, documentation submitted by the applicant to prove hardship worthy of tax relief is not available to the public.

Mueller also said that, prior to the property being sold at auction, the McGuckins' neighbors took up a collection and offered to save the family's 40 acres from foreclosure by paying a year's worth of back taxes. Mueller said that the county refused to accept the payment as being "too late".

According to state law, the property owner has the right to redeem his property if taxes are paid-up within three years of it being deeded to the county or sold to a qualified buyer-whichever comes first. It would appear that the county not only failed to forgive the taxes when it could have done so under the family's obviously impoverished circumstances, it refused to accept a timely payment that would have delayed any further action against the property for another year.

Don Harkins of the Idaho Observer told Suttmeier that it appeared the county proceeded against McGuckin's property as if she was competent enough to understand that tax delinquency notices must be responded to in a timely manner, but that the county moved against her children as if she were mentally disturbed. "Which is it?" Harkins asked. The commissioners had no answer.  $\triangle$

The Secrets Of Timothy McVeigh

Shackled and hand-cuffed to major financial forces, the moguls of the monopoly press believe the secrets of Timothy McVeigh ended when he ended. And the stooges, masquerading as our leaders, governing nowadays without our consent, are inclined to believe that as well.

What they did not realize is that some of their supposed confidential conversations were not that hush-hush, were overheard and noted, even apparently taped. What did they know and not tell us? Information confirmed to them as correct but kept from the common people?

1. That the American secret political police had McVeigh under video and audio scrutiny from at least thirty days prior to the multiple bombings on April 19, 1995, of the Alfred P. Murrah Building.

2. McVeigh was surveilled in Kansas and Oklahoma in the company of two Middle-Eastern types, partly disguised. As known to the FBI, the American CIA, and other espionage agencies, foreign and domestic, his two handlers accompanied him in a late-model four-wheel-drive pick-up truck.

3. As these agencies corroborated, McVeigh's supervisors were actually Iraqi military officers, from intelligence units, quietly brought into the United States at the end of the brief Persian Gulf War, 1991. They were part of more than four thousand of the same, supposed defectors, arranged by then President George Herbert Walker Bush.

The Elder Bush, many do not know, for the decade of the 1980s, was the PRIVATE business partner of Saddam Hussein, the Iraqi strongman. Together, they shared billions and billions of dollars of kickbacks and "protection" funds, from the weak oil sheikdoms of the Persian Gulf.

A little known Chicago federal lawsuit was brought, in October 1990, during the lead-up to the shooting war, to keep concealed the related bank records showing the clandestine partnership. The case involved the records of the Chicago unit of Italy's largest bank, owned in part by the Vatican, Banca Nazionale del Lavoro (BNL). The Federal Reserve Board wanted the House Banking Committee Chairman to agree never to use the records because he refused to sign a secrecy oath.

As the only journalist attending the court hearing, I interviewed some of the participants in the back of the courtroom. I asked and received identical answers three times, to be certain of the crucial data. They confirmed the Bush-Saddam relationship and the monstrous kickbacks from the sheikdoms.

Only one publication, a populist newspaper, The Spotlight, penetrated the nationwide censorship and ran my exclusive story, August 19, 1991. The case was entitled People of the State of Illinois ex rel Willis C. Harris, Bank Commissioner vs. the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the House Banking Committee, No. 90 C 6863, in the U.S. District Court, and later heard in the U.S. Court of Appeals, 7th Circuit, Chicago.

The three-judge federal appeals court panel was dominated by the infamous Chief Judge Richard A. Posner. (Visit our website for our story "Chief Crook Enters Microsoft Case".) Posner and his virtual shadow, federal appeals Judge Frank H. Easterbrook, although on the bench, continue to represent reportedly the billion dollar stock portfolio of the oil-soaked Rockefeller's University of Chicago, were they used to be law professors. (The two judges have reportedly failed to disclose the relationship in their mandatory annual Federal Financial Disclosure Report.)

As part of the cover-up, Chief Judge Posner ordered the Bush/Saddam/BNL case removed from the courthouse. Later, Posner and his shadow Easterbrook, as a reprisal for my reporting the case on my TV show, unconstitutionally ordered me and a TV program associate of mine, Joseph Andeuccetti, barred from all the federal courtrooms in the 7th Circuit, Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin. (The U.S. Supreme Court refused a remedy to this blatant First Amendment violation.)

4. Of the more than four thousand Iraqi military officers brought into the U.S. by then President Bush, more than five hundred reside with their families in Lincoln, Nebraska, and two thousand with their families reside in Oklahoma City and right nearby.

5. As actual cronies, although little known or understood, the Elder Bush, and later as President, William Rockefeller Clinton, arranged for these supposed defectors to have housing, to be usefully employed, and to have other financial and related provisions, for the Iraqis and their families. Jointly, the Elder Bush and Clinton were in a position to know full well that some of these military officers were double-agents, trained in dirty bloody tricks.

Little-known, the Elder Bush has reportedly been a major stockholder of a French firm, American LaFarge, which reportedly makes the ingredients for poison gas, supplied to Saddam Hussein. The Iraqi strongman, during the Iraq-Iran War, 1980 to 1988, used the poison gas against hordes of very young Iranian soldiers, as well as against Saddam's own domestic dissidents, the Kurds. A director of American LaFarge has been Hillary Rodham Clinton.

Both the Elder Bush and Clinton knew, as Presidents, what the American common people generally do NOT know about the end of the Persian Gulf War. Namely, tens of thousands of Iraqi soldiers, mostly conscripts, were proceeding under a white flag of surrender when they were shot from behind, on the ground and from the air, as the U.S. military had been ordered. Some estimate as many as 150 thousand young Iraqis were thus the victims of these war crimes. Many, still alive, were pushed by U.S. military bulldozers—Nazi-style—into mass graves in the desert. Under strict censorship, the U.S. pressfakers were not permitted to publish or air pictures of bodies, only miles and miles of blown-up military trucks, tanks, and other Iraqi military equipment.

In the Islamic world, were the Oklahoma secrets known, they might correctly feel the Iraqis got justifiable revenge in causing, so far, the worst terrorist attack on U.S. soil. Used were domestic dissident patsies and surrogates for Iraq which has been interwoven with the business affairs of the Bush family and Bill and Hillary Clinton, and Richard Cheney.

6. As confirmed as to contents, by the FBI/CIA/intelligence agencies surveillance of Timothy McVeigh in the company of his Iraqi military officer handlers, McVeigh and his handlers carried around several suitcases. Some of them contained highly effective C-4 explosives. One suitcase contained a lower level sub-atomic device, known as "Red Mercury". The suitcase nuke had been developed by the Soviets and made available to their client-state, Iraq. The shearing off of the steel pillars of the Murrah Building was NOT done by a fertilizer truck-bomb from in front of the building. Rather, by devices in the parking section of the basement.

As reported by a researcher:

"Jane Graham, a sixty-year-old Federal Housing Services employee, was on the ninth floor of the Murrah Building when she saw, heard, and felt the rolling tremor of the building, accompanied by a slow, rumbling explosion.

About 6-to-8 seconds later, she was struck by a much more powerful and sudden explosion that lifted the floors of the building straight up. About 3 hours after the explosions took place she saw and later obtained video recordings of the federals pouring wet concrete into the 25 foot crater in the basement of the Murrah Building.

Even though she demanded to testify before the Grand Jury she was not allowed to do so. Nor was she allowed to testify at all concerning any of the proceedings surrounding the Oklahoma City massacre. Many other witnesses report similar experiences. Most witnesses are too fearful to speak out."

[Editor's note: Go back and reread the analysis from the highly credentialed geologist in the last issue of The SPECTRUM for a better picture of what the above description by the 60-year-old employee actually confirms about the advanced nature of the technology utilized for the building "blast"—perhaps in conjunction with more conventional explosive devices such as Sherman alludes to.

And as for the quick pouring of concrete in the building basement—remember that the building was an entryway into the supersecret underground tunnel system. There had to be a quick "burying" or sealing-off of that fact, as well as creating an insulation layer for the building-leveling blast that the government knew it was going to execute as soon as possible to hide any other clues from nosy, honest investigators.]

Independent persons, with radiation gauges, called Geiger Counters, tried to measure the radiation after the explosions, but were not permitted to get that close. In the past, I have been heckled for my exclusive stories that nuclear-type radiation residue, from tritium, was found and secretly measured by government operatives in the bomb site. Luckily or otherwise, what was discovered were leftovers of tritium. Unlike plutonium, tritium does not have a hundred-year or more "half-life", the period during which it can still greatly harm. Some contend the half-life of tritium is as little as thirty days.

Critical of the fertilizer truck-bomb theory, author David Hoffman in his book (The Oklahoma City Bombing And The Politics Of Terror, Feral House, original 1998 edition, page 14) did state:

"An article in The Nashville Tennessean insists Saddam Hussein has been developing 220 pounds of lithium-6 a year. Lithium-6 can be converted to tritium, an essential ingredient in thermonuclear reactions."

And in a footnote:

"'Iraq Also Worked On Hydrogen Bomb', Associated Press, quoted in The Nashville Tennessean, 10/9/91, as quoted in Charles T. Harrison, 'Hell In A Hand Basket, The Threat Of Portable Nuclear Weapons', Military Review, May, 1993."

7. Before and after the apparent death of Timothy McVeigh, several persons, apparently family members of network newsreporters, and some reporters themselves, discussed some items mentioned here, with retired network reporters, Establishment journalists, retired FBI officials, news network bosses, and such.

Apparently they did not know they were being overheard and, in some instances, taped. The conversations corroborate that the top honchos of the news networks in America knew about the FBI/CIA surveillance of McVeigh PRIOR TO THE BOMBINGS and were aware of the FBI/CIA audio/video taped surveillance. BUT the data was censored at the highest level of the U.S. Government and the monopoly press. Further, the discussions showed that the FBI/CIA have closed-circuit video showing an Iraqi military officer supervising the one purporting to be McVeigh near the bomb site.

8. In his heavily documented and detailed book, author David Hoffman raises questions that there may have been others posing as "Timothy McVeigh" and that "McVeigh" was under mind control. That is, that the bombings may have been orchestrated or allowed to happen as an espionage event. Several persons claiming to be "Timothy McVeigh" all staged apparent events, many miles apart, that someone would remember. All the while the person doing something very odd emphatically proclaims "My name is Timothy McVeigh".

For many years suppressed in the U.S. and not allowed to be sold in bookstores, there had been a best-seller in various languages in Europe. In English called Farewell America, it was written by operatives of the French CIA under the pen-name "James Hepburn". They penetrated the plot against President John F. Kennedy but, because of complex reasons, too many to list here, they did not see fit to warn him. The book shows how the American CIA used several persons, not all of them actually looking that much like Lee Harvey Oswald, staged odd events and commotions to bring attention to themselves, and then loudly and emphatically proclaimed "My name is Lee Harvey Oswald".

9. Sarcastic sorts even raise the question: Was the REAL "Timothy McVeigh" put to death? Or, for that matter, was ANYONE put to death in the death room at Terre Haute Prison on June 11, 2001? They say: If "McVeigh" were given a sedative to put him to sleep, and slumber, then how was it that, at the end, HIS EYES WERE OPEN?

10. This item requires a little background. Little-known outside the news industry, the major radio news outlets, linked to the networks like in New York, have available several different news "menus" from the network. They are shown the menus just before the top of the hour so the local outlet news director can select.

Sometimes they are ORDERED not to use certain items for their part of the nation. For a long time, during the night, California radio outlets of news networks would use Menu One items—the best, sometimes revealing news items. Chicago radio stations, on the other hand, would use only "softballs"—Menu Five or further down than that.

Funny thing: that has been recently reversed. For example, CBS Radio News during the night was putting on real hot stuff about political assassinations and such. Why? The reporters were worried that their daytime bosses would go along with a merger with a foreign firm, endangering the older reporters' pension rights and such. Thus Menu One was blackmail against the editors, against the would-be merger partner.

On the day "McVeigh" reportedly was snuffed, June 11, 2001, cbsnews.com on their website put the following sly statement:

"Media witnesses described McVeigh as having a nearly shaved head, LOOKING OLDER and thinner than in previous encounters with the public." (Emphasis added)

Did CBS want to raise questions with sharp-eyed sorts that maybe the REAL McVeigh was not the one in the prison death room? Sort of Menu One blackmail? (A division of CBS has supplied equipment and trained personnel to the American CIA and the Pentagon for military and espionage games planning and such.)

11. In a previous story, I raised some of the questions and answers of WHY. Such as: the Elder Bush and his secret business partnership with Iraqi strongman Saddam Hussein. Such as: Richard Cheney, a major stockholder of oil patch machinery supplier Halliburton, and recent CEO of the firm, secretly is supplying, through Halliburton foreign units, oil machinery and other items, in violation of national security and violation of the embargo. Such as: White House occupant and "resident" George W. Bush covering up the Oklahoma bombings to protect his father. Such as: Bush family crony, Clinton, having perpetuated the cover-up for various reasons.

So, some in key places somehow thought a lot of the above was hush-hush and not known to more independent sorts. Now they know better. More coming. Stay tuned.

The Chandra Levy Affair

Some stories remain incomplete. Sometimes for months. Sometimes for years. In the beginning, they may sound like notes of a conspiracy theory.

BUT, notice, our principal activity for more than four decades, as a research and investigation group devoted to the public interest, has been fingering corrupt judges and probing political murders. We are NOT conspiracy theorists. A crooked judge does not get sent to jail, as we have caused again and again, by pie-in-the-sky mere philosophy.

Pursuing matters accomplishes much.

Otherwise reliable sources (known to us for decades but never identified to preserve their position and safety) have urged us to pursue the following details. The story is obviously incomplete. To get the public to think differently than the oil-soaked, spy-riddled monopoly press, we offer the following notes.

YOU be the judge for this moment.

1. Some background: We were the first and probably among the very few to point out that Monica Lewinsky was reportedly positioned from an early age to be a "Mata Hari" type, to use sex to infiltrate the Clinton White House. From all the known facts, we were convinced and remain convinced, she was reportedly a creature of renegade units of Israeli intelligence, the Mossad. Apparently the acting deputy chief for North America for the Mossad was Rahm Emanuel, on and off for some six years Clinton White House Senior Advisor.

If you understand “spook” work, black bag operatives, and such, you can comprehend our assertion that Rahm was both a Clinton loyalist and a contributor to his scandals by way of manipulating him, all at the same time.

2. Monica’s father was originally from Central America. He was ostensibly a “sleeper agent” for the Mossad. That is, an intelligence asset pressed into service when and as needed. (Monica’s father, like Chandra Levy’s father, is an oncologist, tumor, and cancer specialist.)

3. Many have forgotten that Monica was later sent by Clinton to hold a key position in the Pentagon, as assistant to the Press Chief. She traveled on occasion with one or more of the top Pentagon officials. She admits one such official got her pregnant and she required an abortion.

Her purpose, as we understood it, was to infiltrate close to the top U.S. military, including the Chiefs of Staff. Her task? To try to sniff out reportedly the names and details of the small circle of flag officers, Admirals and Generals, plotting, as authorized by the Military Code, to arrest their Commander-in-Chief Clinton for treason.

If Clinton were to have them arrested for mutiny—if they survived and were not assassinated—they intended to defend themselves with documented charges, for example, of Clinton’s treason with the head of the Red Chinese Secret Police. (Visit our extensive website series on “The Red Chinese Secret Police IN THE UNITED STATES”).

As we have incorporated details in past exclusive stories, there have been some 24 of these flag officers. Ten have been assassinated, including Admiral Jeremy Boorda, Chief of Naval Operations, and General David McCloud, head of the Alaska Military District. Of those who survived, they took up residence, out-of-uniform, in a Paris suburb, protected by the French CIA. So far as we can determine, we are the only ones, through our exclusive stories, to write about this subject of these very brave top military officers. Some three times during the Clinton White House they quietly returned to the U.S. Someday, no doubt a book will come out about this chapter in American history. Assisting these flag officers was former Director of Central Intelligence, William Colby, himself assassinated in 1996 while made falsely to seem to be a boat accident.

4. After leaving the Clinton White House, Rahm Emanuel became a managing director of an alleged “investment banker”, Wasserstein Perella. Their reputed specialty? Apparently laundering funds of the Red Chinese Secret Police through the Chicago markets. (Details in various of our website stories.)

Are the following apparent events a mere coincidence, a similarity, or what?

5. Chandra Ann Levy, as she became active, was about the same age as Monica Lewinsky. And some surmise that Levy was reportedly a creation of renegade units of the Mossad, but not authorized as such by the State of Israel government.

6. Like Monica, the reputed purpose of Chandra was to infiltrate. To use her womanly wiles to find out things. She reportedly had a boyfriend in the FBI. She became an intern in THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF PRISONS, the winter and spring leading up to the date set originally, May 16, 2001, for the execution of Timothy McVeigh, described by the pressfakers as “the lone bomber”. Cynics called him “Lee Harvey McVeigh”, drawing an example of the alleged “lone assassin” of President John F. Kennedy.

7. Ms. Levy became friendly with Gary Condit, Democratic Congressman from her home district in California. He is from California’s 18th Congressional District.

Plainly, Condit was reportedly in a position to know highly classified data about McVeigh and the intelligence agencies. With topmost security clearance, Congressman Condit is a member of the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence.

This is the type of data Denver trial judge Richard Matsch refused to require the U.S. Government to turn over to McVeigh’s chief defense counsel, Stephen Jones. For McVeigh, prior to the 1997 murder trial, Jones filed an extraordinary Petition in the next higher tribunal, U.S. Court of Appeals, 10th Circuit, Denver, McVeigh versus judge Matsch, to try to compel judge Matsch to require the data to be turned over to Jones. The federal appeals judges likewise refused. Judge Matsch and the higher court judges could easily be intimidated by the American CIA, reminding the judges about how, several years prior, judge Matsch’s daughter, Elizabeth, was apparently murdered.

Judge Matsch was the one who covered up the billions of dollars of purported embezzlement done by Neil Bush, son of the Elder Bush. The rip-off was done of and through a Denver savings and loan, Silverado. (Visit our website series “Greenspan Aids And Bribes Bush” with documents attached of secret Federal Reserve wire transfers authorized by Greenspan for laundering billions of dollars, such as for Neil Bush and others of the Bush Family.)

Judge Matsch saved Neil Bush from prison. The Judge’s daughter was apparently murdered in 1992, before the Elder Bush left the White House.

8. Some contend that Chandra Levy was also friendly with key Republicans. Including reportedly a circle of White House types that include White House RESIDENT and OCCUPANT George W. Bush’s strategy chief, officially listed as White House Senior Advisor, Karl Rove. Just as some began pursuing details reportedly of this circle, others started an apparent diversion of Karl Rove on a stock situation involving a conflict of interest.

9. Notice the time-line.

“Ms. Levy, a graduate student at the University of Southern California, spent the winter and early spring here AS AN INTERN WITH THE FEDERAL BUREAU OF PRISONS. DURING THAT TIME, a friend introduced her to Mr. Condit, who represents Modesto, Ms. Levy’s home town.

“Her WASHINGTON INTERNSHIP ended on April 23. ON THE EVENING OF APRIL 30, she turned in her membership at a local health club, and the authorities say THAT WAS THE LAST TIME SHE WAS SEEN IN PUBLIC. ON MAY 6, her frantic parents, unable to reach her, REPORTED HER MISSING.” (New York Times for June 22, 2001; emphasis added.)

May 6, 2001, was ten days prior to the original date set for McVeigh’s execution. From their unit Los Angeles Times, the Chicago Tribune ran the following story, Thursday, May 10, 2001: “Washington—Federal law enforcement officials revealed Thursday that they had found some 3,000 pages of FBI materials that had been mislaid in the Oklahoma City bombing case, and defense attorneys for Timothy J. McVeigh immediately said they hope to win a stay of his execution scheduled in just five days.”

As the New York Times stated in referring to Ms. Levy’s parents meeting with the District of Columbia’s police chief: “The Levys, wearing yellow ribbons, looked dazed and tired as they met with reporters in the sweltering summer sun, both before and after their session with the chief. They said little, leaving most of the talking to THEIR LAWYER, BILLY MARTIN, former federal prosecutor WHO REPRESENTED MARCIA LEWIS, MOTHER OF MONICA S. LEWINSKY, during the inquiry into Ms. Lewinsky’s relationship with President Bill Clinton.” (New York Times, 6/22/01; emphasis added.)

Some find it helpful, if not convenient, though not necessarily crucial, that Condit is originally from Tulsa, Oklahoma.

So, did Chandra Ann Levy know too much about the real background of the Timothy McVeigh matter? Through her FBI boyfriend, through her internship with the Federal Bureau of Prisons, and through her friendship with a Congressman, a member of the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, and having topmost security clearance? Did she run for her life? Was she caused to “disappear”? Persuaded to leave the U.S.? Or just snuffed-out?

Former intelligence operatives contend all this is important and urge further investigation. Are they right? The story is obviously incomplete, but we believe it is an important start. (Visit our prior website stories to understand the motives of Clinton/Bush family to cover-up anything linked to the Oklahoma City bombings.) More coming. Stay tuned.

Always do right; this will gratify some people and astonish the rest.

INTELLIGENCE AGENT'S SHOCKING REPORT FLYING SAUCERS COME FROM INSIDE EARTH!

- Aliens have established underground bases around the planet.
- Ancient tunnel system has existed on Earth since time of Atlantis.
- Entrance ways can be found in many major cities.
- Some government & military officials have taken the side of aliens.

The UFO enigma is more complex than generally believed. Though it is commonly thought that space ships are arriving here from other solar systems, there is now evidence that several groups of ETs have established bases beneath our very feet.

Here are bizarre stories about underground bases at Mt. Shasta, California; Brown Mountain, North Carolina; Dulce, New Mexico; Groom Lake, Nevada; Superstition Mountain Range, Arizona; South and North Poles; as well as in the mountains of the Andes, and the jungles of Brazil.

Here also are the first-hand reports of those individuals who have been abducted by aliens, and who have survived genetic experiments at some locations. These are the facts that everyone should be informed of—regardless of how disturbing the truth may turn out to be!

SUBTERRANEAN WORLDS INSIDE EARTH

Is the Earth hollow? Is our planet honeycombed with caverns inhabited by a mysterious race? Are there civilizations of super beings living beneath the surface of the Earth? Are the residents of this subsurface world friendly, or do they have our domination in mind? Here are strange and unexplainable legions of the "Wee People" the Dero, and long-haired Atlantean giants as encountered by cave explorers and miners trapped far beneath the Earth.

$12.50(+S/H)

See next-to-last page for ordering or call toll-free: 1-877-280-2866.

The Smokey God And Other Inner Earth Mysteries

Half of the book consists of a reprint of the classic SMOKY GODS written by a Swedish fisherman who claims he found his way inside the Earth and had an amazing encounter with a race of super-wise giants who have lived inside the Earth since ancient times. Book also contains evidence that at least some UFOs may come from inside planet and are piloted by a race of super-beings who have survived, unknown to the surface world. Includes interview with an inner Earth inhabitant from a city beneath Mt Shasta.

The Missing Diary Of Admiral Richard E. Byrd

$12.50 (+S/H)

"I must write this diary in secrecy and obscurity. It concerns my arctic flight of the Nineteenth day of February in the year of nineteen hundred and forty-seven.

"There comes a time when the rationality of men must fade into insignificance, and one must accept the inevitability of the Truth! I am not at liberty to disclose the following documentation at this writing, perhaps it shall never see the light of public scrutiny, but I must do my Duty and record here for all to read one day in a world which hopefully the greed and exploitation of certain of mankind can no longer suppress that which is Truth."

—Admiral Richard E. Byrd (from the introduction)

THE DULCE WARS: Underground Alien Bases & The Battle For Planet Earth

Is an alien "Fifth Column" already active on Earth preparing total conquest via implantations and mind control? In the corner of a small town in America's Southwest something very strange is going on! Did U.S. military forces perish recently in hand-to-hand combat with a group of hostile greys who subsequently seized control of one of our top-secret underground bases? Includes latest on animal mutilations, energy grids, secret societies, lost civilizations, abductions, and missing time.
